Director of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics

DR. BRAD ROTHERMEL

During the past four academic years, the University of Nevada, Las Vegas had each of its 14 intercollegiate athletic programs, with only one exception, represented in post-season, national competition. In addition, most of those teams were ranked nationally in the Top 20 at one time or another. Most of the credit for this outstanding record goes to UNLV’s Director of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Dr. Brad Rothermel.

Rothermel, who during the 1988-89 academic year will enter his ninth year as athletic director, has built UNLV athletics to the point where the university is now very competitive at both the conference and national levels.

Rothermel’s philosophy while at UNLV has been that the intercollegiate athletic program is to provide for the student-athletes an environment in which those student-athletes are able to pursue excellence in selected extracurricular activities while remaining students.

Furthermore, his objective for the Programs to win within the structure of the rules and the budgetary framework provided. The achievement of this goal is demonstrated by successfully competing against national champion-caliber competition in all activities sponsored by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Prior to his appointment at UNLV in 1981, he was Associate Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at West Virginia University. From 1974 to 1976 he was employed as Assistant Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at Kansas State University.

Rothermel supervised the intercollegiate programs for men and women while serving as Director of the Health and Physical Education at George Williams College in Downers Grove, Illinois, from 1971 to 1974.

From 1965 to 1967, he served as Supervisor of Counseling and Research Development while functioning in the capacity of Assistant Athletic Director of the University of Illinois Athletic Association. Prior to that position he was an administrative associate and coach for the Chicago National League Baseball Club (Chicago Cubs).

In addition to his above mentioned athletic positions, Rothermel has served as the chief executive officer of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas since August 1, 1984. Prior to assuming his duties here, he served as the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs at the University of Houston. In that capacity, he was the chief academic officer of an institution of 45,000 students. Maxson earned his doctorate from Mississippi State University in 1970, his areas of study and interest have been educational leadership and social psychology. He has been especially interested in the phenomenon of leadership in colleges and universities. He has co-authored two college textbooks that together are used in approximately 100 universities. He has also published numerous articles in professional journals.

Dr. Maxson is married to Sylvia Parish Maxson. They have two children, Kimberly, a junior at UNR, and Todd, in his third year of medical school at the University of Texas.

The President is a tireless worker in pursuit of his dreams for UNLV. He starts each day 5:30 a.m. with a three mile run and by 7:30 is in his office on the seventh floor of the Humanities Building. It is rare that he is home by 7:30 at night, because his evenings are filled with meetings and other University-related gatherings. His hobby is his work: the success of UNLV is his single-minded passion. That single-mindedness has not only infected his circle of higher administrators, his vice-presidents and dean and other members of his staff, but has also produced significant results.

Significant progress has been made on a wide-scale campus beautification program which will result in more formal entrances to the UNLV campus and oriented landscaping around the perimeter of the institution.

New Ph.D. programs in both Sociology and English have been approved by the UNLV Board of Regents, programs which will not only provide education and advanced degrees for interested area residents, but which also signal another step in the growth toward maturity of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

UNLV has been that the function of the UNLV President is to become a great city, and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas is just as clearly on its way to becoming a great university. With the support of this fine community and with the wonderful faculty scholars and student scholars and staff at UNLV, we simply cannot avoid becoming truly a university of the first class. Neither at UNLV nor our neighbors in the wider community will settle for less.
The UNLV Rebels would like to thank the LAS VEGAS HILTON, KTNV TV-13 and HCA MONTEVISTA HOSPITAL for sponsoring tonight's game and for providing Rebel athletics with the 30th year anniversary poster that were distributed upon entering the arena. We would also like to give a warm Rebel welcome to the employees and guests of our sponsors who are in attendance tonight. Your support of Rebel athletics is greatly appreciated.

The UNLV Rebels would like to thank 7-ELEVEN for sponsoring tonight’s game and for their generous support of the 1988-89 High School Faculty Award Program honoring exceptional Southern Nevada teachers. We would also like to give a warm Rebel welcome to the employees and guests of 7-Eleven who are in attendance tonight. Your help in promoting Rebel athletics is greatly appreciated.

THE SERIES WITH THE OWLS: The Rebels are 2-1 lifetime against Temple. Last year, UNLV center Anthony Todd drilled a 10-foot jump shot at the buzzer leading the Rebels to a 59-56 win over the previously undefeated and No. 1 ranked Owls at the Thomas & Mack Center. Ironically, last year's game was also televised nationally by ABC.

THE SERIES WITH THE 49ERS: The Rebels are 19-6 lifetime against the 49ers. In a January 3rd meeting between the two schools in Long Beach, UNLV emerged a 97-76 winner as freshman Anderson Hunt came off the bench to score 21 points. Last year the 49ers posted a 79-77 upset over UNLV at the Thomas & Mack Center.

NATIONAL TELEVISION: The Temple game will be televised live nationally on ABC to a national audience by ABC-TV. Gary Bender calls the play-by-play while former Kentucky head coach Joe B. Hall adds color commentary.

The Long Beach State game will be televised live nationally by the ESPN cable network as the third game of its Big Monday tripleheader.

OPPONENT RECORDS: Temple University is currently 13-8 overall with a game against Rhode Island scheduled for Thursday night. They are 11-2 in the Atlantic-10 conference and most recently defeated Duquesne last Sunday.

Long Beach State is currently 11-11 overall and 6-6 in the Big West and will host New Mexico State next Saturday before coming to Las Vegas. Most recently they defeated Fresno State last Saturday.

JERRY TARKANIAN

★ The nation's winningest active collegiate basketball coach (by percentage!)
★ Five-time PCAA Coach of the Year!

One of America's most successful and most well known college basketball coaches, Jerry Tarkanian, enters his 28th year of college coaching and his 16th at UNLV.

For 27 years, he has done one thing...very well. In fact, Jerry Tarkanian has done that one thing—coach—so well that he is the nation’s winningest active collegiate coach by percentage. Known nationwide for his colorful personality, “Tark” has compiled an .825 winning percentage at the major college level, and is considered by many to be one of the best college coaches ever.

And rightly so. Tarkanian actually began his college basketball’s all-time winningest coach for a three-month period—last season (December 8 through March 10) after the Rebels defeated Nevada-Reno, and his winning percentage rose above that of the legendary Clair Bee. Bee, a former coach at Long Island University and Rider College, remians the winningest college coach of all-time, ending his career at 410-86 (.825).

In his 18th season at UNLV, Tarkanian has molded the Runnin’ Rebels into a formidable college basketball dynasty. Failing to win 20+ games in a season only once at UNLV, the Tarkanian era at UNLV has become known as the “Dynasty in the Desert.”

Since his arrival at UNLV, Tarkanian has always managed to attract only the top prospects, as evidenced by nine NCAA postseason bids including the last six years in a row. He has twice driven his clubs to the NCAA Final Four, including the 1976-77 edition when UNLV was 29-3 and eventually finished third, and the 1986-87 version when the Rebels finished with a 37-2 ledger. Tarkanian-led squads at UNLV also have advanced to NIT contention twice including a Final Four appearance in 1980. Overall, Tarkanian has a 222-124 (647) postseason record (18-9 NCAA, 4-3 NIT).

A Storybook Season

One of Tarkanian’s most remarkable seasons was just two years ago in 1986-87 when the Scarlet and Gray reached storybook heights in Las Vegas. Another masterpiece for the Rembrant of collegiate coaches, the Rebels finished the season with a record 27-2. UNLV also went two losses shy of reaching the NCAA Final Four. With a Western Regional championship and a semifinal loss to eventual national champion Indiana, the Rebels captured the hearts and imaginations of new fans nationwide. UNLV won a fifth consecutive PCAA regular season title along the way with an unprecedented 20+ record, and claimed their fourth PCAA postseason title in five seasons.

Owning the Big West

If his success at the national level can be considered commendable, his success at the conference level can be looked upon as nothing short of astounding! Under Tarkanian’s reign, UNLV has won six consecutive PCAA regular season championships, including an unprecedented, undefeated campaign (18-0) in 1986-87, and a six-year conference mark of 97-5. In short, Tarkanian has won 713 games, an average of 26.4 wins per season.

Tarkanian’s winning percentage for his 27-year career is an amazing .844 (713-130). He has failed to win 30+ games in a season only twice in 27 years. Overall, Tarkanian has only three times have Tarkanian-led teams lost 10 or more games.

King of the Big West

Tarkanian is the winningest coach in conference history with a ten-year regular season conference record of 136-13. He was 404-14 in four seasons at Long Beach State, and 97-5 after six seasons at UNLV.

Tarkanian has three wins shy of becoming the first coach in conference history to reach 300 league victories at the same school.

He has nine regular-season conference championships and one Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year award at UNLV (1986-87). He also holds an invitation to the prestigious People-to-People Sports Conference.

What we Ask about us the Most

Tarkanian trademark — Tark’s Towel. The towel dates back to Jerry Tarkanian’s coaching days at Redlands High School in 1960 when, during a league championship game against Ramona High School, Coach sought a simpler way to quench his thirst. Rather than continue walking to the fountain at the end of the court, Tarkanian soaked a towel with water, wrapped it around his neck and used it whenever he needed a drink. Needless to say, he continued chugging the game away to overtime, and a tradition had been established.

“I just got sick and tired of running to and from the drinking fountain in the middle of the game, so I grabbed a towel, soaked it in water, and carried it back to the bench. We won the game and the championship, and since I’m not one to change when something works, I’ve stuck with the towel ever since. I guess I believe in lucky charms.”

Actually, there are two towels now. The one on top is soaked in nothing more than tap water, and a dry one on the bottom is used simply to keep the top one from sitting on the floor. The towel is wadded and folded into five folds, by a designated student-manager who has learned the folding technique from a predecessor.

The towels are handed to Coach Tarkanian as he enters the court at pre-game.

BUCKET PACES REBELS
UNLV junior David Butler was the main reason the Rebels defeated 17th-ranked N.C. State Sunday in Raleigh, but Sunday wasn't the only day the 6-10 center has shined recently. At N.C. State, Butler hit nine of 13 from the floor and totalled 21 points and seven rebounds. He also led the Rebels in scoring against Cal State Fullerton (11 from the floor, 21 points) and UC Santa Barbara (nine for 12, 26 points, 11 boards).

CSF SNAPPING COLD SPELLS
At 11-10, Cal State Fullerton is only one victory shy of last year's total (12-17) with at least seven games still to play. The Titans' current three-game winning streak has snapped some cold spells against their victims. . . . CSF's win over UC Santa Barbara on Feb. 4 broke a five-game losing streak vs. the Gauchos, and Thursday's victory over UNLV snapped a 15-game losing streak vs. the Titans. Fullerton's winning streak vs. UNLV also was snapped. The Titans had won their last six games over the Rebels, and the victory at Irvine was the Titans' first in six years against the Rebels.

Fullerton's Williams named Big West player of the Week
Wayne Williams, who scored the winning baskets in the Titans' victories over UNLV and UC Irvine last week, has been selected as the Big West Conference Player of the Week.

A MESSAGE FROM UNLV PRESIDENT DR. ROBERT C. MAXSON

Dear Friends of UNLV:

Once again I’d like to welcome you to the Thomas and Mack Center for an exciting season of college basketball.

Coach Tarkanian and his men have prepared for another season of the run-and-gun play that has become the hallmark of the Rebels for many seasons now. And, as the quality and expectations of play have increased in the thirty years of Rebel basketball, so have the quality and expectations of the academic side of our institution.

We enrolled almost 15,000 students this fall, which set another attendance record for UNLV. Not only are our numbers growing, but the quality of our students is increasing as well. We have now enrolled over 100 valedictorians from Nevada’s high schools over the past four years. All of this growth will bring us another bumper crop of professors over the next biennium. Their presence, along with the extraordinary facility we can already boast of, will serve to enhance the high level of learning that takes place daily on our campus. As a major Ph.D. granting university, we have now taken our place alongside the premier academic institutions in the nation.

UNLV is indeed young, proud, and growing. It is also a university that will settle for being nothing less than first rate. We appreciate the support you have given us in our quest.

Have a good year!

Sincerely,

Robert C. Maxson

THE RUNNIN’ REBEL COACHING STAFF

TIM GRGURICH
Assistant Coach

Ron Ganulin
Assistant Coach

Howie Landa
Part-Time Assistant Coach

Tim Grigurich begins his ninth season with the Runnin’ Rebels coaching staff. As Tarkian’s right-hand man, Grigurich adds a tremendous amount of coaching expertise to the Runnin’ Rebel program. A graduate of Central Catholic High School in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Grigurich earned three letters in both basketball and baseball. He then attended the University of Pittsburgh and was a three-year letter-winner in both basketball and baseball. While playing for Pitt, the Panthers appeared in one NCAA tournament and one NIT tournament, reaching the quarter-finals each time.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: Grigurich began his collegiate coaching career as an assistant coach at his Alma Mater, the University of Pittsburgh. Serving as the assistant coach for the Panthers for 11 seasons, Grigurich also coached Pitt’s freshman basketball team and tallied an impressive 99-33 record. He was appointed head coach of the Panthers in 1975 and tallied a five-year record of 71-70. Grigurich compiled a 52-30 mark his last three seasons at Pitt. As head coach, he guided the Panthers to two NIT tournament appearances. He also recruited and coached All-American Billy Knight, recently retired following a long NBA career. Grigurich earned numerous coaching awards at Pitt, including Pittsburgh Basketball Writers Coach of the Year in 1975-76, 1977-78 and 1978-79.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of birth is 6-11-44. Alma Mater is the University of Pittsburgh, 1966. Grigurich also earned a masters degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1966. He is married to the former Kathy Kinley and has two children, Jennifer (14) and Susan (10).

Ron Ganulin joined the UNLV staff last year after a successful coaching career in the east coast. Ganulin’s contributions are on both the offensive and defensive sides of the ball, as well as coordinating the recruiting program.

A graduate of Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn, NY, Ganulin attended Long Island University where he earned a bachelor of science degree in health and physical education. At LIU he helped the Blackbirds to three straight NCAA Division II tournaments. His 1967 club lost in the semi-finals to eventual national champion Winston-Salem, which was led by Earl Monroe.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: Ganulin served two years as an assistant coach at Old Dominion University before coming to UNLV. Prior to his term at ODU, Ganulin served on Bob Dukiet’s coaching staff at Mercer CC in Trenton, New Jersey for twenty years, encompassing a 25-year span. At Mercer CC he compiled a 464-162 win/loss record. He had two national championship teams in 1973 and 1974 and was named national junior college coach of the year three times.

In college, Landa was an All-American basketball player and was on the NCAA All-Star team in 1962. He played professional basketball for both Sunbury and Hazleton of the Eastern Pro League for six years.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: Landa served as head coach at Mercer City College for twenty years, encompassing a 25-year span. At Mercer City he compiled a 80-74 win/loss record. He had two national championship teams in 1973 and 1974 and was named national junior college coach of the year three times, and was twice runner-up. He coached junior college player of the year Bob Sobot (who went on to Pepperdine) and 1972 player of the year Melvin Wajon (who then played at Boston College) and 1973 player of the year Connie White (Cal).

In 1975 Landa coached in Italy in the Class A league and in 1976 in the Eastern Pro League, where he was named coach of the year.

In 1982 he coached the New Jersey Generals of the women’s pro league, with Ann Meyers.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Landa is a 1965 graduate of Lebanon Valley College (Philadelphia area). His wife, Darlene, is a schoolteacher, and they have two daughters, Robin (24) and Davide (20). He is a major speaker for Nike and is one of Nike’s most popular speakers.
ATHLETIC-ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Runnin' Rebels' academic progress is monitored by a fine staff of academic counselors. The basketball unit is headed by athletic academic consultant Mike Alsup, who is assisted by Shelley Fischer. The Rebels were very proud to welcome back former Runnin' Rebel Sidney Green of the New York Knicks, who completed his degree requirements during the off-season and graduated this past spring (photo, top left). Current Rebel Travis Bice (top right) receives an award as one of UNLV's top student athletes at the annual Awards Luncheon in May. Another Rebel success story was Armon Gilliam (left), now of the Phoenix Suns, who graduated with his class in 1987.
Coach Jerry Tarkanian shared his birthday this past summer with some 1,500 children from the City of Las Vegas at a giant birthday party held at Wet 'N Wild, a local water park. The children, who presented Tarkanian with giant hand-made birthday cards, were treated to a massive birthday cake designed by The Caterers of Las Vegas and each received a "Happy Birthday Tark" t-shirt compliments of UNLV and NIKE, as well as a Tarkanian poster designed in cooperation with Letizia, Lewis Advertising. For those interested in numerology, Tarkanian was 58 years of age on August 8th (8-8-88). In the photos (top left) Tark greets a young fan; (bottom right) there was enough cake to feed all of Las Vegas; (top left) Coach and master of ceremonies Steve Fox accept a giant card; (bottom left) the UNLV cheerleaders lead the singing of "Happy Birthday."

Sports is a great equalizer, bringing people from every walk of life to the common cause of team support. We support and encourage teams all over the state in the belief that good sportsmanship and fair play help maintain the quality of life we have come to treasure in Nevada.

First Interstate Bank
MEMBER FDIC
FULL NAME: Jerry Tarkanian
DATE OF BIRTH: August 30, 1930
WIFE: The former Lois Huter
CHILDREN: Pamela (King), Jodie, Danny, George. One grandchild (Justine Rose King)
HOMETOWN: Euclid, Ohio
ALMA MATER: Fresno State University, '55
POST GRADUATE: Redlands University
TARKANIAN AT UNLV: Jerry Tarkanian was hired as UNLV's head basketball coach on March 23, 1973, replacing John Bayer. The 1987-88 season will be his 16th at UNLV and his 28th as a collegiate coach.

OVERALL COACHING EXPERIENCE: Head coach at San Joaquin Memorial High School in Fresno, CA (1956-57)... Head coach at Antelope Valley High School in Lancaster, CA (1958)... Head coach at Redlands High School in Redlands, CA (1959-60)... Head coach at Riverside City College in Riverside, CA (1961-68)... Head coach at Pasadena City College in Pasadena, CA (1966-68)... Head coach at Long Beach State University in Long Beach, CA (1963-73)... Head coach at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas in Las Vegas, NV (1973-present).

Born, Raised and Educated
A native of Euclid, Ohio, Jerry Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State University in 1955. He proceeded to earn his master's degree with honors in educational management from Redlands University.

Tarkanian has been recognized by the university for his community efforts, being named Assistant Athletic Director with designated duties as Director of Community Relations in 1982. He was promoted during the summer of 1988 to his post as Senior Assistant Athletic Director.

Still Going Strong
From his passion with pressure defenses to his obsession with towel-chewing, Jerry Tarkanian has indeed compiled remarkable statistics in his lengthy tenure as a college head coach. Twenty-seven years is a very long time to do one thing, let alone do it well. Needless to say, Jerry Tarkanian has done it.

THE NEXT GENERATION — The year was 1964 (above left) back in the Riverside City College days. Coach Tarkanian sits with Danny (then two old years old) and George (seven months) while Lois is with Pamela (six) and Jodie (four). Today (right) the Tarkanian family welcomed the first grandchild, Justine Rose King, born 8/24/88. The Tarkanian children (left to right) Danny, Jodie, Pamela (Mrs. Erik King) and George have varied careers. Pamela has a master's degree and is a teacher in a counseling based program for emotionally disturbed children in the Clark County School District; Jodie is an intensive care nurse; George is in a doctoral program in political science; and Danny recently graduated magna cum laude from San Diego Law School and is practicing law in Las Vegas.

Automobile dealers in Las Vegas are contributing a large measure of help to the UNLV Athletic Program with membership in the UNLV C.A.R.S. (Courtesy Auto Resource System) Ltd., program—the loan of the courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of Rebel booster activities, this project enables the UNLV Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers have earned a debt of gratitude from the Rebel Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "Team" that helps make UNLV athletics so successful.

REBELS ON THE RADIO

Rebel Radio Sports, of Roughrider Broadcast Associates will once again produce Rebel basketball on the radio. The Rebels will be heard on KDWN Radio, 720 AM. The 50,000 watts of power brings Rebel basketball to fans throughout 11 western states and parts of British Columbia and Mexico. Calling the action for the Rebels is nationally acclaimed announcer, Ross Porter, who is also a voice of the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

Denny Hovanec, former Rebel assistant coach and current assistant coach for the World Basketball League Champions Las Vegas Silver Streaks is in his third season as Rebel color analyst.

Rebel broadcasts are a five-hour package with the game preceded by “Rebel Basketball Talk” a ½ hour show hosted by Lee Pete and Mark Warkentien. Rebel Talk will be broadcast live from the Thomas and Mack prior to home games and from KDWN studios will feature call-in lines for Rebel fans to call in with questions.

The Rebel pre-game show features Ross Porter one-half hour prior to tip-off. Following the game will be a half-hour post-game show.

REBELS ON TV

On July 1, 1988, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association marked the beginning of the league's twenty-fifth year by changing its name to the Big West Conference. The new name is seen as a simpler, more accurate description of the league's 12 member institutions. In its 25 years of existence, the conference has expanded to include universities from states which are not on or near the Pacific Coast (Utah, Nevada and New Mexico). Because of this expansion, the new name will serve to better identify all of the conference's member institutions.

Through 19 years of existence, the Big West Conference has made numerous positive strides in intercollegiate athletics. Recent highlights of the league's success include the 1987 NCAA basketball championships, when, for the first time ever, the conference had a representative in each of the men's (UNLV) and women's (Long Beach State) Final Four. Last season, three of the league's men's basketball teams (UNLV, Utah State and UC Santa Barbara) were invited to the NCAA Regionals - the most ever for the conference.

Another first occurred in the spring of 1988, when three conference baseball teams (Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State and UNLV) received bids to the NCAA Regionals, with Cal State Fullerton and UNLV being selected as host sites.

Stacey Augmon, a senior forward, was selected as the conference's Most Valuable Player for the second consecutive season. He was also named to the All-District Team and the All-PCAA Team. Augmon, who averaged 19.3 points and 6.7 rebounds per game, led the Rebels to a 28-5 record and a share of the conference title.

The University Library Society Invites You To Support Academics & Athletics During

Love Your University Library Month - February 1989

The James R. Dickinson Library is situated in the center of the Academic Mall and houses a collection of over a million research items which includes a half million books. It serves not only the campus, but also the Las Vegas community by providing the quality academic collections essential for the diverse activities of a vital, growing urban region. A public library card can be used to borrow items from UNLV's Library.

The University Library Society is the support group which is helping to build the research collection into the intellectual resource needed to sustain a major urban university. Its current project is a twenty thousand dollar yearly gift to build the backfile collection of research journals in all academic fields. The Society has designated February as a time to assist the university library in its growth toward excellence. Library friends will host and sponsor a variety of activities throughout the month in an effort to raise funds and memberships. In addition, the Society sponsors a weekly book sale during the academic year. Call 739-3286 if you have books to donate. Please join with the University Library Society to help create another acclaimed Southern Nevada resource.

Marta Sorkin, Library Staff member, Stacey Augmon, Rebel Basketball player and Shirley Hurt, ULS member are looking forward to the Love Your Library Month and the upcoming reception.

Voted "Best of Las Vegas" - Las Vegas Review Journal
The University of Nevada, Las Vegas, is a young, growing institution that is making significant progress toward its goal of becoming one of the nation's leading urban universities. With a faculty of approximately 400, some 75 percent of whom hold doctorates, UNLV offers 64 undergraduate and 50 graduate degree programs to a student population that in the fall of 1988 reached almost 15,000, a record enrollment.

UNLV's 335-acre campus is located in the metropolitan area south of the City of Las Vegas. Its academic colleges include Arts and Letters; Business and Economics; Education; Health Sciences; Hotel Administration; Science and Mathematics, and Engineering. The School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation is housed in the school of education.

Although the University is now only three decades old, it has maintained a healthy rate of growth, both in programs and physical plant. In 1987 the Nevada Legislature appropriated $14.7 million for construction of the 101,000-square-foot Thomas T. Beam Engineering Complex, named for one of UNLV's most generous donors. When the new complex opens in 1988, it will house the Engineering College, which was formed in 1987 as a means of strengthening the engineering and computer science programs. The college and the engineering complex are major steps forward in the University's effort to provide strong programs in the technological higher education. Four new dormitories, a student-life building, a Student Health Service Building, and a new Public Safety Building were all constructed in 1988.

The recently established Honors Program and the Margaret Elardi Nevada Scholars Program have helped the University attract many academically outstanding new students. Thanks to a substantial donation from Mrs. Margaret Elardi, the Nevada Scholars Program offers scholarships to valedictorians to enroll at UNLV. More than 100 valedictorians from Nevada high schools registered at UNLV in the fall of 1988.

In addition to its regular academic programs, UNLV offers more than 600 classes through its Division of Continuing Education, which enrolls 16,000 students annually.

The University operates an on-campus Center for Business and Economic Research, Center for Economic Education, Center for Applied Computer Science, Environmental Research Center (in cooperation with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency).

UNLV Campus Facts

- Total enrollment: 15,000
- Average class size: 30
- Average student age: 25
- Male students: 48%
- Female students: 52%
- Full-time faculty/staff: 1,031
- Faculty with doctorates: 73%
- Undergraduate majors: 64
- Graduate majors: 58
- Total 1987 graduates: 1,307
- Undergraduate per-credit fee: $40
- Graduate per-credit fee: $50
- Campus founded: 1957

Desert Biology Research Center, Center for Survey Research, and other research and public-service centers.

With its Performing Arts Center, the campus is the cultural hub of Southern Nevada. The Master Series of concerts by world-class orchestras and soloists, Nevada Dance Theatre and Contemporary Dance Theatre, and the Department of Theatre Arts combine with other University and community art organizations to provide a broad selection of concerts and stage productions. The Barrick Lecture Series and several campus groups bring noted speakers to the University, and local and visiting artists show their works in Donna Beam Fine Arts Gallery.

The university has excellent sports facilities that are open to students and the general public. The Paul C. McDermott Physical Education Center has lighted tennis courts, playing fields, a 50-meter Olympic swimming pool, gymnastics, handball/racquetball courts, dance studios, and weight-training rooms, and a full-size track.

Other points of interest on campus include:

- Museum of Natural History - Permanent and traveling exhibits illustrate the biology, geology, and archaeology of the Southwest. Open daily, free admission. Call 739-3381.
- Donna Beam Fine Arts Gallery - Exhibits by faculty and invited artists, with an emphasis on modern art. Located in Alta Ham Fine Arts Building. Open weekdays, free.
- James R. Dicknace Library - Total holdings of 1.4 million items, including more than 485 books and bound journals. The Special Collections Department contains a world-renowned collection of gaming materials.
- The Flashlight - A 38-foot-tall, 74,000-pound steel sculpture by internationally known artist Claes Oldenburg stands on the plaza between Artemus W. Ham Concert Hall and Judy Bayley Theater, at the north end of the campus's Academic Mall.
- Azium and Aviary - A lush garden and bird sanctuary in the lobby of Lutheran White Life Sciences Building, open weekdays.
- Thomas and Mack Center - The 18,500-seat sports arena and special events facility, home of the UNLV Runnin' Rebels.
- UNLV operates an intercollegiate sports team, and is a member of the Western Athletic Conference, the Western Division of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, and many programs have received further accreditation from independent national accrediting bodies.

THE COACHES: UNLV head coach Jerry Tarkanian is in his 21st year of coaching at the major college level and is the winningest active coach by percentage with a career record of 517-112 (822). In his 16 years at UNLV, Tark has posted a record of 491-65 (84%). Totals are heading into next Saturday's game against NMSU. Overall he is 392-105 in 16+ seasons.

Long Beach State head coach Joe Harrington is in his 2nd year at Long Beach and has posted a record of 28-23 heading into next season's. Although he is 154-122 in 9+ seasons, he is 107-11 (.907) in those six years at Long Beach making him the first coach in conference history to hit the century mark in wins at the same school. In six years at UNLV, his conference mark stands at 107-11. In ten years overall, Tark's ledger is 146-15 (907).

HOME, SWEET HOME...: With the win over UC Santa Barbara, the Runnin' Rebels have begun a new winning streak at the Thomas & Mack Center. Now in their sixth year at the "Shark Tank," the Runnin' Rebels have posted an overall record of 83-6 (.933) in their fabled arena.

Greg Anthony makes a quick stop into the laps of the Rebel stat crew.

UNLV RECORD: The Runnin' Rebels raised their record to 16-6 on the season with a 89-80 win over North Carolina State last Sunday. David Butler scored 21 points and grabbed seven rebounds in the win over the 17th-ranked Wolfpack, which snapped NC State's 17-game home winning streak. In Big West Conference action, UNLV is now 10-2 and in sole possession of first place.

BIG WEST KING: UNLV Head Coach Jerry Tarkanian has literally owned the Big West. Already the only coach to win 100 or more conference games overall (at Long Beach State and UNLV), he initiated an even more dominant of his conference mark stands at 107-11 (.907) in those six plus seasons. In addition, UNLV has won the conference tournament in four of those six years.

NEXT UP: Following the San Jose State, Temple, and Long Beach games, UNLV closes out the home portion of its season with a February 23 game against Fresno State. The Rebels play their remaining four games on the road including games at LSU, and UC Santa Barbara (Feb. 25) and UC Santa Barbara (Feb. 27).

With these two games, the Rebels say "good-bye" to announcer Ross Porter (pictured here with UNLV baseball coach Fred Dallimore). Ross will be joining the Los Angeles Dodgers at spring training in Vero Beach next week.

UNLV-THE BEST IN THE BIG WEST: Although this is the first season that the old "NCAA" has been renamed the Big West Conference, the Runnin' Rebels have dominated the league since joining it in the 1982-83 season. The Rebels have captured all six league championships and have posted a regular season mark of 107-11 (.907) in those six plus seasons. In addition, UNLV has won the conference tournament in four of those six years.

...AND SOUR FOR OPPONENTS: in an NCAA poll administered prior to the season, the Thomas & Mack Center was ranked in a tie for third place as the toughest place to play college basketball among Division I schools. Duke was considered the toughest place while Kentucky took second place honors. In a four-way tie for third place was North Carolina, New Mexico, Syracuse and UNLV as selected by Division I head coaches.

NEXT UP: Following the San Jose State, Temple, and Long Beach games, UNLV closes out the home portion of its season with a February 23 game against Fresno State. The Rebels play their remaining four games on the road including games at Louisiana State (Feb. 25) and UC Santa Barbara (Feb. 27).

AVIS, A COMPANY THAT TRIES HARDER, IS PROUD TO SUPPORT A TEAM THAT MAKES IT LOOK EASY.

Giving of our selves enthusiastically is our trademark. In a phrase, we try harder.

It's this code of ethics that winning teams are made of. But we're not telling you Rebels anything you don't know. What you may not know about is our low weekend rates (so low, in fact, they make Avis something of a rebel of rent-a-cars). They're yours for the asking at any four convenient Avis locations: the Las Vegas International Airport, Caesars Palace, Las Vegas Hilton and Bally's Grand Hotel.

Call us locally at (702) 333-3321, or toll free from Southern California and out-of-state at (800) 333-3321. It's just one more way trying harder makes it easier on you.

Lori Brotherson could have played for the Lady Rebels' next opponent but that would have been easy.

Instead, last year's Review-Journal Female Athlete of the Year out of Virgin Valley High decided to accept the Eirani scholarship at UNLV for high school valedictorians and walk on to the Lady Rebels Top 20 program.

"You really have to give her credit," UNLV Coach Jim Bolla said. "She showed up for all of the pre-season conditioning. She has no allegiance to UNLV other than pride. When she gets into the games, she never shoots because she'd rather pass the ball."

"When I talked to her early in the year she said this was the hardest she's ever worked academically or athletically. She's doing a great job at both. When she plays, she's happy about it and when she's on the bench, she cheers.

"She's the kind of person you want on your team.

At UNLV, she's a freshman who averaged 3.6 minutes in nine games. She's the 17th-ranked Lady Rebels that are 18-3 overall and 9-3 in the Big West. She'll get a look at where she could have gone in Cedar City, Utah, at Western."

"I came here because I got a really good academic scholarship," Brotherson said. "I didn't like the idea of going somewhere where it's freezing and I liked the idea of coming to Las Vegas because it's warmer and not that far from home."

So far Brotherson has been up to the challenge. Having five brothers around the court, Brotherson said she has made the adjustment and has her priorities in order.

"The first semester was a hard adjustment here," Brotherson said. "All the required reading, tests and lectures were a shock. Study hall really helped a lot. My hardest class was psychology, which had 300 people in it."

On the court, Brotherson said she really didn't know what to expect.

"I just want to get into the flow more and hopefully next year I'll play more," Brotherson said. "The coach knows what he's doing, just look at his record. We'll just have to see what happens."

Brotherson never expected to start and candidly believes she deserves her fate.

"The difference between college and high school is that everyone here can play. You don't have to worry about players not being able to catch and throw," — Lori Brotherson

Quotes:

"The difference (between college and high school) is that everyone here can play. You don't have to worry about players not being able to catch and throw." — Lori Brotherson

No longer the star, Brotherson says she has made the adjustment and has her priorities in order.

"The first semester was a hard adjustment here," Brotherson said. "All the required reading, tests and lectures were a shock. Study hall really helped a lot. My hardest class was psychology, which had 300 people in it."

On the court, Brotherson said she really didn't know what to expect.

DO Donovan Osborne: UNLV's Top Gun

Sophomore hurler Donovan Osborne already has established himself as one of the finest lefthanders in the country... thus far in 1989 he is 3-0 with a 1.57 ERA... Here is more on UNLV's "TOP GUN":

- Osborne's career high 14 strikeouts (in eight innings) last Friday vs. BYU was the most by a Rebel pitcher since Greg Hissance tied the school record with 15 vs. Nebraska in 1986.
- Osborne's previous career high was 13 vs. San Jose State last season in 8.1 innings... Osborne's 14 strikeouts, plus one by ninth inning reliever Chance Gledhill, tied the school record for team strikeouts.
- After allowing three straight singles to load the bases with one out in the seventh against BYU, Osborne slammed the door with five straight K's over the 7th & 8th innings before leaving due to a high pitch count (130).
- Osborne's victory over 22nd-ranked BYU was his eighth straight win in as many decisions including his last five in 1988...
- "Veterans" of the "Osborne Express" were 98 College World Series participants Fresno State and Cal State Fullerton, plus regional foe Evansville, and WAC power New Mexico on the road earlier this season...
- Since his streak began (9 games with no decision vs. UCLA), Osborne is 8-0 with a 1.33 ERA, only 19 walks, and a 3.57 K's/Walk ratio...
- Osborne tied the school record with 14 K's vs. BYU Friday vs. UNLV.
- Osborne's 14 K's was the most by a Rebel in eight innings since 1977 (Austin)...
- Osborne has not walked more than one batter in any of his nine starts...
- Osborne's one of just five freshmen or sophomores in the country to earn recognition among Baseball America's "Pre-Season Top 30 Pitchers".
- Osborne is the only lefthander on the list that is not eligible for the 1989 major league draft.
- He was a Freshman All-America pick by Baseball America in 1988...
- Osborne was an honorable mention all-conference pick in the Big West Conference which sent seven of nine all-conference pitchers to NCAA post-season play...
- He finished the 1988 campaign with a 10-4 record, 4.24 ERA, and UNLV freshman records for wins and strikeouts (94).

Bart Pippenger, the 20-year-old two-time NCAA champion, surprised himself. He had career-best times in the 200 butterfly (1:56.24), with the U.S. record Melvin Stewart's 1:57.50. The world record in the 200 is 1:56.24, and in the 200 butterfly, he swam the prelim (55.10) as hard as he could. During the final he was third at 50 meters, making a move that even he found surprising. "I don't know what happened, but I just kicked it in," he said. He finished tied for first with Jim Harvey.

Pippenger said he cruised in the 200 prelim, then took dead aim at his goal of 1:56.59. He was in line for it too, until losing some of his concentration down the stretch. He won, but he got out of the water a little disappointed. "I was under my goal at the first 50 and a half-second under at 100," he said. "I had a strong third quarter and was way under, then in the last 50 I started looking around too much and it cost me some time. You're taught not to look around but I did, and I breathed every time I came up."

The failure to hit his goal seems secondary. The fact of the matter is that Pippenger has become one of the country's leading collegiate swimmers. And, like all who battle opponents and a clock, he wonders how good he can become. "I'm still trying to find that out," he said. "It's a great feeling to be improving. You wouldn't want to keep working and not be dropping time."

"Having my best times at Indianapolis only makes me want to go harder."

ASK SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
Five years brings "Something for Everyone"

It's difficult to imagine a Runnin' Rebel game without a sell-out crowd. Despite the natural inclination of many loyal Runnin' Rebel fans to give their first-born to attend a game, the UNLV Runnin' Rebels continued to fill the Center to capacity, with 6,000 fans cheering every home game. The fans were ecstatic when two prominent Nevada bankers, E. Parry Thomas and Jerome Mack, set up the building to bring basketball to Las Vegas.

The Thomas & Mack Center

Thomas & Mack Center: November/December '88 marks Fifth Anniversary

The Center is centered around one type of event — college basketball. Coach Jerry Tarkanian was happy and satisfied.

"We have something for everyone," says Dennis Finfrock, executive director of the Center. "Shows like Sesame Street Live, big-time wrestling, professional rodeo, top-name rock concerts, NBA exhibition games — every year the number and diversity of our events increases.

"As the Center celebrates five years, it looks back on the many diverse attractions it has provided Las Vegas. Centers have become as popular as athletic events. Some local favorites who have performed at the Center include Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Diana Ross for the sold-out grand opening held on Dec. 16, 1983; and touring shows such as Pavarotti, the Boston Pops, Genesis, yes, Van Halen, Elton John, Billy Joel, U2, Lionel Richie, Rod Stewart, Hank Williams Jr., Kenny Rogers, Dolly Parton and Waylon Jennings have also played the Center.

The National Finals Rodeo (formerly held in Oklahoma City) has found a new home at the Center. Known as the "Super Bowl of Rodeo," this annual event has spurred a great boost to the once-sagging December Las Vegas economy.

Family-style entertainment has also grown at the Center. Every year the event attendance grows. "Sesame Street Live," with the UNLV Runnin' Rebels on their home court at the Las Vegas Convention Center, is a sell-out event every year.

TMC FACTS & STATS

- Maximum seating capacity is 19,522 (boxing).
- Height from floor to ceiling is 104 feet.
- Lionel Richie drew the largest concert attendance — 15,102.
- The very first event was held on November 21, 1983, featuring the UNLV Runnin' Rebels vs. Victoria, Canada.
- The gala grand opening was held on December 16, 1983, featuring Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Diana Ross.
- The largest attendance at an event was 20,573 at a UNLV Runnin' Rebels vs. Navy game.
- The Center is cooled by 1,175 tons of air conditioning.

"Our goal in everything we do for the building is to make it more convenient for the promoter and more pleasant for the guests who attend our events."

Enthusiastic about the Rebel's prospects, Head Coach Emeritus Michael "Chub" Drakulich said, "It's a tremendous day for UNLV, but you don't have anything without a win. We've got some guys that have done great and continues to progress. We've got some guys that can play."

UNLV finished 14th strokes behind Oklahoma State, the nation's top-ranked team, and six behind defending tournament champion Arizona State. The Rebels must have a tremendous fall and show a lot of individuals with Hub Goyen and Darin Osborn in a three-way tie for third place. As an endowed bonus, the Rebels had the highest finish of any Big West team and gain bragging rights at the conference standings. UNLV will be back in the Rebel Classic next year.

"We've had a tremendous fall and I couldn't ask for more," said Knight. "Today we got it going on the front side and had a chance to win, but then fell off a bit. It's one thing to get in a position and another to keep going, so that will give us something to play with."

Among the contenders, UNLV had the youngest team, with three freshmen, a sophomore and a junior in the lineup.

Established to Perpetuate Academic and Athletic Excellence at UNLV

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas Department of Intercollegiate Athletics fields fourteen men and women's athletic programs that compete at the NCAA Division I level. It is our goal to produce national contenders in every one of these programs. In intercollegiate athletics, there is a high correlation between winning and budgetary expenditures. In order to reach our goal of academic and athletic excellence it is necessary to generate sufficient revenue to produce and maintain these high caliber programs.

The UNLV Scholarship Donor Fund (currently including over 2,000 individuals and corporations) provides a major portion of the scholarship and recruiting budgets of the athletic programs at the University. This financial base provides descriptive student-athletes with the opportunity to develop and grow through intercollegiate competition at the highest level. It is necessary, though, to generate additional revenue through the UNLV Rebel Athletic Club in order to supplement the UNLV Scholarship Donor Fund.

★ New Member Incentive

It is the goal of the UNLV Department of Intercollegiate Athletics that every participant in the Scholarship Donor Program eventually join the growing ranks of the Rebel Athletic Club. Therefore, any first-year member of the Club will receive a $150 credit if they pledge a minimum contribution at the $500/Associate Coach level.

Please call or visit John Peterson at the Athletic Development for additional information about the Rebel Athletic Club please write or call:

Rebel Athletics Enjoy Another Banner Year

Spearheaded once again by the tremendous success of the Runnin' Rebel basketball team, UNLV athletics prospered in the 1987-88 season with seven of fourteen sports being represented in national post-season championships.

The '86-'87 basketball season saw the Runnin' Rebels claim their fourth NCAA championship in the last six years UNLV has been in the conference. UNLV posted victories over the Soviet National Team, then unbeaten and eventual number one-ranked Temple, Louisiana State, and several others while climbing as high as number 2 on the Associated Press Poll.

Barry Barto was selected as one of the twenty-two All-American honorees in 1987-88. The Rebel soccer team rolled to its fourth NCAA championship in the five years the league has existed with a 8-2-0 league record, 14-5-0 overall. The team was ranked as high as eighth in the nation by Soccer News as a result of its opening round game of the NCAA Soccer Championship tournament. Eddie Anibal, Shawn Ritchie, and Jeff Wale all earned All-PCAA first team honors. Wale was also chosen PCAA-Cross Country Male Athlete of the Year, while head coach Barry Barto was selected PCAA Coach of the Year. Junior Simon Koth was honored with the Stan Gibilisco "True Cit" Award by the Dapper Dan Club of Phoenix, P.A., as the nation's most courageous athlete.

UNLV's Lady Rebel basketball team clinched their season with a 23-9 mark and their fifth consecutive appearance in the PCAA Tournament Championship. The Lady Rebels won their last 14-4 in conference-play, finished second in the PCAA championship, behind the University of Southern California. The 1988-89 season will mark the third consecutive year UNLV has sent a basketball team to the NCAA post-season play.

The Rebel Swimming contingent sent three swimmers to NCAA competition resulting in eleven All-Americans and the highest finish ever by a Rebel men's swimmer. Sophomore Bart Pippenger set new standards in the Rebel swimming, placing his name among the national elite in the 100 and 200 Butterfly. Pippenger led the nation early in the year in the 200 Fly and finished fourth for All-American honors at the NCAA Championships. Freshman Kenny Meyers captured a fifth place NCAA finish in the 400 Individual Medley while fellow senior Barbara Fleisher garnered honorable mention All-America accolades with a 16-place finish in the 100 Backstroke. Rebel men's and women's squads each finished second in the PCAA and 27th and 21st nationally. Pippenger and Meyers were each named PCAA Swimmer of the Year.

The Washoe Rebel baseball team returned to NCAA post-season play for the first time since 1984, finishing the season with a 40-22 record and wins over nationally ranked foes from Georgia Tech, Oklahoma, Wichita State, Oklahoma State, Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State, and UCLA. The Rebels captured national attention as the only team to defeat then-No. 1 ranked Oklahoma State through the first two months of the season, and later established itself as the nation's only club to play all three "number ones," leading credit to their claim at one of the strongest schedules in the nation. Head Coach Fred Dialmonee eclipsed a coaching milestone with his 500th career victory and six players were named to PCAA all-conference teams. Dave Starbuckt and Scott Lewis were drafted by the California Angels. Layne Lambert and Donovan Osborne were named to the All-West Region First Team All-American team.

Rounding out the Rebel sports season was the women's track program which sent four athletes to NCAA competition. The Lady Rebels' 440 Relay Team consisting of Twyla Davis, Gretchen Jim, Carrie Frankland, and Cheryl Cheeks earned All-America honors by finishing eighth in the NCAA Finals. They are the fourth UNLV relay team to earn All-America status since 1977.

Other Rebel highlights from the 1987-88 athletic year:

- The football team brought prestige to the UNLV as the first team, led by "Elbert" fellow Woods, became the first UNLV and PCAA running back to lead the nation in Division 1 rushing. Woods brought national exposure to the Rebel football program as he rambled his way to the nation's 5th rushing leader with 1,659 yards. He established UNLV records with three consecutive 200-yard games and nine games of 100 yards or more. Woods became UNLV's highest drafted football player when he was chosen the NFL's 31st pick overall, the 3rd pick of the second round—by the Cincinnati Bengals.
- The Rebel tennis teams showed signs of the future in 1988. With no seniors on the roster, UNLV was poised to improve dramatically on their seventh place finish in the PCAA Championships.
- The Swingin' Rebel Golf team, under the mentorship of Jerry Tarkanian, finished the year ranked 69th in the nation for singles while conference Tani Angels, a freshman from Las Vegas, was ranked 94th. UNLV peaked in the NCAA Championships, finishing a strong second as a team.
- The men's tennis team tied for the nation's best in 1988. With no seniors on the squad, UNLV is poised to improve dramatically on their seventh place finish in the PCAA Championships.
- The Swingin' Rebel Golf team, under the guidance of first-year head coach Dwaine Knight, improved steadily throughout the year. Senior Kevin Pedigo reached his first NCAA Championship round in the NCAA Championship tournament. The team finished second in the U.S. International University Tournament, its best finish in recent memory.
- Lady Rebel softball player Mary Gentosi, a senior from Rays, KS, earned All-West Region First Team and all-PCAA First Team honors after leading the team in hits, runs scored, and times hit by pitch. Gary Lue Turley, a senior from Mesa, AZ, also earned All-PCAA First Team honors while Tammy Bahle, a junior from Boulder City, NV, earned all-PCAA Second Team and All-West Region Second Team honors.

JIM BOLLA - HEAD COACH

In his seventh season in at least a shared head coaching capacity at UNLV, Jim Bolla continues his quest to make Nevada, Las Vegas a national power in the world of women's basketball. The 1988-89 season marks Bolla's first as sole head coach after sharing duties with his wife, Sheila Strike-Bolla, for the past six years. It is in his eighth year at the University, landing UNLV in 1981 as an assistant coach under then head coach Sheila Strike. Through six years as head coach, Bolla enters the season with a 142-43 record.

Mission Accomplished

By Tom Flagg

By the time UNLV's Hospitality Research and Development Center completes its three-year, $653,000 educational development contract in the Dominican Republic in April, it will have made great strides in helping build the hotel administration program at the Universidad Catolica Madre y Maestra (UCMM), according to Vincent Eade, former chief-of-party.

The project has been so successful, in fact, that it has been extended eight months beyond its original April cut-off date.

Eade, a lecturer in UNLV's William F. Harrah College of Hotel Administration, worked in virtually every aspect of the hotel business before coming to UNLV, where he specializes in teaching labor relations.

He spent the 1987-88 academic year at UCMM's three campuses in the Dominican Republic, where he oversaw work on the contract between the UNLV's hotel college, UCMM, and the United States Agency for International Development.

USAID selected UNLV's hotel program from among competing institutions around the nation to boost tourism in the Dominican Republic, according to Vincent Eade, former chief-of-party.

"We would do advance publicity to the hotels and restaurants, and let them know that USAID, UNLV, and UCMM would be doing a seminar on, say, food purchasing," Eade explained.

UNLV faculty members who visited UCMM typically gave a seminar to Domingo in English, with simultaneous translation. Then they would go on to the university's Puerto Plata campus and repeat the class.

Faculty member Patricia Shuks, for instance, taught a seminar on group business at UCMM. Donald Bell led a class on dining room service and beverage control. Al Izzi taught food production. Lyell Metcalf lectured on financial management, and Frank Bosarski gave a seminar on energy management.

Faculty members Henry Melton, David Christianson, John Stanefski, Bob Martin, and Leslie Cummings also presented seminars.

"I thought the interest that the people had was very good," said Bob Martin, who gave a two-day seminar on hotel housekeeping at Puerto Plata to some 65 people. "They seemed extremely interested in fact, they drove long distances to get to the seminar.

UNLV faculty contributed more than their teaching abilities to the project, Charles Levinson, for instance, designed a new food and beverage training laboratory, which was built on the Santo Domingo campus.

Bob Martin and Betsy Bender Pederson designed a front desk/bookkeeping training lab for the same campus. Martin also prepared some management cases and put together a program on front office management.

Seminar attendees include people from the top and middle management, students, government officials who are involved in tourism, and members of professional associations in the hospitality field.

"The experience was that, the more practical the approach, the better," Eade said.

"The typical attending was looking for solutions right now. They'd say, 'I need to back to my restaurant to fix a problem. Help me.' They'd want to know how to compete, yield or redesign their menu, or set a food cost.

Dominican students are interested in the work that is done in the United States, but ultimately, American systems have little practical application," Eade said.

"As we did these seminars, we became more efficient in identifying the type of subject matter that was needed down there, to the point where we got very slick with a lot of hand-outs they could take back and refer to later," Eade said.

"We found it to be anywhere from novices — because the industry is growing so fast that they had promoted the first person they could get — to some very knowledgeable people with European training and background in the hotel industry.

In any case, participants greatly appreciated the information they received in the seminars. Eade said.

The Hospitality Research and Development Center worked with UCMM faculty to improve specific aspects of the Dominican institution's program. For instance, Nancy Master, reference librarian in UNLV's James R. Dickinson Library, analyzed library resources for the hotel/hospitality program at UCMM. She produced a report on the proper selection of books, periodicals, and audiovisual materials that the UCMM library should add to its collection.

Ultimately, UNLV provided a list of some 2,000 recommended items.

Visiting faculty members from UNLV met one-on-one with UCMM instructors who needed help in specific areas. Such individual attention helped bring UCMM faculty up to certain skill levels quickly, Eade explained.

The UNLV party designed a computer program for UCMM faculty by identifying hospitality industry training seminars in the United States where faculty members could receive immediate information.

A long-term aspect of the faculty development program involves five UCMM graduate students who are doing their degree work in the hotel administration program at UNLV. They are under contract to return to UNLV to teach for four years after they receive their degrees.

Eade believes UNLV faculty also have benefited from the federally funded project.

"I think it was categorically a great learning experience for the UNLV faculty who went down to UCMM," he said. "This opportunity to analyze the operation of a university outside the United States, a developing, third world country, was extremely interesting and educational.

Eade likened the project to a laboratory situation.

"I used to do a comparison between Las Vegas and the Dominican Republic, and there's an obvious market for tourism in the Dominican Republic, and it is booming; tourism is now number one industry, so it is ours; they have a major in hotel program developing, as we have here...

"It was a rewarding experience for me to see that, here was our federal government buying education rather than bullets," he said.

"I think the project will make a contribution in the long run — the physical facilities, the training facilities at the university, the American presence in a non-military way. I think that's important.

The Hospitality Research and Development Center is directed by Dr. Alan Stuts, associate professor of hotel administration. The UCMM program was the first large project undertaken by the center.
