UNLV alumni in the pros at one time or another include: Ricky Sobbers (Seattle Sonics), Larry Moffett (Houston Rockets), Eddie Owens (Buffalo Braves), Jackie Robinson (Seattle Supersonics), Sam Smith (Chicago Bulls), Glenn Goodwin (Denver Nuggets, New York Knicks), Sidney Green (Chicago Bulls) and Reggie Theus (Chicago Bulls, Kansas City Kings). In addition, four members of the 1983-84 Rebel team were selected in the recent college draft. They are Jeff Collins (Phoenix Suns, 4th round), Danny Tarkanian (San Antonio Spurs, 8th round), Eric Booker (Utah Jazz, 4th round) and Paul Kosovich (Golden State Warriors, 8th round).

In Tarkanian’s 11 years at UNLV total of 23 players have been drafted by the NBA. Six players along from the 1976-77 team were drafted in the NBA — an NCAA and UNLV record.

Jerry Tarkanian has been honored with other coaching titles throughout his stellar career. He coached in Equatorial for the People-to-People Sports Committee in April and May of 1969 and he also coached the Junior College Olympic Team that same year.

A native of Euclid, Ohio, Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State in 1955. He then went on to earn his Masters degree — with honors — in Educational Management from Redlands College.

Tarkanian and his wife Lois reside with their four children: Pam, Jodie, Danny and George in the Charleston Heights section of Las Vegas.

Tarkanian at UNLV: Jerry Tarkanian was hired as UNLV head basketball coach on March 23, 1973, replacing John Dyer. The 1984-85 season will be his 12th at UNLV.

Tarkanian is nearing a coaching milestone that few before him have attained when UNLV wins its seventh game of the 1984-85 season, that will mark Tarkanian’s 6000th career win as a collegiate coach. His overall record currently stands at 593-118 (.834).he regions of Las Vegas community and named him Assistant Athletic Director with designated duties at Director of Community Relations in 1982. While at UNLV, Tarkanian has molded the Rebels into a veritable basketball dynasty. In this 11 seasons, he has failed to win 20 games just once — in 1980-81 when his Rebels were 16-12. He has guided his teams to the NCAA Tournament five times and the NIT twice. In the 1976-77 season, UNLV placed third in the NCAA Tournament by beating North Carolina 106-94 in the Consolation Game. In the 1979-80 season, the Rebels finished fourth in the NIT, UNLV under Tarkanian currently has a 196 post-season record.

The 1983-84 campaign was another masterpiece for the Rebels. The team was 29-6 — the third time Tarkanian has won as many as 39 games at UNLV — and advanced in the Far West Regional Final of the Rebels before going to eventual National Champion Georgetown. UNLV was the first team in the nation to reach the 21-20-23-win plateau. The team captured its second consecutive NCAA regular season title with a

Dear Friends of UNLV:

I am happy to have this opportunity to express my greetings to you and to convey my best wishes to Coach Tarkanian and the Nevada Rebel basketball team for another successful basketball season. This University has built a national reputation for success. UNLV’s exceptional record of achievement has greatly advanced the visibility and stature of this institution and has instilled deep loyalty and pride in the hearts of many throughout the city and region.

We are also aware, however, that this excellent basketball program is a part of another success story, the remarkable growth and development within the past quarter century of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas as an important urban university. UNLV is of Nevada, Las Vegas as an important urban university. UNLV is fortunate to be a vital part of a wonderful cosmopolitan city which we in southern Nevada are proud to call our home. I have stated on many occasions that my administration is absolutely committed to see the further development of UNLV as a first-rate academic institution which will serve the residents of southern Nevada, our state and our nation as a center of excellence for teaching, learning, and research. The residents of this community who have supported this institution so generously over the years deserve nothing less.

This is truly one of the most exciting times in the history of our University. We are at a turning point from which we must push ahead toward greater excellence as an institution of higher education. I invite all of you to join us as we endeavor to build an ever stronger foundation of academic excellence for UNLV. I have no doubt that with all your support and the efforts of our fine faculty and staff, the University of Nevada, Las Vegas will become a University of the first class.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Maxson

For the 1983-84 academic year, the University of Nevada, Las Vegas has had each of its fourteen intercollegiate sports, with only two exceptions, represented in post-season, national competition. In addition, exactly half of those sports were ranked nationally in the top 20 at one time or another. Much of the credit for this outstanding intercollegiate record goes to UNLV's Director of Intercollegiate Athletics, Dr. Brad Rothermel.

Rothermel, now entering his fifth year as UNLV's Athletic Director, has built UNLV athletics to the point where the university is now very competitive at both the conference and national levels.

Rothermel's philosophy while at UNLV has been that the function of the intercollegiate athletic program is to provide for student-athletes an environment in which those student-athletes are able to pursue excellence in selected extracurricular educationally related athletic activities. Furthermore, his objective for the programs is to win within the structure of the rules and the budgetary framework provided. The achievement of this goal is demonstrated by successfully competing against national championship caliber competition in all activities sponsored by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Prior to his appointment at UNLV in 1981, he was Associate Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at West Virginia University. From 1974 to 1976 he was employed as Assistant Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at Kansas State University.

Rothermel supervised the intercollegiate athletic programs for men and women while serving as Director of the Division of Health and Physical Education at George Williams College in Downers Grove, Illinois, from 1971 to 1974.

From 1965 to 1967, he served as Supervisor of Counseling and Research Development while functioning in the capacity of Assistant Athletic Director of the University of Illinois Athletic Association. Prior to that position he was an administrative associate and coach for the Chicago National League Baseball Club, Inc. (Chicago Cubs).

In addition to his above mentioned athletic positions, Rothermel has served as an administrator in numerous educational, recreational, and financial environments. He also possesses coaching and experience as a competitor at all levels from elementary school through the professional ranks.

Rothermel received his Ph.D. in 1965 and a M.S. degree in 1961 from the College of Applied Human Life Sciences at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana. He received his B.S. from Northern Illinois University in 1960.

Rothermel and his wife, Suzanne, a kindergarten teacher in the Clark County District, have two daughters; Beth, 15, and Christine, 11.

For all of us here in Nevada, living the life we want often means something a little different. But it always means something special. Most of all, it means working together.

And no matter the life you choose to live, First Interstate Bank of Nevada is committed to helping you live it. Maybe it's making a move for the better with the help of a home improvement loan. Or planning for retirement with one of our IRAs. For some, it's a new car or recreational vehicle. Or a college education with a government-backed student loan offered only through First Interstate Bank of Nevada. Perhaps it's financial strength for that growing business. Or a consumer banking package that fits your individual needs.

First Interstate Bank of Nevada and you. Working together to help you live the life you want. Just as we've been doing for the past eighty-two years.
Automobile dealers in Las Vegas are contributing a large measure of help to the UNLV Athletic Program with membership in the UNLV C.A.R.S. (Courtesy Auto Resource System) Ltd. program — the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of Rebel booster activities, this project enables the UNLV Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers have earned a debt of gratitude from the Rebel Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "Team" that helps make UNLV athletics so successful.

When aquanauts probe dangerous depths, they know survival depends upon equipment. It must be tough, trusty, impregnable. Down there, timing is crucial. The PCAA, now entering its 16th year, is developing into one of the strongest Division I conferences in the nation.

Since 1978, the PCAA has grown from an all California League to a league that has members from four states in the western part of the nation. The leagues’ newest member, New Mexico State, will participate in conference football for the first time in the 1984 season.

In addition to New Mexico State, the other PCAA members are California State University, Fullerton; California State University, Long Beach; Fresno State University; San Jose State University; University of California, Irvine; University of California, Santa Barbara; University of Nevada, Las Vegas; University of the Pacific and Utah State University.

Lewis A. Cryer, who begins his seventh year as Commissioner of the PCAA, has overseen the conference’s phenomenal growth during his tenure. Under his guidance, the PCAA has grown in stature to rival some of the more established conferences in the nation. The PCAA has also recently added championships for women’s basketball, swimming and track and field and is currently working to expand the PCAA women’s league.

Working in the PCAA office with Cryer are: Assistant Commissioner Dennis Farrell; Supervisor of Football Officials Jack O’Cain; Supervisor of Basketball Officials John Dangleis; Assistant to the Commissioner Jody Harter; Administrative Assistant Dodie Hayes and Secretary Michele Schrimpf-Scott.

The conference office is located at 1700 East Dyer Road, Suite 140, Santa Ana, California and the phone number is (714) 261-2525.

Without certain traditions, a Runnin’ Rebel game just wouldn’t be the same. Last season a new tradition was added, which has become a favorite part of the pre-game hoopla. Thanks to Mr. George Gerringer, the Runnin’ Rebels enter the Thomas and Mack Center on their own red carpet, as we ROLL OUT THE RED CARPET FOR YOUR RUNNIN’ REBELS. Mr. Gerringer crafted and donated the red carpet for the Rebels.

Another time-honored tradition is the pre-game light show, which is a carry-over from the days the Rebels played in the Convention Center, where the original pre-game lighting show was designed by Art Rader.

Your Phone Service: Better than ever because our equipment and our people make the difference.

Centel is out to make your phone service better than ever. In the past five years we've invested nearly $300 million in highly sophisticated equipment.

Like our digital switching systems, which give you faster dial tones, quicker connections, less line noise, and opens the way to Custom Calling and direct-dial overseas calls.

And behind all that sophisticated equipment are some special people who make it all work smoothly. People like Eddie Pinjuv, Las Cole, Bill Murrell, Dolores Carpenter and Barbara Franklin.

An Allen Scope Is Like Hiring The Ten Best Diagnosticians In The World

Allen introduces a bold new concept for service in the 80's. The world's first and only engine diagnostic computer that collects data based on an auto's actual operating characteristics - sifts this information automatically, and deduces in the most logical manner which of the engine parts are defective and need to be replaced or repaired. Faulty components are pinpointed for all major engine systems - starting - charging - fuel distribution - compression - timing and ignition.

QUALITY SERVICE - AFFORDABLE PRICE - PLUS!

The Lifetime Service Guarantee.
Tom Coward Lincoln-Mercury offers it. Only Ford, Lincoln, and Mercury owners can get it.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee is so extensive, it covers virtually every repair on your car or light truck, for as long as you own it. Period.

And it wasn’t matter whether you bought it new, or used. Or who you bought it from.

No other dealer, no other repair service - foreign or domestic offers this kind of security.

Free Parts. Free Labor.
When you pay for a covered repair once, you never have to pay for the same repair again. Ever.

CATCHINGS IS BACK ON TARGET

By John Henderson

(Reprinted from 1-23-85 article with permission from Review-Journal)

To guage how low UNLV senior Ed Catchings felt in this year, picture him sitting in his hotel room Jan. 2 in Logan, Utah, after the Rebels nibbled Utah State. 142-140.

Of the 282 points, the most in the history of Division I basketball, Catchings didn't score any.

"It was just terrible," Catchings said. "I was happy for the other guys and I was happy we won in three overtimes, but I was hurt." emotionally, not physically. It's been a long half-year for the returning starter who Sport magazine said was part of an NBA-bound front line.

Through his first 11 games, Catchings averaged only 5.0 points and hit double figures only once.

In the first four league games, he scored just four points.

He quietly stepped to the background, few accusing fingers pointed his way, as UNLV built a winning streak. Today, Coach Jerry Tarkanian is doing some finger pointing but with a different message. He's back.

"It's Ed's fault," Catchings said. "I just said, 'Coach, don't worry. We're still only .500.'" Tarkanian didn't.

"I was upset," said Catchings of his early play, "but I kept my head up. I kept my head up, practiced hard and now, it's paying off."

Catchings' disappearing act would have made Houdini proud, but he had a valid reason. He just didn't tell anybody. He dominated practices all preseason but when the bell sounded he went 2-for-6 against Nevada-Reno, 2-for-10 against Colorado State and 2-for-8 against Georgetown.

This is the same guy who shot 61 percent last year.

Once his jumper wouldn't fall, his whole game almost snowballed into oblivion. However, detected by nobody, he had the flu. He caught it just before the opener and it not only cost him five pounds, it also cost him a lot of wind.

It peaked during the holiday tournaments.

"I was reely sick then," Catchings said. "I just went out there."

Catchings secretly went to a doctor and took a physical which proved negative.

"You've got the flu, he was told, just keep warm and give it time. The time is now. He's finally well.

"To go through what he went through this year, we didn't have one problem with him," Tarkanian said.

"A lot of other guys say it's the coach's fault, their teammates' fault. He didn't say a word.

A couple of other guys on the team are just the opposite. They're always saying it's somebody else's fault. That's not Eddie's case."

Catchings doesn't say much any way, but he really clammed up this year.

"I just don't like to tell people I'm sick," he said. "I always keep it to myself. I don't like to baby people. I only told the doctor, and the doctor told the coach, I don't know how everybody found out."

It didn't help that Catchings was learning a new position. Hoping to take advantage of his jump shot Tarkanian inserted him at the wing and his shooting flopped. He played mostly inside lately except against Maryland when his ballhandling on the wing helped protect a 12-point lead for nearly five minutes in the delay game.

"Coach has me coming in for Spoon (James, a wing)," Catchings said. "I think I play better down low. But to move up to the next level I have to play outside. That's why I've been really working on my ballhandling. I think I did a pretty good job against Maryland."

Tarkanian always said he wasn't giving up on Catchings even though he only played him three minutes against Fresno State. What he needed was some old-fashioned blowouts, and he got them. With them, he has Catchings back.

"He's back," Catchings said. "After I went in against Santa Barbara and got nine points, I heard the coaches saying I'm coming back. In the Maryland game I played pretty good and against Fullerton I think I played excellent. I've just got to keep it up."

"I was sick but I still practiced and played hard. Now I'm well and I'm ready."

Ed Catchings

The 252,465 fans that attended the Runnin' Rebels home contests last year not only broke all existing UNLV crowd records, but ranked the Runnin' Rebels in the Top 10 in attendance in the nation.
"Holy cow!! My wife just hit an IGT Progressive!"

“What a day to remember...”
“Where the bells started ringing, Nellie started yelling, ’I hit it! I hit it! We stared at the screen and then winning combination stared back. I couldn’t believe it. I was shaking. Nellie kept yelling, and adrenaline turned my knees to jelly and my stomach to mush.’

“In a second, people were everywhere. ‘How much did she win?’ ‘What a score!’ My heart was pumping a mile a minute. ‘The big one. We’d finally hit the big one.’

The excitement of winning. The sheer fun of playing. There’s no feeling like it. Slot entertainment at its best. IGT, International Game Technology, pioneers of innovative and exciting gaming products that have become the center of attention for players worldwide.

It’s easy to find IGT. Look for the crowd.

CUTY HEADQUARTERS  2700 West Sahara, Las Vegas  •  871-2000
The city of Las Vegas, Nevada is a thriving metropolis of nearly half-a-million permanent residents nestled in a desert valley near the southernmost tip of the state. Located in the scenic southwestern United States, Las Vegas is within a 30-mile radius of Lake Mead; the massive Hoover Dam and Colorado River recreational area; the snow skiing trails of 12,000 foot Mts. Charleston; and a panorama of red-rock mountains, eroded sandstone landscapes and replicas of old western towns. Also, within easy reach is the Southern California coastal areas, Arizona’s Grand Canyon, California’s Death Valley and Southern Utah’s Zion National Park.

First settled in 1855 as a missionary outpost of the Mormon Church, the city has grown into one of the premier entertainment spots in the world. Of course, everyone is familiar with the famed Las Vegas “Strip,” where renowned entertainers come to perform and the glamour and glitter is unsurpassed anywhere. Yet, the “Strip” is by no means the only means of entertainment. In many important ways, Las Vegas is like any other large city that is on the go. There is a rich cultural scene including art galleries, theatres, ballet and numerous musical organizations.

In addition, there are new museums, recreational parks, libraries, churches and hospitals making Las Vegas a city able to satisfy every taste.

Dusty Mac Scores A Slam Dunk For McCarran Int’l Airport!

County facility in Las Vegas, Nev., to be the talk of the aviation industry after remodeling

Dusty Mac, our pesky Nevada sand-dough miner, is still digging up the place in search of his legendary "lost" McCarran Mine (actually, we’re remodeling, and Dusty is taking the blame for things).

ON YOUR RETURN
To avoid validator congestion and jangled nerves, pre-arrange to call someone when your plane arrives. By the time your baggage is sorted and delivered to the baggage-pick-up area, your "ride" can meet you at the exit to the baggage-claim area and you can be on your way in a matter of moments.

FREE SHUTTLE BUS
In the meantime, free shuttle bus service is still being provided to all terminals every 5 minutes from the new parking area. This is one of the best ways to avoid congestion.
THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, LAS VEGAS

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas, has grown and developed in its relatively short history into one of the most dynamic urban universities in the Southwest. With some 11,000 students, a vigorous Continuing Education program, and active performing arts complex, the university has become both the educational and the cultural hub of southern Nevada.

Academic excellence has been a priority at UNLV since its inception as the Southern Regional Division of the University of Nevada in 1957. When Maude Frazier Hall opened on campus that year it stood alone, surrounded by desert and riveted by a two-lane county road. By the mid-1960s the university had become a four-year, degree-granting institution known as Nevada Southern University. Full autonomy with status equal to UNR came in 1968, and the following year the Board of Regents gave the campus its new name: the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

UNLV is part of the University of Nevada System, which is governed by the nine-member Nevada Board of Regents. Its 335 acres of park-like landscaping and modern buildings are located two miles from the Las Vegas Strip, in the heart of a busy commercial and residential area.

The push for academic excellence has intensified in recent months under the direction of UNLV’s energetic new president, Dr. Robert G. Maxon. During the first months of Dr. Maxon’s administration a number of substantial gifts have come to UNLV to support academics and to help build the new School of Engineering and Computer Science. Of these, the Margaret E. & Donald J. Givens Scholars Program and the Harold and Maryman Stocker Interest-Free Loan Program are notable for the impetus they give to the university’s campaign to attract Nevada’s finest high school graduates.

Nevada Power Company’s recent pledge of $1.5 million came soon after a gift of $500,000 by construction general contractor J.A. Tiberti, both for support of the engineering school. The drive to expand UNLV’s engineering and computing science programs actually began in 1982 when local business and community leaders visited the Silicon Valley in California where they learned that establishment of an accredited engineering school at UNLV is critical to attracting clean, high-technology business to southern Nevada. It has moved forward decisively since then. An academic program was designed and received regent’s approval; new faculty members have been hired, and plans are being drawn for a $15.2 million building to house the school.

Most significantly, the groundswell of support from the Greater Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, the Nevada Development Authority, the UNLV Foundation, and other groups established specifically to promote the school has resulted in substantial private contributions to the project.

When the new engineering building is constructed, it will join several important additions to UNLV’s physical plant that have opened in the past several years, including the $11.7 million Frank and Estella Beam Hall, which houses the colleges of Business and Economics and Hotel Administration; and the 18,500-seat Thomas & Mack Center, home of the Runnin’ Rebels and the site of major professional and recital events. The business school building was named for the parents of donor Thomas T. Blows, and the area is named for long-time UNLV supporters Jerome Mack and E. Perry Thomas.

UNLV is proud of its physical facilities—its $5 million Alta Heim Fine Arts Building and $7 million, four-story addition to James A. Gillerson Library among them—but campus administrators, faculty, and students understand that the heart of the university lies in its teaching programs.

Bachelor’s degrees are awarded in 50 major subjects, and 39 programs lead to the master’s degree. Specialist and doctorate degrees are offered in education. All programs have been fully accredited by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges.

The university has a distinguished faculty of more than the 400 men and women who are actively involved in teaching, research, and community service.

Faculty members, 77 percent of whom hold doctorates, have come to UNLV from some of the nation’s greatest universities; many have extensive experience in the professions in which they teach.

UNLV operates on the semester system, with a Mini Term offered between Spring and Fall semesters and two five-week sessions scheduled during the summer. Regular daytime classes are augmented by a strong evening program. Las Vegas residents by the thousands—some 15,000 annually—in fact—take advantage of the more than 500 credit and non-credit courses offered each year by the Division of Continuing Education. These “Classes for People” are designed with a wide range of potential students in mind: teachers, nurses and other professionals who need course work to stay current in their fields; persons interested in developing artistic and handicraft skills; business people who want to gain expertise in new areas or brush up on present abilities; people who want to learn photography, writing, computer programming; virtually anyone who wants to learn.

Academics play the most vital role in UNLV’s growth.

A MAN AND HIS TOWEL

Everybody wants to know about the Tarkanian trademark — Tark's Towel. The towel dates back to Jerry Tarkanian's Long Beach State days, when an ingenious manager devised it to help Coach's mouth from getting dry. Actually, there are two towels; the one on top is wet (soaked in nothing more than tap water) and the one on the bottom is dry and used simply to keep the wet one from sitting on the floor. The towel is wetted and folded (into 18ths, by the way) by a designated student-manager, who has learned the folding technique from a predecessor. The towels are handed to Coach Tarkanian as he enters the court at pre-game. The folder of the towel, most recently, is student-manager Barry Vaccaro, a junior from Pittsburgh, PA. Vaccaro adds that the towels are nothing more than plain, ordinary locker-room towels (but he does go through the stack to find the least raunchy one!).

IRVINE, Calif. — Baby faced Freddie Banks looks like he could be Richie Adams' nephew. But Saturday afternoon, the pair turned into a wild-eyed tag team and kept slamming stubborn UC Irvine to the mat.

Banks and Adams combined for 53 points as UNLV held off the Anteaters, 99-89, before a sellout crowd of 1,496 fans at the steamy Crawford Center. It gave the Rebels (19-3 overall and 13-1 in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association) 78 wins in their last 10 games.

It looked like a battlehship firing long-range missiles ashore as he coached in 6-of-7 3-point shots and finished with a game-high 30 points. The sophomore point guard hit 9-of-15 all day from the floor and nailed 6-of-6 throws. He also picked up eight assists and had six steals, the most by any Rebel this season, and played all but one minute of the game. Adams dropped in 11-of-14 attempts, including two eye-popping alley-oop slam dunks, and scored 23 points. The junior added seven rebounds, three steals and a blocked shot.

"I don't like to see Freddie taking so many shots — unless they're all going in like today," UNLV coach Jerry Tarkanian said with a smile. "And I thought Richie just played a super game. He practiced all week and I think it really helped."

It was Tarkanian's 400th major-college coaching victory. He's 400-95 for a winning percentage of .808. Tarkanian also hit 9-of-15 from the floor — including a 3-pointer — and totaled 19 points, six assists, three rebounds and a blocked shot. Ed Catchings was in double figures with 10 points and hit three straight jumpers and four consecutive free throws in the second half.

Tad Murphy connected on 11-of-12 field goal tries and led the Anteaters (11-14, 6-8) with 25 points. Johnny Rogers was close behind with 24 points and grabbed a game-high 10 rebounds.

UNLV was hotter than the 80-degree day outside, hitting 60 percent in each half for its second-best accuracy of the year.

The Rebels offensive accomplishments almost went out the window, though, as they blew a 16-point lead midway through the second half. Irvine took advantage of Adams sitting on the bench and stormed back from a 74-58 deficit at 11:12 to narrow it to a two-point game, 74-72, on a layup by Murphy with 7:20 left as the crowd was on its feet screaming.

But Adams came in and scored 11 points in the final four minutes, including three straight baskets. Banks added four consecutive one-and-one free throws and his last 3-pointer in the final minute to ice it for the Rebels.

Tarkanian also went back into a man-to-man defense after switching to a zone just before the Anteaters made their run.

Going to a zone was just a hunch. We just quit rebounding and let them back into it," Tarkanian said. "I was trying to rest Richie and a few others because it was so hot in there."

Irvine shot at a 50-percent clip and boat the Rebels on boards, 36-31, with many of the rebounds coming on offense. "I was really proud of the way we played. It was the hardest we've played all year," said Irvine coach Bill Mulligan. "UNLV didn't shoot so well from the outside, it would have been a different game. We had to start guarding their outside shooters and then Richie (Adams) becomes a machine."

The game stayed close in the first half until the midway point when Jones hit a jumper to give UNLV a 23-18 lead at 10:17. The Rebels pulled ahead by 11, 41-30, on a one-handed, alley-oop jam by Adams on a nice feed from Spoon James at the 3:30 mark. Jones converted a pretty pass from Banks on the break with just 1:25 left in the half to give UNLV a 47-36 advantage. Rogers scored with 40 seconds remaining, though, and the Rebels led 47-38 at the intermission.

UNLV ran out to its first 16-point lead, 65-49, on a mind blowing, behind-the-head slam by Adams on another alley-oop feed from James at 15:10 of the final half.

Eldridge Hudson hit the first of two free throws just under four minutes later to give UNLV its 74-68 margin before the Anteaters came charging back.

LADY REBEL BASKETBALL: ONE STEP FURTHER

The 1984-85 UNLV Lady Rebel Basketball team hopes to go one step further this season. In 1983-84, the Lady Rebels' 26-4 mark was the most successful record in the program's history. In 1983-84, the Lady Rebels became the first-ever PCWA Women's Basketball Champions, advancing to the first round of the NCAA Tournament (another Lady Rebel Story). In 1984-85 season the UNLV Lady Rebels will attempt to conquer another step toward their goal of climbing to the top of the top of the collegiate basketball world. We've tossed two years of success, Lady Rebel Co-Head Coach Jim Bolla said. We finally made it to the NCAA Tournament. Now that we know what it takes to get there, we have to take it one step further.

Last year was indeed a banner season for the Lady Rebels. The team started the year with a string of six consecutive wins, compiled a perfect 4-0 conference record and ended the year with a 26-4 mark. Despite a 78-68 loss in the first round of the NCAA Tournament to California State Long Beach, the 1983-84 campaign was overwhelm­ingly one of the most impressive ever for UNLV Women's Basketball.

This year's edition of UNLV Lady Rebel Basketball will differ slightly from the 1983-84 team, but we're going to play at least "We will be smaller this year than last," Bolla said. "But we'll offset our lack in height by using more skilled players at all the positions."

Together we have many returning factors in the 1984-85 edition of Lady Rebel Basketball. One of the biggest changes will be the quickened pace.

We are going to play in an up-tempo game this season," Bolla explained. "Our plan is to use speed and quickness. We hope to be quick both offensively and defensively, we'll try to get up and down the court very fast. The different style we hope will get us a fast-to-the-top-of-the-top- of-the-top-of-the-game speed. Whether it be a half-court or full-court press, we'll keep a fast pace and try to create turnovers."

An up-tempo style of play will mandate more frequent substitutions even the fastest locomotives run out of steam some time or another. "We're going to have to play at least eight players consistently," Bolla said.

Once again, the Lady Rebels will be led by All-American candidate Misty Thomas, 5-11, Junior, out of Windsor, Ontario, Canada, who led the team for the past two years in the point guard slot. Last year, she compiled 152 points per game, 63 rebounds per game and broke the school season assist record with 180 in 1983-84 (beating Sheila Power's old record of 174 set in 1976-77). Thomas also earned Kodak Academic All-America honors accumulating a 3.94 grade point average. Along with Danny Tarkanian, first team Academic All-America on the Rebel Men's team, they became the first ever Academic All-America tandem in the country.

Donya Monroe, a 6-2 junior, returns and will add leadership to this year's squad. Monroe finished the 1983-84 season at the Lady Rebels top rebounder (85 rebounds per game) and third leading scorer (118 points per game). Also returning are sophomores Angela Christian (6-2) and Charlotte "Nancy" Blair (5-9). Christian saw action last season as the back-up power forward and tallied 71 points and 52 rebounds per game. Blair was a substitute point guard and compiled 39 points and 1.2 rebounds per game.

Adding depth to this year's squad are junior Jackie Jeff (6-4) and Kathy Lahm (5-10). Jeff saw limited action last season at the center position, but will be used more extensively this season. Lahm was a back-up forward and tallied 4.1 points and 2.7 rebounds per game.

The Lady Rebels have compensated for the loss of six letter winners with a quality recruiting class. Joining the squad will be two of the finest prospects in the country, Karin Haar, a 5-4 point guard, and Zina Harris, a 5-8 guard-forward. Hall hail from the Mar. Averman HS in Pittsburgh where she accumulated 1,304 points and 575 steals and was a four year starter. She was selected to the "Fabulous Five" by the Pittsburgh Post Gazette and was heavily recruited by women's basketball powers North Carolina, Missouri and two­time defending national champions USC. Harris, from Galaval HS in Galaves, Tenn., was a Parade All-American and an All-State selection. Over her four year career at Galaves High she averaged 18.5 points per game.

Also new to the Lady Rebel attack force will be Shauna Crawford and Lisa Rymrier. Crawford (6-0), a registered nurse from Montreal, Quebec, this year will enter UNLV as a junior and will be a valuable tall forward for action at the forward slot. Rymrier (5-8), a native of the Virgin Islands, is what Bolla calls a "raw talent with much potential."

Walking into the fold of the 1984-85 Lady Rebel roster — seniors — is one that most teams consider essential. The Lady Rebels, however, do not consider the absence of senior players a crucial factor — leadership capabilities are found in every class.

"Both Misty (Thomas) and Donya (Monroe) have shown leadership even as freshmen, Bolla said. "We're basically a young team, but we're counting on other players like Nancy (Blair) and Angela (Christian) assuming some leadership duties."

"We haven't had the luxury of having seniors, losing them and re-building the team as of yet," Bolla continued. "We're still young and not an established team. We're still building and will be building even next year.

The Lady Rebels may not be as established as perennial dynasties, but they share one thing in common with the elite of women's collegiate basketball — talent. "We recruit athletes not just shooters and rebounders," Bolla said. "The team will never be complacent — they want to get bet­­ter every year. I think the players are starting to get a hunger in them.

The Lady Rebels realize that in order to be considered "Top-20" caliber, they must face Top-20 competition. This year, as years past, will be a still difficult. Powerhouses such as Texas, Louisiana Tech, Penn State, Alabama and Tennessee State are just a few of the teams the Lady Rebels will face in 1984-85. In addition to the strong competition, the Lady Rebels will make eight road games this season compared to the regular three or four in past years.

For the 1984-85 Lady Rebels achievements such as consecutive conference title and a Top-20 ranking would be great. For now, the Lady Rebels hope simply to go one step further.

Co-Head Coaches Sheila Shirts-Bolla and Jim Bolla are rapidly transforming the Lady Rebels into one of the nations top basketball teams, as evidenced by UNLV's first-ever appearance in the NCAA playoffs in 1983-84.

The UNLV Rebels are extremely proud to announce a new partnership with Big-Time Sports Productions and KDWN Radio. Big-Time Sports, KDWN and UNLV will combine to give listeners all of the action for both UNLV football and basketball. Producing Rebel games for Big-Time Sports is its president and founder Len Howard, who has formed his company exclusively for Rebel sports — and Rebel athletics will be a full-time endeavor for Howard, who is well known to Rebel fans as the "Voice of Rebel Basketball." Howard's company — Big-Time Sports Productions — was in fact named by former UNLV basketball star Sidney Green. Joining Howard in the broadcast booth for the Runnin' Rebels as color commentator will be his associate Larry duBoef.

In the broadcast booth for Rebel football returns the very popular team of Randy Rosenbloom and Al Roberts. The association of KDWN-Radio with UNLV athletics will provide the Rebels with a 50 thousand watt clear channel, providing exposure for UNLV throughout Nevada, California, and as far east as Phoenix, adding millions of listeners to the Rebel game coverage, extending the Rebels from their already popular local profile, into the national picture, with coverage all over the west. The Rebels welcome Big-Time Sports Productions and KDWN-Radio to our WINNING TEAM!
