The University Rebels Club

There is not a stronger, nor more influential group supporting a college athletic program than UNLV's own University Rebels Club. Growing right along with the program over the past 25 years, the URC combines to drive the five-size-large concert program of the 23-sport UNLV intercollegiate athletic program. The membership rolls continue to grow daily as the group becomes one of the most prominent in the entire intercollegiate athletic world in the United States.

This past spring, the URC culminated its largest fund-raising drive ever, bringing in over $1 million for the third straight year to support the grant-in-aid program for the 23-sport Rebels. This total once again is one of the very largest in the nation, without large endowment funds and lengthy records of successes over many decades.

The honorary list of UNLV alumni is one of the largest in the nation, attracting as it does thousands of Rebel supporters from all over the metropolitan Las Vegas valley. The P & P boys who continue to ramrod the organization and the administrative duties of the URC are Davey Pearl and Dr. Wayne Pearson. Pearl, the energetic little fireball who could just as easily be called President Carter as giving the Rebels the White House for a year, is the chairperson of Booster Activities for UNLV and the executive director of the URC. The reputable Dr. Pearson is UNLV's assistant athletic director for development.

The officers of the organization are Eddie Kramer, President; Dick Rodriguez, Vice President; Bill Slocum, Vice President; Bill Morris, Secretary; and George Fox, Treasurer.

In addition to the officers, Pearl and Pearson, current members of the Board of Trustees for the URC are: Al Gascho, Ken Gregeron, James Jonas, Michael Mack, Linda Perkins Eady, Jack Pickett, and Curtin Waters.

The board of Trustees meets on a monthly basis. Growing right along with the program are the 23-sport Rebels. JERRY TARKANIAN
HEAD COACH

UNLV Runnin' Rebel basketball has come a long, long way in a relatively short time. It wouldn't have advanced to the NCAA Finals and the NCAA playoffs and been rated in the top 20 (of the past five seasons) along with winning the national scoring title three out of the last four years if it hasn't been for Jerry Tarkanian, the magician behind the UNLV basketball success story.

Jerry Tarkanian is, after all, the winningest all-time major college basketball coach in America. After 11 seasons as a major college coach, Tarkanian has coached his teams to a remarkable 212-83 record for a .726 winning percentage.

In six seasons as UNLV's head coach, Tarkanian has led the Runnin' Rebels to records of 20-6, 24-5, 24-5, 29-2, 23-4, and 21-8. The goal of the players who were with Tarkanian his first four years with UNLV was to win 100 games, a goal they set for themselves as freshmen. When Eddie Owens, Glen Gonalez, Lewis Brown, Robert Smith and Sam Smith left UNLV after the 1975-76 season, their four-year total was 161-18, an amazing record for an astounding group of players.

After six seasons in Las Vegas, Tarkanian’s teams have compiled a record of 143-82. Last season, the final year of a two-year NCAA probation for the Runnin’ Rebels, UNLV finished with a 21-8 record which included victories over Arizona, Maryland, San Francisco and Marquette.

Prior to the start of the 1979-80 season, he was allowed three recruits and Tarkanian and his staff landed city-player-of-the-year from New York City, Pittsburgh and Los Angeles.

UNLV won the Western Regional Championship during the 1977-78 season and finished with the third place trophy in the NCAA Finals in Atlanta, Georgia, in March of 1977. To get there, the Runnin’ Rebels established 14 NCAA single-game, single-season and tournament records. In the playoffs, UNLV defeated the University of San Francisco, 121-96, the University of Utah, 88-83, and Idaho State, 107-90, to capture the Western Regionals.

Then UNLV lost a heartbreaker, 84-83, to the University of North Carolina, but had the grade and poise to come back and defeat the University of North Carolina-Charlotte, 108-94, for the consolation title of the 1977 NCAA Finals.

After that historic 1977-78 season, UNLV finished fourth in the final Associated Press poll, sixth in the United Press International poll and third in the Basketball Weekly poll.

In 1976-77, UNLV won its first 23 games, ended at 23-4 with a lofty third place rating in the Associated Press poll.

In NCAA playoffs, all under coach Tarkanian, UNLV has a fine 7-5 record, or a .778 percent winning margin.

Winning is a fact of life to Jerry Tarkanian, on the court and off. In 21 years of coaching in the collegiate, high school, and junior college ranks, the 69-year old Runnin’ Rebel coach has known nothing but unparalleled success.

In 11 seasons as a major college coach, his teams have appeared in seven NCAA post-season tournaments in addition to his being the winningest college coach.

What is especially amazing is that Tarkanian never lost a home game while coaching at Long Beach State prior to coming to UNLV in 1973. His 489 teams won 61 straight home games in the campus gym and Long Beach arena, culminating with a nationally televised 77-66 victory over Marquette in 1973.

At UNLV, Tark’s troops have been nearly as impressive with a 99-7 record in six seasons in the Las Vegas Convention Center, including a 79-game streak at one point, which is the longest in recent NCAA vintage.

In Rebel game nights, the otherwise stately convention hall is turned into a mass of theatrical light explosions which quickly work the crowd into a frenzy—that’s why a prominently-placed sign entices visitors with “Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank.”

In 1973-74 season, only two teams who dared to defeat the Runnin’ Rebels in the 1973-74 season at home were Texas Tech, 76-73, and the University of Houston, 75-72. The Runnin’ Rebels avenged the Houston loss in 1976, beating the Cougars in the opening round of the Holiday Classic, 116-97.

In 1977-78, the University of New Mexico snapped UNLV’s 72-game win streak on Jan. 17, 1978, with a 102-98 win and Portland State also trimmed the Runnin’ Rebels by a 86-84 score.

Last season, three teams got out of Las Vegas as winners, Temple University, 89-79, New Mexico again, 122-99, and San Diego State, 94-91.

Sellout crowds have been traditional at UNLV in the Tarkanian era. In the Rebels’ two seasons in the West Coast Athletic Conference with Tarkanian, UNLV did not lose a home game in 14 nights. UNLV has now withdrawn from the WCAC and has membership pending final vote of the president council to join the Western Athletic Conference.

In six seasons under Tarkanian, UNLV has compiled a road record of 39-23.

In NCAA playoff action after the 1974-75 regular season, the Rebels played a sub-regional game on the campus of Arizona State, losing to San Diego State, 90-80. In the NCAA Regional tournament in Portland, Oregon, the Rebels were narrowly defeated by Arizona State, 84-81, but bounced back to capture the consolation title by defeating a favored University of Montana team, 76-75.

Following the 1974-75 regular season campaign, the Runnin’ Rebels emerged and defeated Holy Cross, 108-78, in a sub-regional game played on the campus of the University of Oregon in Eugene. Then the Runnin’ Rebels were knocked out of the race for the national championship, losing to the University of Arizona, 114-105, in overtime, at famed Pauley Pavilion on the UCLA campus.

Before Long Beach State, where Tark’s coaching reputation first drew national acclaim, he spent seven seasons in the junior college ranks at Riverside and Pasadena Junior Colleges. At Riverside (1962-68), he had a 101-19 overall record, which included three consecutive state championships and four league titles in five years. No other junior college coach in the history of California basketball has achieved those heights. At Pasadena (1968-68), Tarkanian was 67-4 and bagged a fourth state title while finishing in the runner-up spot his other year.

An astonishing feature of his wins is that they have been accomplished at schools which had never previously won a basketball championship. Riverside was last in the conference the previous year; Long Beach State had never won a championship and UNLV had never finished higher than fourth in the WCAC.

The outstanding coach started his coaching career with five years in California high schools: San Joaquin Memorial, Antioch Valley and Redlands.

Regarded as one of the great recruiters in the nation, “The Pied Piper of College Basketball” landed for Long Beach State men nationally recognized superstars as Sam Robinson, George Trump, Chick Terry, Earl Ratleff, Leonard Gray and Roscoe Podendorfer.

In his first year at UNLV, Tarkanian has recruited as well as he did during his entire tenure at Long Beach State.

As his winning tradition continues to grow, so does his reputation. Six years ago, Tarkanian brought three high school All-American performers with him. They are Eddie Owens (Houston, Texas, Lewis Brown and Jackie Robinson (both from Los Angeles).

Five years ago, he recruited Robert Johnson (Los Angeles), four years ago he brought Sam Smith (Las Vegas) and Reggie Theus (Inglewood, California), three years ago he brought in junior college center Larry Moffett (Gary, Indiana), two years ago Earl Evans came to Las Vegas from Port Arthur, Texas and last year another host of young talent included Richard Box (Riverside, CA) and Michael Burns (Las Vegas).

This year, three more high school All-American players have been added to the UNLV roster by Tarkanian in the 1979 New Mexico招摇撞骗 Associ­ation (Continued on Page 11)

JUST ONE WATCH IS EQUAL TO THE CHAMPIONSHIP PACE OF A. J. FOYT: ROLEX.

He lives and thinks at speed. In NASCAR, and worldwide. He's "King of the Brickyard" as three-time Indy winner; in his racing wake are the Daytona 500, Lo Mans and $2 million in victory earnings. For A. J.'s trim's just one watch: his hand-crafted Rolex Day-Date, an elegant, impregnable 50-jewel chronometer in 18kt. gold with matching President bracelet (1603/6385).

To A. J., who designs and builds his own cars, hand-crafted performance is everything.

Good Luck Rebels

From all of us at...
Dr. Al Negratti: UNLV's New AD

Dr. Al Negratti has been named the director of athletics at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

He will begin his assignment here on Jan. 1, succeeding Bill Ireland, who announced his retirement from administration in June after serving in the top athletic post since 1978.

For the past six years, Negratti has been athletic director at the University of California, Santa Barbara. He has also served as basketball coach and later as athletic director at the University of Portland.

"He is well known nationally and is particularly knowledgeable about intercollegiate athletics in the west," said UNLV President Leonard Goodall, who recommended his appointment to university regents Friday. "He is especially strong in internal management and budget administration, and is well regarded for his ability to work with alumni, boosters and other community groups."

Goodall also cited Negratti's wide acquaintances in the west which should enhance the university's scheduling activities as well as its relationships with the Western Athletic Conference.

Negratti has served at the national level on NCAA committees, Goodall added, and said his contacts should be helpful in national promotional activities.

"He understands the need for balance between academics and athletics," Goodall said. "I have talked to many people about him, and without exception, his absolute integrity and his commitment to hard work are mentioned as outstanding characteristics."

Negratti will be paid $37,000 per year, placing him in a range consistent with other athletic directors at WAC schools, Goodall said.

After serving 10 years at Portland, Negratti became athletic director at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, NY before moving on to a similar post at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

His application for the position was accompanied by several letters of tribute from his colleagues through the years.

Richard Perry, director of athletics at the University of Southern California, wrote: "I have known him as a coach, teacher, administrator and personal friend" and that his performance in each of these areas is viewed with great respect "by our many colleagues throughout the nation in as much as Al has always maintained high visibility within the profession."

Another letter from Henry Raymonds, director of athletics at Marquette University, said: "Dr. Al has a great deal of integrity, is firm but fair, has a thorough knowledge of NCAA rules, and is highly qualified in Title IX requirements."

Dr. Vernon Cheadle, the former chancellor of the University of California, Santa Barbara, said the program there under Negratti is "organized and run smartly and economically. He has done an excellent job. He is capable of handling any combination of such activities with tact, firmness and fairness."

Negratti and his wife, Alice, have six children, four daughters and two sons.

Western Athletic Conference

UNLV is scheduled to become an active member of the Western Athletic Conference in July of 1980, pending final vote of the President's Council. During the 1979-80 academic and athletic year, the Rebels will continue to add more and more WAC opponents to its schedule.

Currently in the WAC are Brigham Young University, Colorado State University, the University of Hawaii, the University of New Mexico, San Diego State University, the University of Texas-EI Paso, the University of Utah, and the University of Wyoming. UNLV's addition to the league would bring the total number of schools to nine.

During this year, the Rebel football team will play six of the current members, all but San Diego State and Brigham Young University. In basketball, the Runnin' Rebels are scheduled to play home-and-home against all of the WAC members except BYU.

The WAC is relatively young as an intercollegiate league, but the 15-year old association has enjoyed solid success at every turn since its beginning in 1962.

Any history of the WAC must start back in 1960 at the NCAA convention in New York City where a group of athletic directors first met. Next came a session in Portland, Oregon, which included the faculty representatives and shortly afterwards, a six team league was born, the constitution signed by the Presidents of the University of Arizona, Arizona State, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming on July 27, 1962.

The WAC rose from the ashes of the old Border and Skyline leagues. UA and ASU were active in the Border Conference, UNM left the Border and joined the Skyline where BYU, Utah, and Wyoming were holding forth.

But the initial meeting of the WAC also included three schools who were being temporarily ostracized by what became the Pac-8-Oregon, Oregon State and Washington State. By the time the Portland meeting rolled around, however, peace was being made on the West Coast and the WAC became strictly a Rocky Mountain alignment.

The first commissioner of the WAC had very few problems easing into the job. Paul Brechler had been commissioner of the Skyline Conference since 1980 and just changed the name of the league on the office door in Denver, which still is the location of the conference headquarters.

In 1966, Brechler left the WAC to become athletic director at California and was followed by Wiles Hallock, former public relations director of the NCAA. Hallock's reign as commissioner came at the same time the WAC expanded to an eight team league.

The next major change in the WAC occurred in 1971 when Stu Bates became the third commissioner of the league after a 17-year tenure as athletic director at Washington State University.

Bates still is on the scene and is guiding the WAC through another transitory situation in its short history. In 1978, Arizona and Arizona State announced their intentions to leave the Pacific-8, leaving the WAC with a major regrouping chore.

Shortly thereafter, the WAC Presidents' Council considered the applications of 10 universities and voted to adopt a three-pronged approach to conference expansion.

San Diego State was admitted to the WAC in April, 1977, for competition beginning with the 1978-79 academic year. Hawaii and UNLV were given criteria to meet with deadline dates.

Since last time, the WAC Presidents' Council voted in September, 1978, to admit the University of Hawaii beginning this past July 1, UNLV's conference application still is finding final action by the Presidents' Council, but the group initially gave us until July 1, 1980 to satisfy the criteria for admission.

The Presidents' Council can vote on the UNLV application anytime after the school has met the criteria which included expansion of the football stadium, plans and action on a larger basketball facility, and proper standing with the NCAA.

The Las Vegas Silver Bowl has been expanded to 32,000 seats, the architects are designing an 16,000-seat on-campus basketball arena, and we came off proba-

There are a few things you need to know about the WAC. First, the Rebels aren't competing for NCAA titles until 1968-69 season.

The Las Vegas Convention Center —
Home of the Runnin’ Rebels

UNLV plays all of its home games on one of the finest hardwood court arenas in the country — the 6,380 seat Las Vegas Convention Center rotunda. Capacity crowds cheer the Rebels in comfort in theater-type cushioned seats. Amplified parking is available at the conveniently located facility, one mile east of the famed Las Vegas “Strip.”

Rather homey with its limited seating capacity, UNLV enjoys playing in its home facility and established an all-time record by winning 72 straight games before being defeated by the University of New Mexico on Jan. 7, 1978 by a 102-98 score. Under head coach Jerry Tarkanian, the Runnin’ Rebels have raced up and down the court for an impressive 98-7 record in the Convention Center the past six seasons against regular NCAA competition. This year, UNLV will play 17 games in the boisterous facility.

The sign hanging ominously over the rotunda floor reads, “Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank.” It would more appropriately read, “Enter at your own risk.” After the swirling of the multi-colored spotlights in the darkened arena to herald the introduction of the local favorites, the fireworks really begin. It is the Convention Center were the Runnin’ Rebels earned their expanded nickname. During the 1974-75, 1975-76, and 1976-77 seasons, the Runnin’ Rebels, Gunnin’ Rebels did not lose a home game. In 1976-77, UNLV played 19 home games, scoring 2,109 points for an average of 111.0 per game. The fast-moving fleet-footed eagles of the hardwood soared to 100 or more points in 16 of those 19 games and in a pre-season exhibition game against the National Team of the Republic of China, UNLV actually pumped in 174 points in a 40-minute game.

Like its renowned counterpart on the “Strip,” the Convention Center “Showroom” has been virtually SOLD OUT for the past five years, with only very limited seating available for but a few games. Producing the elaborate light shows during pre-game ceremonies again this season is long-time Rebel supporter, Art Rader.

Some visiting coaches have vowed to never again return to the site of their most humiliating defeat. Seven opponents have actually left Las Vegas winners over the past six years. All visitors have left “Tark’s Shark Tank” knowing they have just experienced something that will remain with them the rest of their lives.

For victory.

UNLV Fight Song

On, UNLV, Fight,
Lifting our voices high;
with a conquering hand of might
We raise our banner to the sky.

On, UNLV, fight,
Charging triumphantly;
Fight, UNLV, fight
For victory.

This is UNLV

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas is a campus on the move. In fact, during the past decade it has been one of the fastest-growing institutions of higher learning in the country. In less than 10 years, UNLV has tripled its campus in size, allowing room for the university's 65 different degree programs available to students, including almost two dozen at the master's and doctoral levels.

Founded in 1957, UNLV has grown from a single one-story building in the desert to a 350-acre campus boasting more than $25 million worth of new buildings that have gone up in just the past seven years. These new structures include one of the most modern teacher education facilities in the country, a major classroom and office building, a 560-seat drama theatre, a physical education center complete with a 50-meter indoor swimming pool, new laboratories and classrooms in the life sciences, and a spacious 2,000-seat concert hall which serves as a cultural home for the entire community.

The critics have praised UNLV's award-winning theatre department. And where else could music students earn credits playing behind the super-stars of show business on the Las Vegas Strip. Recently, UNLV's student jazz ensemble was named the second best college jazz group in the world.

Science students and faculty conduct research projects in desert ecology, environmental biology and geology, taking full advantage of their unique southwestern desert setting.

The next major project is a $7 million addition to the James Dickinson Library, with completion expected in mid-1981. Also approved by the last state legislature are a new business and hotel administration building, a facility for the teaching of the performing arts and the 18,000-seat continuing education and activities center that will serve as the new home for Runnin' Rebel basketball starting in 1981.

The university is striving for excellence in a diversity of graduate and undergraduate programs. The College of Hotel Administration, for example, ranks among the finest programs of its type in the U.S., and its graduates hold top management positions in hotels, restaurants and hospitals around the world.

UNLV also reaches out into the community through its aggressive continuing education division that last year enrolled 15,000 residents—from housewives to business owners, grandparents and youngsters.
