The University Rebels Club

There is not a stronger, nor more influencing group supporting a college athletic program than UNLV's own University Rebels Club. Growing right along with the program over the past 35 years, the URC continues to be the driving force behind the program. The 23-sport UNLV intercollegiate athletic program. The membership role continues to grow daily as the group becomes one of the most prominent in the entire intercollegiate athletic world in the United States. This past spring, the URC culminated its largest fundraising drive ever, bringing in over $1 million for the third straight year to support the grant-in-aid program for the Rebels.

The officers of the organization are Edie Frey, President; Dick Roed, Vice President; Wayne & Ann Anderson; Paul & Amy Anderman; and Dr. Sidney Boyers; Charles R. Bell, Jr.; Anthony Boulware; John Bowers; and Dr. Wayne Boller. The honorary list of UNLV alumni is one of the largest as the record drive indicates all support the grant-in-aid program for the Rebels.

All of these events have sold out the 7,500-seat Aladdin Hotel's Theatre for the Performing Arts.

Jerry Tarkanian is, after all, the winningest college basketball coach in the United States. In 21 years of coaching, Tarkanian has raised the Runnin' Rebels of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, to a mass of theatrical light explosions which has never been seen before.

In the fall of 1989, Tarkanian's team won a regular season game played on the campus of the University of Montana and defeated the Montana State team, 75-67, following the 1975-76 regular season campaign, the Runnin' Rebels emerged and defeated Boise State, 103-78, in a sub-regional game played on the campus of the University of Oregon in Eugene. Then the Runnin' Rebels knocked out of the race for the national championship, losing to the University of Arizona, 114-109, in overtime, at failed Pauley Pavilion on the UCLA campus.

Before Long Beach State, Tarkanian's coaching reputation first drew national acclaim, he spent seven seasons in the junior college ranks at Riverside and Pasadena Colleges. At Riverside (1962-68), he had a 103-10 overall record, which included three consecutive state championships and four league titles in five years. No other junior college coach in the history of California basketball has achieved those heights. At Pasadena (1966-68), Tarkanian was 67-4 and logged a fourth state title while finishing in the runner-up spot his other year.

An astonishing feature of his wins is that they have been accomplished at schools which had never previously won a basketball championship. Riverside was last in the conference the previous year; Long Beach State had never won a championship and UNLV had never finished higher than fourth in the WCAC.

The outstanding coach started his coaching career with five years in California high schools, San Joaquin Memorial, Antelope Valley and Redlands.

Regarded as one of the great recruiters in the nation, "The Pied Piper of College Basketball" landed for Long Beach State many nationally recognized superstars as Sam Robinson, George Troops, Chick Barry, Earl Ratliff, Leonard Gray and Rose Fonderzter. In his first year at UNLV, Tarkanian has recruited as well as he did during his entire tenure at Long Beach State.

As his winning tradition continues to grow, so does his reputation. Six years ago, Tarkanian brought three high school All-American performers with him. They are Eddie Owens (Houston, Texas, Lewis and Riverside High School), and Jackie Robinson (Los Angeles). Five years ago, he recruited Robert James (San Diego, La Jolla), Sam Robinson (Houston, Texas, Lewis and Riverside High School), and Michael Burns (Las Vegas). The Runnin' Rebels avenged the Houston loss in 1976, beating the Cougars in the opening round of the Holiday Classic, 116-91. In 1977-78, the University of New Mexico snapped UNLV's 72-game win streak on Jan. 13, 1978, with a 102-98 win and Portland State also trimmed the Runnin' Rebels by a 88-84 score.

Last season, three teams got out of Las Vegas, as winners, Tougou University, 89-79, San Diego State, 102-99, and San Diego State, 94-91.

Sold-out crowds have been traditional at UNLV in the Tarkanian era. In the Rebels' two seasons in the West Coast Athletic Conference, Tarkanian, UNLV did not lose a home game in 14 nights. UNLV has now withdrawn from the WCAC and has membership pending final vote of the presidential council to join the Western Athletic Conference. In six seasons under Tarkanian, UNLV has compiled a road record of 29-23.

In NCAA playoff action after the 1974-75 regular season, the Rebels played a sub-regional game on the campus of Arizona State and defeated San Diego State, 90-80. In the NCAA Regional tournament in Portland, Oregon, the Rebels were narrowly defeated by Arizona State, 84-81, but bounced back to capture the consolation title by defeating a favored University of Montana team, 76-77. Following the 1975-76 regular season campaign, the Runnin' Rebels emerged and defeated Boise State, 103-78, in a sub-regional game played on the campus of the University of Oregon in Eugene. People just like you.

Give the fun way ... by taking a piece of the action.

UnLV attempts to emphasize equally the importance of academics and basketball to all student-athletes. Evidence of his strong belief in academics was his selection as "Professor of the Year" in 1966 by Riverside County for his guidance and care on and off the court of all the young men under his tutelage, as well as all his family of four.

Tarkanian's players have gone on to play in professional basketball. They include Chuck Terry (Houston Rockets), Eric McWilliams (Houston Rockets), George Trapp (Detroit Pistons), Bob Rohr (Cleveland Cavaliers), Ed Ratliff (Houston Rockets), John Q. Trapp (Los Angeles Lakers), Glenn McDonald (Boston Celtics) and Leonard Levy (Seattle SuperSonics). At UNLV, Ricky Sobers (Chicago Bulls), Glen Goodrudeck (New York Knicks), Robert Smith (New Jersey Nets), Roger Tous (Chicago Bulls), Larry Moffett (Houston Rockets), Eddie Owens (Buffalo Braves), Jackie Robinson (Seattle SuperSonics), Sam Smith (Chicago Bulls), and Earl Evans (Detroit Pistons) have all played in the NBA, Sobers, Robert and Earl Smith, Tous, and Evans are still on active status.

In six years as the UNLV head coach, 16 players have been drafted by the NBA, including at least one each year and a NCAA and pro-basketball record of six following the 1976-77 season. An intense individual, Tark has coached in Ecuador for the People-to-People Sports Committee and in April and May of 1969, he coached the Junior College Olympic Team in the Olympics Trials. The 49-year old coach easily won the hearts of Las Vegas fans and the Los Angeles Times called him an "instant Las Vegas celebrity."

A native of Euclid, Ohio, Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State in 1965. He received his Master's degree from Rodlands University in 1969.

Tarkanian and his ever-active, and totally-involved wife, Lola, reside with their four children - Pamela, Jodie, Danny and George - in their sparkling Las Vegas home in the Charleston Heights area of town.

With Tarkanian's tradition and colorful image, invitations for him to speak at clinics and banquets arrive almost daily. He will average nearly one per week during the off season, sending him virtually all over the country.

Following the 1976-77 season, Tarkanian was selected by the Medalist Industry as the "College Coach of the Year."

His first attempt at the movies has now been released and it is entitled, "The Fish that Saved Pittsburgh," and stars Dr. "J" Julius Irving and Tarkanian. It has a small part on film as well as having had a big part as a technical director behind the Lori-Mar production.

He is featured speaker for another season at the weekly meeting of the Rebel Quarterback Club and he again has his Sunday evening television show which airs on KSHO TV, Channel 13.

Las Vegas is one of the most unique cities in the world, one which sees losers every day. May-be that's why they appreciate a man like Jerry Tarkanian even more. He's a winner.

TWO WAYS TO GO TO COURT.

In the last 20 years a lot of things have changed about basketball. Including shoes. You don't have to settle for those old black and white canvas hi-tops any more. Today more and more players are going to court wearing Nikes. Just look at the playgrounds, colleges and the NBA.

Take the Nike Franchise up there in the picture. Uppers of fine grain leather. Soles with a specially designed pattern for quick stops and sharp cuts. Light. Comfortable. And built to give extra support where you need it most.

Try the Franchise.
Or take your pick of our Blazer and Bruin models.
Nike basketball shoes. They're made to beat the competition.

24 Hour Banking

It's the easiest, most convenient way to bank. As a Nevada National Bank customer, you can use your Nevada National Visa Card (BankAmericard), Courtesy Check Cashing Card or Wonder Card to complete as many as ten of the more popular banking transactions. And you can do it at your convenience, anytime of the day or night, seven days a week.

Here's all there is to it: Insert your card, key in your personal identification number for your card and follow the simple instructions which will appear on the television screen.

If you bank with Nevada National and haven't used 24-hour banking, ask for a demonstration where you bank. If you do not presently bank with Nevada National, 24-hour banking could be a reason why you should.

24-hour banking is available at all Nevada National offices in Reno, Sparks, Carson City and Las Vegas.

"Growing Larger by Serving Better"

2121 INDUSTRIAL RD.
PHONE: (702) 384-2425
Dr. Al Negratti has been named the director of athletics at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

He will begin his assignment here on Jan. 1, succeeding Bill Ireland, who announced his retirement from administration in June after serving in the top athletic post since 1978.

For the past six years, Negratti has been athletic director at the University of California, Santa Barbara. He has also served as basketball coach and later as athletic director at the University of Portland.

"He is well known nationally and is particularly knowledgeable about intercollegiate athletics in the west," said UNLV President Leonard Goodall, who recommended his appointment to university regents Friday. "He is especially strong in internal management and budget administration, and is well regarded for his ability to work with alumni, boosters and other community groups."

Goodall also cited Negratti's wide acquaintances in the west which should enhance the university's scheduling activities as well as its relationships with the Western Athletic Conference.

Negratti has served at the national level on NCAA committees, Goodall added, and said his contacts should be helpful in national promotional activities.

"He understands the need for balance between academics and athletics," Goodall said. "I have talked to many people about him, and without exception, his absolute integrity and his commitment to hard work are mentioned as outstanding characteristics."

Negratti will be paid $87,000 per year, placing him in a range consistent with other athletic directors at WAC schools, Goodall said.

After serving 10 years at Portland, Negratti became athletic director at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, NY before moving on to a similar post at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

His application for the position was accompanied by several letters of tribute from his colleagues through the years.

Richard Perry, director of athletics at the University of Southern California, wrote: "I have known him as a coach, teacher, administrator and personal friend" and that his performance in each of these areas is viewed with great respect "by our many colleagues throughout the nation in as much as Al has always maintained high visibility within the profession."

Another letter from Henry Raymonds, director of athletics at Marquette University, said: "Dr. Al has a great deal of integrity, is firm but fair, has a thorough knowledge of NCAA rules, and is highly qualified in Title IX requirements."

Dr. Vernon Cheadle, the former chancellor of the University of California, Santa Barbara, said the program there under Negratti is "organized and run smartly and economically. He has done an excellent job. He is capable of handling any combination of such activities with tact, firmness and fairness."

Negratti and his wife, Alice, have six children, four daughters and two sons.

Western Athletic Conference

UNLV is scheduled to become an active member of the Western Athletic Conference in July of 1980, pending final vote of the President's Council. During the 1978-80 academic and athletic year, the Rebels will continue to add more and more WAC opponents to its schedule.

Currently in the WAC are Brigham Young University, Colorado State University, the University of Hawaii, the University of New Mexico, San Diego State University, the University of Texas-El Paso, the University of Utah, and the University of Wyoming. UNLV's addition to the league would bring the total number of schools to nine.

During this year, the Rebel football team will play six of the current members, all but San Diego State and Brigham Young University. In basketball, the Runnin' Rebels are scheduled to play home-and-home against all of the WAC members except BYU.

The WAC is relatively young as intercollegiate leagues go, but the 17-year old association has enjoyed solid success at every turn since its beginning in 1962.

Any history of the WAC must start back in 1960 at the NCAA convention in New York City where a group of athletic directors first met. Next came a session in Portland, Oregon, which included the faculty representatives and shortly afterwards, a six team league was born. The University of Arizona, Arizona State, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming on July 27, 1960.

The WAC rose from the ashes of the old Border and Skyline leagues. UA and ASU were active in the Border Conference, UNM left the Border and joined the Skyline where BYU, Utah, and Wyoming were holding forth.

But the initial meeting of the WAC also included three schools who were being temporarily ostracized by what became the Pac-8-Oregon, Oregon State and Washington State. By the time the Portland meeting rolled around, however, peace was being made on the West Coast and the WAC became strictly a Rocky Mountain alignment.

The first commissioner of the WAC had very few problems easing into the job. Paul Brechler had been commissioner of the Skyline Conference since 1960 and just changed the name of the league on the office door in Denver, which still is the location of the conference headquarters.

In 1966, Brechler led the WAC to become athletic director at California and was followed by Wiles Hallock, former public relations director of the NCAA. Hallock's reign as commissioner came at the same time the WAC expanded to an eight team league.

Colorado State and Texas-El Paso joined the ranks officially in 1967 but did not compete for WAC titles until the 1968-69 season, 1969-70 for basketball.

The next major change in the WAC occurred in 1971 when Stu Bates became the third commissioner of the league after a 17-year tenure as athletic director at Washington State University.

Bates still is on the scene and is guiding the WAC through another transition in its short history. In 1978, Arizona and Arizona State announced their intentions to join the Pacific-8, leaving the WAC with a major regrouping chore.

Shortly thereafter, the WAC Presidents' Council considered the applications of 10 universities and voted to adopt a three-pronged approach to conference expansion.

San Diego State was admitted to the WAC in April, 1977, for competition beginning with the 1978-79 academic year. Hawaii and UNLV were given criteria to meet with deadline dates.

Since last time, the WAC Presidents' Council voted in September, 1978, to admit the University of Hawaii beginning this past July 1, UNLV's conference application still is finding final action by the Presidents' Council, but the group initially gave us until July 1, 1980 to satisfy the criteria for admission.

The Presidents' Council can vote on UNLV's application any time after the school has met the criteria which included expansion of the football stadium, plans and action on a larger basketball facility, and proper standing with the NCAA.

The Las Vegas Silver Bowl has been expanded to 32,000 seats, the architecture are designing an 16,000-seat on-campus basketball arena, and we came off probation in August.

The school's new basketball arena would be named for William A. Widseth, who retired as athletics director this spring after 25 years. The facility will be completed in time for the WAC's first basketball tournament in March.

The Las Vegas Convention Center — Home of the Runnin’ Rebels

Las Vegas Convention Center . . . Home of UNLV Basketball

UNLV plays all of its home games on one of the finest hardwood court arenas in the country — the 6,380-seat Las Vegas Convention Center rotunda. Capacity crowds cheer the Rebels in comfort in theater-type cushioned seats. Adequate parking is available at the conveniently located facility, one mile east of the famed Las Vegas “Strip.”

Rather homey with its limited seating capacity, UNLV enjoys playing in its home facility and established an all-time record by winning 72 straight games before being defeated by the University of New Mexico on Jan. 7, 1978 by a 102-98 score. Under head coach Jerry Tarkanian, the Runnin’ Rebels have raced up and down the court for an impressive 99-7 record in the Convention Center the past 16 seasons against regular NCAA competition. This year, UNLV will play 17 games in the bosomly facility.

The sign hanging ominously over the rotunda floor reads, “Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank.” It would more appropriately read, “Enter at your own risk.” After the swirling of the multi-colored spotlights in the darkened arena to herald the introduction of the local favorites, the fireworks really begin. It is the Convention Center were the Runnin’ Rebels earned their expanded nickname. During the 1974-75, 1975-76, and 1976-77 seasons, the Runnin’ Rebels, Gunnin’ Rebels did not lose a home game. In 1976-77, UNLV played 19 home games, scoring 2,109 points for an average of 111.0 per game. The fast-moving fleet-footed eagles of the hardwood soared to 100 or more points in 16 of those 19 games and in a pre-season exhibition game against the National Team of the Republic of China, UNLV actually pumped in 174 points in a 40-minute game.

Like its renown counterpart on the “Strip,” the Convention Center “Showroom” has been virtually SOLD OUT for the past five years, with only very limited seating available for but a few games. Producing the elaborate light shows during pre-game ceremonies again this season is long-time Rebel supporter, Art Rader.

Some visiting coaches have vowed to never again return to the site of their most humiliating defeat. Seven opponents have actually left Las Vegas winners over the past six years. All visitors have left “Tark’s Shark Tank” knowing they have just experienced something that will remain with them the rest of their lives.
Good Luck to Rebels for a successful season!

HEAD COACH: Fred Dallimore
ASSISTANT COACHES: Jack Feyrer and Lonnie Keeter
This is UNLV

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas is a campus on the move. In fact, during the past decade it has been one of the fastest-growing institutions of higher learning in the country. In less than 10 years, UNLV has tripled its campus in size, allowing room for the university's 65 different degree programs available to students, including almost two dozen at the master's and doctoral levels.

Founded in 1957, UNLV has grown from a single one-story building in the desert to a green 350-acre campus boasting more than $25 million worth of new buildings that have gone up in just the past seven years. These new structures include one of the most modern teacher education facilities in the country, a major classroom and office building, a 560-seat drama theater, a physical education center complete with a 50-meter indoor swimming pool, new laboratories and classrooms in the life sciences, and a spacious 2,000-seat concert hall which serves as a cultural home for the entire community.

The next major project is a $7 million addition to the James Dickinson Library, with completion expected in mid-1981. Also approved by the last state legislature are a new business and hotel administration building, a facility for the teaching of the performing arts and the 18,000-seat continuing education and activities center that will serve as the new home for Runnin' Rebel basketball starting in 1981.

The university is serving for excellence in a diversity of graduate and undergraduate programs. The College of Hotel Administration, for example, ranks among the finest programs of its type in the U.S., and its graduates hold top management positions in hotels, restaurants and hospitals worldwide.

Science students and faculty conduct research projects in desert ecology, environmental biology and geology, taking full advantage of their unique southwestern desert setting.

The critics have praised UNLV's award-winning theater department. And where else could music students earn credits playing behind the super-stars of show business on the Las Vegas Strip? Recently, UNLV's student jazz ensemble was named the second best college jazz group in the world.

The university has a progressive teacher education program, a growing nursing department and solid preparation in the social sciences, the humanities, business and economics.

UNLV also reaches out into the community through its aggressive continuing education division that last year enrolled 15,000 residents--from housewives to business owners, grandparents and youngsters.
