DECEMBER 11-16, 1967
Dear Students and Alumni,

On behalf of the entire Homecoming Committee for 1967, it is my pleasure, as the chairman of this event to welcome each of you back to Nevada Southern University. This occasion, however, is more than just the third Homecoming of this institution, but is also the Tenth Anniversary and clearly marks "a Decade of Progress" which is the theme. Enjoy yourselves during the activities, and, when you get a chance, stop to note the outstanding changes which have taken place on the campus.

If there is any way in which I can assist you, please do not hesitate to ask.

Sincerely,
NEW YORK

THIRD ANNUAL HOMECOMING

From Our Chancellor

Dear Alumni,

I am pleased to welcome you back to Nevada Southern University for Homecoming 1967. This promises to be an exciting period in the development of NSU, and it is good to have you continue to be a part of it.

Your University is a dynamic, rapidly developing institution of higher education. It is a school young in age and young in spirit, but with your help its traditions are growing, and its unique strengths are in the making.

As the University's earliest graduates, you enjoyed an academic climate of young faculty committed to excellence in teaching and research. That tradition continues today, with every student at NSU offered the opportunity to enrich his educational growth in this stimulating environment.

As you look about you on campus, you will note many changes in the short time since you became an alumnus. Among NSU's expanding facilities is a burgeoning library which is adding material and new learning services at a very rapid rate as well as the addition of two new floors of space. Also, you perhaps are seeing for the first time NSU's first dormitory and the first resident alumnus. Among NSU's expanding facilities is a bur-

The many Homecoming activities are especially designed to re-acquaint graduates with their rapidly changing alma mater. I encourage your participation in these events.

This year's theme—"A Decade of Progress"—commemorates our tenth year on the present grounds and our tenth basketball season. We are also planning our tenth building—a Fine Arts Complex—and the Rebels are nationally rated in the top ten.

The theme and what it represents is a fine tribute to the generous support of students, alumni, and community. Future development is, to be sure, dependent on the continued backing of us all.

Your association with NSU is important to us. I hope the spirit of Homecoming will strengthen your bonds with Nevada Southern and allow us to thank you for your promotion of Nevada's fastest growing University.

Sincerely,

Mike A. Clark
CSNS President

Dear Alumni and Fellow Students:
