Let a great team protect your family.

In the game of life, life insurance is the soundest way—often the only way—to guarantee that your family will be free of money worries if you should die. The moment you own a policy, you've guaranteed them cash. For food and clothing. For paying off the mortgage. For schooling. You've guaranteed that your family's future is more secure. And no one is better prepared than a New York Life Agent to help you provide this basic financial security for your family. Carefully chosen, thoroughly trained and experienced, New York Life Agents make a full-time career of guiding families and businesses like yours towards greater financial security.

UNLV TRAINING ROOM

Providing care and attempting diligently to prevent all athletic injuries for the UNLV Rebels is the school's fine training room under the capable direction of Rodney Poinexter, beginning his fourth year with the program after graduating from North Carolina State University in 1971.

Quickly becoming one of the most valuable persons on the UNLV athletic staff, Poinexter has developed an extremely efficient operation enhanced by the co-operation of local physicians. The Rebel team physician for nearly 10 years has been Dr. Thomas Armour who has donated countless hours of his time and ability to help the Rebel athletic program.

Also assisting greatly in the Rebel athletic program over the years has been Dr. Theodore Jacobs, developed by the co-operation of less direction of Rodney Poindexter, beginning his fourth year with the program after graduating from school's sons on the vent North Carolina State University in 1971.

TODAY'S GAME
By Dominic Clark
UNLV Sports Information Director

Ron Meyer
UNLV COACH
Joe Salem
NAU COACH

After losing their first home game since early in the 1973 season, the UNLV Rebels will attempt to start another winning streak tonight and break a two-game losing streak by hosting the Northern Arizona University Lumberjacks.

The Rebels, now 3-4 for the season, will have the leading kickoff returner in Division II football in 5-10, 182 pound senior Randy Ferrell, who has returned seven kickoffs for 281 yards and a 40.2 yard average per return... UNLV, on the other hand, has two individuals who figure prominently in the national statistics. Junior safety Marlon Beavers continues to lead the nation in punt returns as he has returned 12 for 217 yards for a 18.1 yard average per return. Sophomore running back Darrell Moore is in the top five in scoring as he is averaging 10 points per game, having scored 10 touchdowns in the six Rebel games he has appeared in.

Rebel pride will certainly be on the line tonight, as UNLV’s winning tradition is in jeopardy of fading away. Winning is a habit, but, unfortunately, so is losing.

The UNLV football Alumni Club has announced that Tuesday, December 2 is the date set for the annual UNLV Football Awards Dinner. It will be held this year in the grand ballroom of the Moyer Student Union Building on the Rebel campus. One of the highlights of the evening will be the presentation of the Rebel highlight as produced by KLAS TV sports-caster Ron Vito. Tickets, priced at $10, are on sale in the UNLV ticket office.

Before the National Anthem, join with Dave Burton and sing the UNLV Fight Song:
On UNLV Fight, Lifting our voices High; with a conquering hand of might, we raise our banner to the sky.

Tonight’s Featured Rebel Booster... Al Puliz

AND NOW, THE WEATHER. FAIR AND Warmer WITH A MONTEZUMA SNOWBLAST LIKELY THIS EVENING.

TODAY'S GAME

What better way to follow up a lot of tough, strenuous football watching than with a cool, refreshing Montezuma Snowblast? You’ve never heard of a Montezuma Snowblast? Well, you can find out what it is by ordering one at your store. Or you can find out what it is by setting it aside. Then toss 12 heaping ounces of ice, fill a glass with it, pour in Montezuma and fill up the glass with Fresco, the tangy citrusy Tequila. Quetzalcoatl! You’ve got an authentic Montezuma Snowblast ready to unleash on friend and foe alike.

This recipe is void where prohibited or otherwise restricted.

Get an authentic Montezuma Snowblast T-shirt just look for our display at your local store. Or send $2.95 check or M.O. only to Burton Brands Dept. C, 200 S. Michigan Ave. Chicago, IL 60604. Indicate S. M. L. or X L. Offer good while supply lasts. Void in any store where prohibited or restricted.

UNLV SCENE
By Mark Hughes

Herb Wells just might have the answer at last to the housing shortage, the economic crunch and the energy crisis all with one nugget of an idea. "Rocks!" says the UNLV engineer and geologist. "Rocks are lying around almost everywhere. Anyone can build a house out of rocks!"

And that explains why there is a 60-ton pile of rocks sitting in back of UNLV's Engineering Building. Between now and Christmas, Wells and one of his students are going to construct an experimental house made nearly entirely out of wire and stone walls three feet thick.

"Why should we cut trees down a thousand miles away and ship them down here when we can use local materials for a fraction of the cost?" the scientist reasoned. "The Incas, the Aztecs, the Mayas and the American Indians all used rocks and a lot of their home are still standing."

"In fact," Wells declares, "the Persians built a better house 4,000 years ago than we're making today!"

Making a house of rocks is easy, according to Wells. But first, you need a few "gabions." These are 3 x 3 x 3 baskets, made out of what looks like heavy chicken wire, used today for flood control. Geologists fill them with rocks and they help prevent soil erosion. Anyway, Wells was looking at a few of these gabions out in the field the other day when he was fit with the notion idea to build homes out of them.

A house made of rocks, Wells says, needs no foundation. All one does is line up the empty gabions in whatever floor plan desired, lift their wire lids, and start filling them with 3- to 10-inch rocks. When the first level of gabions is full, the lids are closed and the second row of empty gabions is stacked on top just like huge building blocks. Spaces are left for doors and windows.

"How much skill does that sound like it takes?" Wells asked rhetorically. "The carpenters and bricklayers are going to be all over me for this."

When the rock walls are up, Wells will spray gunnite on the outside, pour a concrete slab for a floor and plaster the inside walls. And presto, he'll have a rock house. The thick walls will help to heat the place in winter and cool it in summer. Wells wants to install solar panels on the roof and a windmill next to the house which will generate 12-volt electricity for lighting. Special plumbing will channel all of the water used on the inside into the yard to keep the plants green.

If the experimental house proves to be practical, Wells will apply for a grant to build a tract of rock houses somewhere in Las Vegas and open them for whoever wants to move in.

The cost? Wells, the rocks were purchased locally for $5 a ton. The comfort? Wells will find out by taking instrument readings of temperature and humidity during the coming months. The structural reliability?

"The pyramids are still standing, and they're made out of rocks," the contractor says. "I think our rock house will be earthquake resistant and stand just about everything!"

Even if things don't work out, Wells will be prepared. His geologic specialty is the study of avalanches.

REBEL WAGON — UNLV booster "Bud" Balfour, far left, stands with some of his friends from the Flame, behind his Rebel wagon. "Big Ed" had his car specially painted to support the Rebels. He even changes part of it weekly to announce who the Rebels are playing that week. His car is a travelling advertisement for the UNLV Rebels and he estimates that it puts on nearly 200 miles per week "spreading the word" about the Rebels.

Ride Our Rainbow, Half Price.

And in some cases, even less! For Senior Citizens, it's only 20¢ a ride with I.D. And there's the 10-ride Commuter Card for $3.35. That's only 33 1/2¢ a ride. Also, there's a new 6-token rate, which is only 40¢ per ride. So ride our rainbow. It's the best buy on wheels.

The Real Story
Unlimited Menu —
Featuring the very best Food and Service. If we don't have it, you don't need it.

In 1512, Vasco Da Gama was searching for a quick route to India by way of Alaska. Da Gama was a robust man whose appetite for fine waffles was equalled only his thirst for the frenzy of his national dance, the Mambo. He introduced the Mambo to the natives of Arizona, where it is still popular.

Escaping from waffle-hungry gypsies in Miami, who were in search of the Golden Fleece, Da Gama led his men over the Alps on elephants. En route, they ate waffles at the truck stops and made it safely to India, arriving on January 1, 1517. The International House of Pancakes honors Vasco by featuring Waffles on his day.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

(by John Romero was sports editor of the REVIEW-JOURNAL for 11 years. He is now executive director of advertising, promotion and publicity for Del Webb's Sahara.)

By JOHN ROMERO

"Football is a game of inches," a sportswriter friend told me the other day.

"What does that mean?" I said.

"Don't you read the sports pages?" he said, frowning. "One of the problems we sportswriters have is getting through to you people who can't understand plain English. Have you seen any Rebel grid encounters this year?"

"haven't missed a game," I said.

"There's your problem," the sportswriter said. "The Rebels don't play gECH. They engage in contests. They take on up-state rivals. They run head-on into traditional foes. They clash as little as $30 per day, with no mileage charge."

"Carano never throws," the sportswriter said. "He's a personable guy who personally to coach Meyer."

"Rammyhackled," I said.

"Tell me try it," I said. "Fingeroll is a rock-riddled stalwart. He punishes enemy ball carriers. He's a pillar of strength. He anchors the forward wall."

"Not bad," the sportswriter said. "You know a little about football, don't you?"

"I've talked personally to coach Meyer," I said.

"Ah, ah," the sportswriter said. "You call him Coach Meyer and people won't know what you're talking about. He's actually the inspirational leader of Reb grid forces. He's a dapper young former pro scout. He's a personable guy who tells it like it is."

"I understand," I said.

"Tell you what," the sportswriter said. "I'll give you a situation and you put it into language everybody can read. Okay?"

"Go ahead," I said, licking my lips.

"Carano passes to Haverty for a 20-yard gain to the 16-yard line and Haverty lateral the ball to Russell who runs in for a touchdown. Now say that so it makes sense."

"Lemme see," I said, frowning at my chin. "Carano triggered a blue dart to the fleet-footed Haverty who hauled it in and snaked to the 16 where he tossed a lateral to Russell who danced his way down the sidelines and across the last chalk mark."

"Close," the sportswriter said. "Just remember laterals aren't tossed. They're always underhanded."

"I have it," I said.

"Man, it's been a tough season," the sportswriter said. "I'll be glad when baseball is back. There's a sport with plain, blunt language. Did you see the way Cincinnati rammyhackled that ball in the Dome?"

"Rammyhackled," I said.

The sportswriter looked at me and shook his head sadly.

"What the hell are they teaching people in school these days?" he muttered.

A GROWING UNIVERSITY

The 1974-75 academic year has been one of continued achievement at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Here is a glimpse at the highlights:

Enrollment: There are now more than 7,000 students enrolled at UNLV, and the rate is still climbing at about 10 percent a year—many times the national average. Students come from every state of the nation and more than three dozen foreign countries.

Instruction: Presently, students may enroll in any of 65 degree programs at the bachelor's and master's level offered by UNLV's 32 academic departments. This summer, the school's first doctoral program got under way in the College of Education as a joint effort between UNLV and the University of Nevada, Reno.

The university conducted its second successful "Mini Term" in January. The innovative program gave students two weeks of intensive study into topics of wide ranging and timely concern. Some students worked in local businesses or government offices, while others traveled out of state to investigate everything from plant ecology to mountain resorts.

More than 4,000 persons attended the university's two summer sessions, and 10,000 adults enrolled in the many classes, institutes, workshops and seminars conducted for community residents.

New Construction: One of the country's finest physical education centers opened its doors this spring. The $6 million facility, containing two gymnasiums, a 50-meter indoor swimming pool, handball courts, training and equipment rooms, will not only provide space for physical education instruction, but will become a center for the entire community, since numerous classes for every age level are being organized by the school's Division of Continuing Education. The complex has been named the Paul McDermott Physical Education Center in memory of the long-time Las Vegas business and civic leader, friend and regent of UNLV. Two major facilities now under construction include the 2,000-seat Artemus Ham Concert Hall, scheduled for completion early next year, and a $5 million Life Science Building, set to open during the summer of 1976.

National Honors: The theatre arts department's production of "The House of Bernarda Alba" was selected in the American College Theatre Festival as one of the nation's top ten plays for 1974 out of 335 colleges and universities which competed for the distinction. The play was performed last spring at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., with all expenses paid by the festival.

In athletics, the Rebel football team carried a perfect 11-0 season into the national Division II regional finals where it advanced to the Grantland Rice Bowl in Baton Rouge, La., and a nationwide television audience. The nationally 16th-rated basketball team completed its regular season with a 22-4 record, won its first West Coast Athletic Conference crown, and advanced to NCAA Division I playoff games in Tempe, Arizona and Portland, Oregon.

Summing Up: In just 18 years, UNLV has blossomed from a single small building beside a dirt road into a beautiful 500-acre campus, it has attracted a well-qualified faculty of some 355 professors who are not only devoted to good teaching, but who are earning reputations for their research work and community service endeavors. Overall, the economic contribution of UNLV to the city has been significant, with millions of dollars brought into the area through student and faculty expenditures, capital construction, endowments and grants. The university is a resource that all in Las Vegas are proud to support.

Certainly one of the finest in the nation, the University Rebels Club is the driving force behind booster support for the UNLV athletic program. With continued active member participation, the URC is growing even stronger.

This past year the URC had its greatest fund-raising drive ever, raising nearly $450,000 for the support of the grant-in-aid program for Rebel athletics. This total is also one of the top five in the nation, and, to think UNLV has had only just over a decade of graduating classes, so the alumni roster isn't very long.

The honorary list of alumni at UNLV is one of the largest as the record drive would indicate all the thousands of Rebel boosters there are in the community. URC co-ordinator is Davey Pearl and the director of athletic fund-raising for the university is Dr. Wayne Pearson. These two men have become living legends among booster groups across the nation.

On July 10, 1975, Caesars Palace Hotel hosted the grandest URC "Thank You" Banquet of all as nearly 2,500 Rebel boosters were honored by one of the all-time greats — Mr. Frank Sinatra.

The suave, dynamic head football coach for the UNLV Rebels, Ron Meyer is ever-so-quickly building a high-powered, well-organized, progressive and productive product for the department, university and entire State of Nevada. Football is an extensive and expensive sport, and the Meyer-men have responded with back-to-back nationally ranked 8-3 and 11-0 seasons, two All-Americans and money in the bank.

Football is definitely paying its way at UNLV. The titanic UNLV-Boise State football game last October is a living example of the involvement Meyer's Magic has brought the Rebel gridiron program. A total of 18,631 people crowded into the 16,100-seat Las Vegas Stadium to see the Rebels defeat the Broncos, 37-35. It is the largest crowd ever to witness a sporting event in the State of Nevada.

Meyer appears to have the markings of one of the all-time great pigskin coaches, but time and fate will dictate much of his future. If ever there was a man who could change fate, however, it may just be this one. His highly-organized, well-disciplined, "egalitarian" LAS VEGAS WAY program is an eloquent example of the great accomplishments of athletics.

Coaches develop and cultivate All-Americans. At Purdue, he guided several supers in Bob Griese, Leroy Keyes and Mike Phipps. At UNLV there have been Mike Thomas and Joe Ingersoll. Obtaining all the little qualities that go into making him a complete, thoroughly-prepared coach, Meyer also has a demanding speaking tour, clinic assignment schedule, a radio show and a weekly half-hour television show in Las Vegas.

He is the composer and director of the UNLV football symphony and his music is becoming increasingly popular. Following the great Rebel season in 1974, Meyer's peers selected him as the District 8 Coach-of-the-Year in recognition of his accomplishments. He was also selected as an assistant coach for the 15th Annual Coaches' All-America game in Lubbock, Texas.

In college, Meyer was an All-Academic Big Ten performer and recipient of the Big Ten "Medal of Honor" for combined proficiency in scholarship and athletics in 1962.

In two productive seasons as the UNLV coach, Meyer has brought the school its first nationally-ranked football team, and its first team to compete in the NCAA playoffs. With the vigor, optimism and enthusiasm of youth, and the confidence of an experienced coach, he has his own won-loss record in just two seasons, directing a team that has re-written the school record book.

An active member in both the American Football Coaches Association and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Meyer and his wife Cindy have a very lovely family.

Meyer is dedicated to the pursuit of excellence, and his goals and ideals will settle for nothing less. He is a shining leader in the UNLV athletic program.

DESIGNED WITH THE FUTURE IN MIND, ULTIMATE EXPANSION AS NEEDED CALLS FOR 60,000 SEATS AND A TRIPLE-DECKED PRESS BOX.

The stadium is located in East Las Vegas, approximately seven miles from the UNLV campus. In pre-season and spring practice, the Rebels hold Saturday scrimmages at the stadium, otherwise practicing at an on-campus site.

Opened for the first time when the Rebels lost to Weber State College, 30-17 on October 23, 1971, the official stadium dedication ceremonies were held during the halftime of the UNLV-Western Illinois game on September 9, 1972. Western Illinois won a good game, 35-28, before 8,800 fans.

During the 1974 undefeated Rebel season, the stadium was twice sold out. On October 19, UNLV defeated Boise State University, 37-35, before 18,831 standing-room-only fans—the largest crowd in the history of the State of Nevada to ever witness a sporting event. Then again, on November 16, the sixth-annual Big Game was played at the facility, and the Rebels beat the University of Nevada, Reno, before another oversold house of 17,119 fans.

Everyone who has seen the stadium agrees that it is definitely another showplace in the entertainment capital of the world.

STADIUM GLITTERS IN THE DESERT

Sitting like an oasis in the desert, the sparkling Las Vegas Stadium provides the location for UNLV's seven home football games this year. Built by the Las Vegas Convention Authority at a cost of $3.5 million, it has 15,000 permanent seats and 1,100 bleacher seats that have been added to the existing facility to bring its current seating capacity to 16,100.

The newest Astro-Turf facility in the United States, seven light standards provide enough brightness to broadcast color TV at night and the palatial facility, truly built in Las Vegas Style, has a fine press box and complete dressing room facilities for both the Rebels and their opponents.
