Abstract

Ce projet suggère qu'enseigner immédiatement aux professionnels de la santé les compétences de base en matière de communication de manière centrée sur les solutions apportera des avantages thérapeutiques tant pour le client que pour le prestataire de soins. Tout d'abord, cet article se concentre sur l'élaboration d'un petit ensemble de principes de base pour le travail centré sur les solutions, facilement expliqués à tout public. Ensuite, il aborde la question "comment les compétences de communication de base peuvent-elles être appliquées immédiatement de manière centrée sur la solution?"
