Open Access Week (October 22-28, 2018)

Open Access Week is a global event that provides an opportunity for the academic and research communities to learn more about the potential benefits of Open Access (OA), to share what they’ve learned, and to help inspire others to participate in OA. Open Access initiatives, such as the University Libraries’ own institutional repository (Digital Scholarship@UNLV), help to increase the readership and impact of individual faculty work and provide higher visibility to UNLV’s research and creative efforts.

Digital Scholarship@UNLV, maintained by the Scholarly Communication Initiatives (SCI) team, provides an Open Access platform for faculty and graduate students to deposit their works to reach a wider audience of researchers and scholars. We host OA journals edited by UNLV faculty and students (such as the UNLV Gaming Research & Review Journal), have recently begun piloting an Open Article Fund to help UNLV authors pay article processing charges, and consult and provide training on author’s rights, journal evaluation, impact metrics, ORCID, Creative Commons, and so much more!

Come join us in our celebration of Open Access and UNLV faculty scholarship!

Full-text documents in Digital Scholarship@UNLV are available to anyone, anywhere, with an internet connection. Authors receive monthly readership reports and access to an author dashboard that allow them to track use over time and geographically. The repository also holds citation records (no full-text attached) of faculty scholarship which help to highlight and make discoverable works produced at UNLV. You can access your College’s collection by clicking this link. We would love to add full-text works to these citation only records, so please have interested faculty members contact us at digitalscholarship@unlv.edu!

Scholarly Communications Initiatives at University Libraries

Digital Scholarship@UNLV is the University Libraries institutional repository, where faculty and graduate students can deposit full-text works (contact us to find out how). Additionally, below are services, projects and initiatives which may also benefit you and/or your faculty members. Through these initiatives, we are supporting campus efforts to achieve Top Tier status, as well as document, share, preserve and track the impact of UNLV research and creative activities.

Need funding to help pay for article processing charges? This new pilot project funded by the UNLV Libraries and the Library Advisory Board has allocated $30,000 to help make UNLV publications openly accessible. Click the logo to find out more!

Need help making sure your scholarly work is properly attributed to you and not that other John Smith? ORCID can help you with that, and we can help you set up your ID. Click the logo to discover more.

Need to store and share your data? Our data publication services pilot can be your solution. Through these services, your data will: have a DOI assigned to it, metadata describing your data set, and up to 50GB of storage. To learn more, click on the image!

This project is a showcase and record of UNLV scholarship and creative work. When available, we also provide the full-text, open access version of the work. At any time, faculty can add full-text to any citation listed. Click the image to find out more.
We would like to invite you and your faculty members to contact us and find out more about how to submit full text works into Digital Scholarship@UNLV. You can also contact us with any questions or to learn more about the other services our team offers.
