University Rebels Club introduces...

"REB'ART"

By Nevada Artist Donn Knepp

Beginning this season, the University Rebels Club will offer Rebel fans the opportunity to purchase artistic lithographs of Rebel players in action. Consisting of a series of six two-color prints, the project will be called REB'ART. With every edition, fans will be able to purchase a poster printed in the series. Expected to become a collector's item, all prints in series will be numbered and hand signed by Nevada artist and former UNLV athlete Donn Knepp. Editions will be strictly limited to 1,500 in poster size, and 500 in executive size. Complete sets may be ordered in advance of printing. Watch for further information.

Rebels Club

Sanctioned as an annual fund-raising program of the Rebels Club, REB'ART will be produced in two sizes: POSTER, 24 x 18 inches; and EXECUTIVE, 16 x 24 inches. The EXECUTIVE size will be representative of the entire 1971-72 Rebel basketball program. The series of six will be a decorative addition to den or office. Framing may be arranged by the Rebels Club.

OUTLOOK
Better size and more strong, physical play. That could be the trade-mark of this year's Northwestern State University basketball team that has eight lettermen and three starters returning. Last year NSU was 14 - 11.

For the last four years the Demons have appeared in the District 20 NAIA playoffs, but have never made it to the nationals. The returning starters for Northwestern include last year's scoring champion Vernon Wilson, a 6-3 junior who averaged 20.3 points a game, and 6-4 Thurman Baptiste, who led the team in rebounds.
The other starter returning is 6-6 Jessie Horner.

RECORD TIME

Although the Rebels had a fine 16-10 record last year, no season records were broken, UNLV did manage to break two single-game standards and tie a third one, however. By losing 130-73 to Houston last year it proved to be the most points ever given up by a Reb team and also the worst defeat (57 points). It broke the old mark of 126 points against Santa Clara in 1970 and the previous worst defeat was 43 points by Dixie College in 1958.

The one record tied was a good one, as the 51 field goals scored in last season's 125-91 defeat of St. Mary's equaled the number of two-pointer made against Northern Arizona in 1968 and against Hiram Scott in 1968.

ALSO FOR THE BOOKS

The only UNLV record broken by an individual a year ago was in rebounding where Odis Allison grabbed off 25 big ones against SW Louisiana to top the previous best of Don Lyons (23) against Cal State, Long Beach in 1969.

Booker Washington is making his presence felt in the scoring category as he last year scored the third highest total a Reb has ever gotten in a single game. Washington, a senior this year, scored 43 points against St. Mary's. He also moved into 15th on the all-time scoring list for a career with 638 points in 42 games (a 15.2 average). Last year he scored 533 points and another year like that would move him into third place on the list behind Elburth Miller (1966-68) who had 1,657 points in 57 games and Silas Stepp (1962-66) who totaled 1,943 points in 106 games.

MARRIED REBELS

On this year's Rebel basketball team, three players are married – Loverd Coleman, Toby Houston, and Norman Knowles. Coleman and Houston each have one child while Knowles has one on the way.
