Youth and inexperience accent the 1973-74 WSU basketball team which has only two seniors on its roster and three freshmen. Even some of the more experienced players will be just sophomores. Two returning starters are wingmen Sam Miller, 6-2, and Edgar Jeffries, 6-4, who won their first varsity letters as freshmen.

The Las Vegas State School of Business, under the guidance of Jerry Tarkanian, guided the 49ers to five straight conference championships and four consecutive years of NCAA Western Regional Tournament appearances. At Riverside (1962-66), he had a 131-9 record, highlighted by a 77-66 victory over Marquette that drew a capacity crowd for his team of three ranked team against a highly-touted high school team in the National Invitation Tournament. At Pasadena (1966-68), Tarkanian was 67-4 and bagged a fourth state championship. Riverside fans and the L.A. Times were enchanted by his coaching style, which included an unrelenting work ethic, a strong work ethic, and a commitment to excellence. In his first year at Long Beach, Tarkanian achieved those heights.

Winning is a fact of life at Jerry Tarkanian — on the court and off. In five seasons at Cal State, Long Beach, he ran up an amazing 122-20 record. He is the winningest active major college coach with an .869 percentage. He guided the 49ers to five straight conference titles (four in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association and one in the California Collegiate Athletic Association) and led them into the NCAA Western Regionals four consecutive years. In national final rankings, his CSULB teams were rated among the top ten of university division teams for three straight years.

What is equally amazing is that Tarkanian NEVER lost a home game at Long Beach. His 49er teams won 65 straight home games in the Campus Gym and the Long Beach City College Olympic Gym, which has a capacity of 12,987 spectators. Prior to coming to Long Beach, Tarkanian spent five years in high school coaching, including three consecutive state championships and four league championships in five years. No other junior college coach in the history of California basketball achieved those heights. At Pasadena (1966-68), Tarkanian was 67-4 and bagged a fourth state championship, while finishing in the runner-up spot another time.

An astonishing feature of his wins is that they were accomplished at schools which had never previously won a basketball championship. Riverside was last in its conference two consecutive years before Tarkanian, Pasadena was last in its conference the previous year and Long Beach had never won a championship in basketball.

The amazing coach started his coaching career with five years in high school at San Joaquin Memorial, Antelope Valley, and Redlands High Schools.

Regarding as one of the great recruiters in the nation, “The Pied Piper of college basketball” landed for Long Beach such nationally recognized superstars as Sam Robinson, George Trapp, Chuck Terry, Ed Ratliff, Leonard Gray and Roscoe Pondexter. Even though he left almost complete a returning number three ranked team at Long Beach, Tarkanian already may have recruited equally as well at UNLV.

He is bringing to his new school such highly-touted high school All-Americans as Eddie Owens (Houston, Texas), Lewis Brown (Los Angeles, California), Jeep Kelly (Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania), and Jackie Robinson (Los Angeles, California). They are joined by a pair of junior college All-Americans, Antelope Valley’s Leonard Gray and Roscoe Pondexter. Tony Morocco begins his first season at UNLV after coming from Cal State, Long Beach, where he served in a similar capacity for coach Tarkanian and the 49ers. Prior to Cal State, Long Beach, he spent one season of recruiting for the University of Arkansas after coming from St. Francis College in Pennsylvania where he worked two years as an assistant coach. His first college coaching position was with the University of Iowa following his 1966 graduation from Youngstown State University in Ohio, where he played his collegiate basketball and earned two All-State certificates. Once an All-State guard for Trafford High School in Pittsburgh, Pa., Morocco returned to his alma mater following his collegiate career to coach at the prep level for three seasons.

A dynamic and energetic recruiter, the aggressive Morocco is given credit for landing at least two of UNLV’s high school All-Americans—Eddie Owens and Jeep Kelly. Morocco, his wife Marilyn and their daughter Nickie reside in Las Vegas.
