There is not a stronger, nor more influential group supporting a college athletic program that UNLV's own University Rebels Athletic Boosters. Growing right along with the program over the past 25 years, the club fulfills its primary purpose of giving the Rebels the White House for the season, in the form of Booster Activities for UNLV and the executive director of the club. The club is the second largest athletic booster group in the nation. The officers of the organization are Edie Graham, President; Dick Roeb, Vice President; Susan Molasky, Vice President; Bill Morris, Secretary; and George Fox, Treasurer. The board of Trustees meets on a monthly basis. In addition to the officers, current members of the Board of Trustees for the club are: Al Gascho, Ken Gregson, Dr. James Jones, Michael Mack, John Perkins, Jack Powitz, and Curtin Watson.

Jerry Tarkanian, the coach of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) basketball team, is renowned for his successful coaching career. Under his leadership, UNLV has achieved numerous milestones, including NCAA championships and top rankings. Tarkanian's approach to coaching is characterized by his emphasis on hard work, discipline, and a strong work ethic. His team's performance is a testament to his coaching philosophy, which values determination and resilience.

In the 1979-80 season, UNLV won its first 23 games, setting an NCAA record for the longest winning streak at 72 games. The team's success is attributed to Tarkanian's strategic planning and his ability to recruit talented players. UNLV's 1976-77 season, which included a 21-8 record, was also marked by significant achievements. The team's performances and Tarkanian's coaching skills were widely recognized, with the coach receiving numerous accolades and awards.

Tarkanian's coaching philosophy is deeply rooted in his Los Angeles roots, where he grew up and played basketball. His success in the NCAA and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas is a story of hard work, dedication, and a commitment to excellence. As a testament to his impact on the sport and the community, Tarkanian's achievements and contributions continue to inspire aspiring coaches and players alike.

People just like you. Wanting to stay in shape the fun way ... by taking a piece of the action.

We'll give you a piece of the action

JERRY TARKANIAN

We refer you to Page 6 for his basketball record of six following the 1976-77 season.

An intense individual, Tark has coached in Ecuador for the People-to-People Sports Committee and in April and May of 1966, he coached the Junior College Olympic Team in the Olympics Trials.

The 49-year old coach easily won the hearts of Las Vegas fans and the Los Angeles Times called him an "Instant Las Vegas celebrity."

A native of Euclid, Ohio, Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State in 1955. He received his Master's degree from Redlands University in 1960.

Tarkanian and his ever-active, and totally-involved wife, Lola, reside with their four children - Pamela, Jodie, Danny and George - in their sparkling Las Vegas home in the Charleston Heights area of town.

Following the 1976-77 season, Tarkanian was selected by the Medalist Industry as the "College Coach of the Year."

His first attempt at the movies has now been released and it is entitled, "The Fish that Saved Pittsburgh." and stars Dr. "J" Julius Irving and Tarkanian has a small part on film as well as having had a big part as a technical director behind the Lori-Mar production.

In six years as the UNLV head coach, 16 players have been drafted by the NBA, including at least one each year and a NCAA and pro-basketball record of six following the 1976-77 season.

TWO WAYS TO GO TO COURT.

In the last 20 years a lot of things have changed about basketball.
Including shoes.
You don’t have to settle for those old black and white canvas hi-tops any more.
Today more and more players are going to court wearing Nikes. Just look at the playgrounds, colleges and the NBA.
Take the Nike Franchise up there in the picture. Uppers of fine grain leather. Soles with a specially designed pattern for quick stops and sharp cuts. Light. Comfortable. And built to give extra support where you need it most.
Try the Franchise. Or take your pick of our Blazer and Bruin models.

24-Hour Banking

It's the easiest, most convenient way to bank. As a Nevada National Bank customer, you can use your Nevada National Visa Card (BankAmericard), Courtesy Check Cashing Card or Wonder Card to complete as many as ten of the more popular banking transactions. And you can do it at your convenience, anytime of the day or night, seven days a week.

Here's all there is to it: Insert your card, key in your personal identification number for your card and follow the simple instructions which will appear on the television screen.

If you bank with Nevada National and haven't used 24-hour banking, ask for a demonstration where you bank. If you do not presently bank with Nevada National, 24-hour banking could be a reason why you should.

24-hour banking is available at all Nevada National offices in Reno, Sparks, Carson City and Las Vegas.

Dr. Al Negratti has been named the director of athletics at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. He will begin his assignment here on Jan. 1, succeeding Bill Ireland, who announced his retirement from administration in June after serving in the top athletic post since 1978.

For the past six years, Negratti has been athletic director at the University of California, Santa Barbara. He has also served as basketball coach and later as athletic director at the University of Portland.

"He is well known nationally and is particularly knowledgeable about intercollegiate athletics in the west," said UNLV President Leonard Goodall, who recommended his appointment to university regents Friday. "He is especially strong in internal management and budget administration, and is well regarded for his ability to work with alumni, boosters and other community groups."

Goodall also cited Negratti's wide acquaintances in the west which should enhance the university's scheduling activities as well as its relationships with the Western Athletic Conference.

Negratti has served at the national level on NCAA committees, Goodall added, and said his contacts should be helpful in national promotional activities.

"He understands the need for balance between academics and athletics," Goodall said. "I have talked to many people about him, and without exception, his absolute integrity and his commitment to hard work are mentioned as outstanding characteristics."

Negratti will be paid $87,000 per year, placing him in a range consistent with other athletic directors at WAC schools, Goodall said.

After serving 10 years at Portland, Negratti became athletic director at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, NY before moving on to a similar post at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

His application for the position was accompanied by several letters of tribute from his colleagues through the years.

Richard Perry, director of athletics at the University of Southern California, wrote: "I have known him as a coach, teacher, administrator and personal friend" and that his performance in each of these areas is viewed with great respect "by our many colleagues throughout the nation in as much as Al has always maintained high visibility within the profession."

Another letter from Henry Raymonds, director of athletics at Marquette University, said: "Dr. Al has a great deal of integrity, is firm but fair, has a thorough knowledge of NCAA rules, and is highly qualified in Title IX requirements."

Dr. Vernon Cheadle, the former chancellor of the University of California, Santa Barbara, said the program there under Negratti is "organized and run smartly and economically. He has done an excellent job. He is capable of handling any combination of such activities with tact, firmness and fairness."

Negratti and his wife, Alice, have six children, four daughters and two sons.

Western Athletic Conference

UNLV is scheduled to become an active member of the Western Athletic Conference in July of 1980, pending final vote of the President's Council. During the 1979-80 academic and athletic year, the Rebels will continue to add more and more WAC opponents to its schedule.

Currently in the WAC are Brigham Young University, Colorado State University, the University of Hawaii, the University of New Mexico, San Diego State University, the University of Texas-El Paso, the University of Utah, and the University of Wyoming. UNLV's addition to the league would bring the total number of schools to nine.

During this year, the Rebel football team will play six of the current members, all but San Diego State and Brigham Young University. In basketball, the Runnin' Rebels are scheduled to play home-and-home against all of the WAC members except BYU.

The WAC is relatively young as intercollegiate leagues go, but the 15-year-old association has enjoyed solid success at every turn since its beginning in 1962.

Any history of the WAC must start back in 1960 at the NCAA convention in New York City where a group of athletic directors first met. Next came a session in Portland, Oregon, which included the faculty representatives and shortly afterwards, a six team league was born. The Western Athletic Conference was formed. During this year, the Rebel football team will play six of the current members, all but San Diego State and Brigham Young University. In basketball, the Runnin' Rebels are scheduled to play home-and-home against all of the WAC members except BYU.

The Las Vegas Convention Center —
Home of the Runnin’ Rebels

The Las Vegas Convention Center — Home of UNLV Basketball

UNLV plays all of its home games on one of the finest hardwood court arenas in the country — the 6,380 seat Las Vegas Convention Center rotunda. Capacity crowds cheer the Rebels in comfort in theater-type cushioned seats. ample parking is available at the conveniently located facility, one mile east of the fabled Las Vegas "Strip." Rather homey with its limited seating capacity, UNLV enjoys playing in its home facility and established an all-time record by winning 72 straight games before being defeated by the University of New Mexico on Jan. 7, 1978 by a 102-98 score. Under head coach Jerry Tarkanian, the Runnin’ Rebels have raced up and down the court for an impressive 98-7 record in the Convention Center the past six seasons against regular NCAA competition. This year, UNLV will play 17 games in the boisterous facility.

The sign hanging ominously over the rotunda floor reads, "Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank." It would more appropriately read, "Enter at your own risk." After the swirling of the multi-colored spotlights in the darkened arena to herald the introduction of the local favorites, the fireworks really begin. It is the Convention Center were the Runnin’ Rebels earned their expanded nickname. During the 1974-75, 1975-76, and 1976-77 seasons, the Runnin’ Rebels, Gunnin’ Rebels did not lose a home game. In 1976-77, UNLV played 19 home games, scoring 2,109 points for an average of 111.0 per game. The fast-moving fleet-footed eagles of the hardwood soared to 100 or more points in 16 of those 19 games and in a pre-season exhibition game against the National Team of the Republic of China, UNLV actually pumped in 174 points in a 40-minute game.

Like its’ renowned counterparts on the "Strip", the Convention Center “Showroom” has been virtually SOLD OUT for the past five years, with only very limited seating available for but a few games. Producing the elaborate light shows during pre-game ceremonies again this season is long-time Rebel supporter, Art Rader.

Some visiting coaches have vowed to never again return to the site of their most humiliating defeat. Seven opponents have actually left Las Vegas winners over the past six years. All visitors have left “Tark’s Shark Tank” knowing they have just experienced something that will remain with them the rest of their lives.

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas is a campus on the move. In fact, during the past decade it has been one of the fastest-growing institutions of higher learning in the country.

In less than 10 years, UNLV has tripled its campus in size, allowing room for the university's 65 different degree programs available to students, including almost two dozen at the master's and doctoral levels.

Founded in 1957, UNLV has grown from a single one-story building in the desert to a green 350-acre campus boasting more than $25 million worth of new buildings that have gone up in just the past seven years. These new structures include one of the most modern teacher education facilities in the country, a major classroom and office building, a 500-seat drama theater, a physical education center complete with a 50-meter indoor swimming pool, new laboratories and classrooms in the life sciences, and a spacious 2,000-seat concert hall which serves as a cultural home for the entire community.

The next major project is a $7 million addition to the James Dickinson Library, with completion expected in mid-1981. Also approved by the last state legislature are a new business and hotel administration building, a facility for the teaching of the performing arts and the 18,000-seat continuing education and activities center that will serve as the new home for Runnin' Rebel basketball starting in 1981.

The university is striving for excellence in a diversity of graduate and undergraduate programs. The College of Hotel Administration, for example, ranks among the finest programs of its type in the U.S., and its graduates hold top management positions in hotels, restaurants and hospitals the world over.

Science students and faculty conduct research projects in desert ecology, environmental biology and geology, taking full advantage of their unique southwestern desert setting.

The critics have praised UNLV's award-winning theatre department. And where else could music students earn credits playing behind the super-stars of show business on the Las Vegas Strip? Recently, UNLV's student jazz ensemble was named the second best college jazz group in the world.

The university has a progressive teacher education program, a growing nursing department and solid preparation in the social sciences, humanities, business and economics.

UNLV also reaches out into the community through its aggressive continuing education division that last year enrolled 15,000 residents—from housewives to business owners, grandparents and youngsters.
