There is not a stronger, nor more influential group supporting a college athletic program than UNLV's own University Rebels Club. Growing right along with the program over the past 20 years, the Club continues to be the driving force behind booster support for the3-aport, UNLV intercollegiate athletic program. The membership now continues to grow as the driving force behind the most prominent in the entire intercollegiate athletic world in America.

This past spring, the Club culminated its greatest fund-raising drive ever, bringing in over $6 million for the second straight year to support the grant-in-aid program for Rebel athletics. This total once again is one of the greatest fund-raising drive ever, bringing in more than double the organization and the ramrod the Rebels and the UNLV athletic program.

The following is a list of UNLV alumni and friends who have been instrumental in the success of the UNLV Rebels Club over the years, as well as those who continue to help support the program.

The honorary list of UNLV alumni who have been most influential in the success of the Rebels includes the following:

Dr. Donald Baepler; Gil & Donna Baker; Renny Ashleman; Ashley's Boat Travel & Tours; Aladdi n Hotel; George Anello; Dr. Joel Alterwitz-Walker Furniture; American Business Machines; American Printing Co.; American Tour & Travel; Don Allan; Arden Gobe; Richard W. Brandz; Don Burton.

The following list includes those who have helped support the program through their financial contributions:

Ray Anderson; Walter E. JERRY TARKANIAN
HEAD COACH

UNLV Runnin’ Rebels basketball has come on a long, long way in a relatively short time. It wouldn’t have advanced to the NCAA finals and the NCAA playoffs and been rated in the top 20 three of the past four seasons if it hadn’t been for Jerry Tarkanian, the magician behind the UNLV basketball success story.

Jerry Tarkanian is, after all, the winningest active college basketball coach in America. After 10 seasons as a major college coach, Tarkanian has compiled a record of 322-24 for a winning percentage of .926. Last season UNLV won 15 straight games to open the season but stumbled a bit ending with only a .500 record. For Tarkanian, however, it was the same old story a team he has coached ever lost and he recruting was a number one priority on his check list following the season.

UNLV won the Western Regional Championship during the 1976-77 season and finished with the third place trophy in the NCAA Finals in Atlanta, Georgia. In March of 1977, to get there, the Runnin’ Rebels established 14 NCAA single-game single-season and tournament records. In the playoffs, UNLV defeated the University of San Francisco, 121-95, the University of Utah, 86-63, and Indiana State, 107-90 to capture the Western Regional.

Then UNLV lost a heartbreaker, 64-63, to the University of North Carolina, but had 100 points and 100 percent of the crowd back and defeated the University of North Carolina-Charlotte, 166-94, for the consolation title of the 1977 NCAA Finals.

After that historic 1976-77 season, UNLV finished fourth in the final Associated Press poll, sixth as the United Press International Poll and third in the Basketball Weekly poll.

In 1975-76, UNLV won its first 23 games, then lost to 29-2 with a lofty third place rating in the Associated Press poll.

Winning is a fact of life for Jerry Tarkanian, on the court and off. In 20 years of coaching in the collegiate, high school and junior college ranks, the five-year Runnin’ Rebel head coach has known nothing but unparalleled success.

In 10 seasons as a major college coach, his teams have appeared in seven NCAA post-season tournaments in addition to his being the winningest active major college coach. UNLV, all under Tarkanian, has a .733 record in major college NCAA playoffs.

What is really amazing is that Tarkanian NEVER lost a home game while coaching at Long Beach State prior to coming to UNLV in 1972. His other teams were 65 straight home games in the campus gym and Long Beach area, culminating with a nationally televised impressive 106-74 victory over Marquette.

At UNLV, Tarkanian’s troops have been notably as impressive as an 84-4 record in five season in the Las Vegas Convension Center, including a 72-game streak at one point, which is the longest in recent NCAA history.

In Rebel game nights, the otherwise statutory convention hall is turned into a mass of frenzied lights explosions which quickly works the crowd into a frenzy — and that’s why a prominently placed sign welcomes visitors with: “Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank.”

The only two teams who dare to defeat the Runnin’ Rebels in the 1976-77 season were Texas Tech, 82-76, and the University of Houston, 75-72. The Runnin’ Rebels averaged the Houston loss in 1976, beating the Cougars in the championship round of the Holiday Classic, 116-92.

Last season, the University of New Mexico snapped UNLV’s 72-game win streak with a 102-98 win and Portland State also thinned the Runnin’ Rebels by a RM4 score.

Sellout crowds have become traditional at Tarkanian’s arena. In the Rebels’ 10 seasons in the West Coast Athletic Conference with Tarkanian, UNLV did not lose a home game in 1444 nights. UNLV has now withdrawn from the WCAA and has membership pending with the president’s council to join the West Coast Athletic Conference. In five seasons under Tarkanian, UNLV is 15-18 on the road. In NCAA playoff action after the 1976-77 season, the Rebels played in a sub-regional game on the campus of Arizona State University in Phoenix, Arizona, 84-41, in the NCAA Regional tournament in Phoenix, Oregon, the Runnin’ Rebels were narrowly defeated by Arizona State, 84-41, but bounced back to capture the consolation title by defeating a favored University of Montana team, 74-62.

Following the 1976-77 campaign, the Runnin’ Rebels restructured and defeated Boise State, 103-78, in a sub-regional game played at the campus of the University of Oregon in Eugene. Then the Runnin’ Rebels were knocked out of the race for the national championship, losing to the University of Arizona, 114-109, in overtime, at fabled Pauley Pavilion on the UCLA campus.

Before Long Beach State, where Tarkanian’s coaching reputation first drew national acclaim, he spent seven seasons in the junior college ranks at Riverside and Pasadena City College.

At Riverside (1962-64), he had a .31.9 overall record, which included three consecutive state championships and four league titles in five years. No other junior college coach in the history of California basketball has achieved those heights. At Pasadena (1964-66), Tarkanian was 87-4, and tagged fourth state title while finishing in the runner-up spot 10 other times.

An astonishing feature of his win is that they have been accomplished at schools which had never previously won a basketball championship. Riverside was last in its conference for two consecutive years before Tarkanian. Pasadena was last in its conference the previous year; Long Beach State had never won a championship and UNLV had never finished higher than fourth in the WCAA.

The outstanding coach started his coaching career with five years in high schools, San Juan Memorial, Antelope Valley and Rodlands.

Regarded as one of the great recruiters in the college game nights, the other- wise stately hall is turned into a frenzy — and that’s why a prominently placed sign welcomes visitors with: “Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank.”

nothing less than excellence from his players, both on and off the court. In addition to a nationally-recognized basketball program for UNLV, Tarkanian has developed a tutorial program for his players that has paid high dividends.

UNLV attempts to emphasize equally the importance of academic achievements in addition to basketball to all student athletes.

Evidence of his strong belief in academics was his selection as "Professor of the Year" in 1970 by the students of Long Beach State. He was also honored as the "Father of the Year" in 1966 by Riverside County for his "guidance and care on and off the court of all the young men under his tutelage, as well as by his family of four."

Tarkanian's players have gone on to play in professional basketball. They include: Chuck Terry (Houston Rockets); Eric McGraw (Houston Rockets); George Trapp (Detroit Pistons); Bob Rule (Cleveland Cavaliers); Ed Ratlef (Houston Rockets); John Q. Trapp (Los Angeles Lakers); Glenn MacDonald (Boston Celtics) and Leonard Gray (Indiana Pacers).

Glenn MacDonald, a native of Euclid, Ohio, Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Redlands University in 1960.

Tarkanian and his attractive and equally-involved wife, Lois, reside with their four children - Pamela, Jodie, Danny and George Jr. - in their sparkling Las Vegas home in the Charleston Heights area of town.

With Tarkanian's tradition and colorful insignia, invitations for him to speak at clinics and banquets arrive almost daily. He will average nearly one per week during the off season, sending him virtually all over the country.

Following the 1976-77 season, Tarkanian was selected by the Medalist Industry as the "College Coach of the Year."

This past summer, Tarkanian put his first crack as an associate director for a new movie which is entitled "The Fish that Saved Pittsburgh," and stars Julie Dr. T. living.

Las Vegas is one of the most unique cities in the world, one which sees losers every day.

Las Vegas was named the "Best City to Play for" in the nation by the National Association of Collegiate Men's Basketball Coaches. No one has ever been drafted by the NBA, in- cluding at least one every year and a NCAA and professional basketball record of six following the 1976-77 season.

An intense individual, Dak has coached in Ecuador for the People-to-people Sports Committee and, in April and May of 1968, he coached the junior college Olympic Team in the Olympic Trials.

In 5 years as the UNLV head coach, 14 players have been drafted by the NBA, including at least one each year and a NCAA and professional basketball record of six following the 1976-77 season.

ROLEX REPORT

Ralph Readout, Assistant Coach

Ralph Readout returns for his fifth season as an assistant basketball coach under Jerry Tarkanian.

This exuberant coach has 14 years of head coaching experience at the prep level in Ohio, where he established winning programs at four schools.

He has an extensive background in many fields, having earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Ohio University in 1959, and his Master of Arts degree in Educational Administration from Ohio State University in 1961. Readout attended Ohio University on a scholastic scholarship and graduated with honors from Ohio State's graduate school.

Tark's assistant is an intense and enthusiastic coach with keen insights into the learning process and psychological applications of coaching. His approach to basketball coaching is firmly based on psychological motivation and his contributions to the success of UNLV's basketball teams have been very significant.

He has a great relationship with the Runnin' Rebel players and has the innate ability to communicate on all levels with those with whom he is associated.

He has pioneered the di-cut, Stick technique this season at UNLV. During practice sessions and pre-practice warm-ups, he works with the UNLV big men by waving a plastic baseball bat in front of their shooting plane to help them let loose of the ball over even the tallest of opponents.

He was quite an athlete at Ohio University; he played not only basketball, but baseball as well, he was a three-year letterman and was elected captain of his basketball team.

He first came to UNLV in 1973 and served as an assistant football coach for one season under Ron Meyer (who is now the head coach at Southern Methodist University), working with the defensive secondary.

Developing a new coaching pattern each season he has been at UNLV, Readout has returned his hairstyle to the "crew cut" which he says, will help bring back the "good old days when players weren't afraid of taking a chance."

Readout and his wife, Dottie, are thoroughly enamored with the Las Vegas environment.

ROLEX

ON DANCE FLOOR OR OCEAN FLOOR, ACTIVISTS CHOOSE ROLEX.

You fly high, live free, and dive deep. You're an activist. An innovator. You are involved. Your wristwatch, of course, is Rolex. Like this tough, timely Submariner-Dive, with its 30-jewel chronometer movement, housed in an Oyster case of solid 18kt. gold or surgical stainless steel, guaranteed pressure-proof down to 660 feet.
Earl "The Pearl" is back for his senior season to weave some more magic for the Runnin' Rebels. What was USC's loss two years ago when he transferred has certainly been UNLV's gain.

After siting out a very tough year in 1976-77 when UNLV was 29-3 and advancing to the NCAA finals in Atlanta, Earl was just waiting his turn. Well, he gets his first hour upon the stage last season and he made the best of his every scene.

His act was hard to top, especially when you consider that the defection of former center Larry Smith to the NBA, forced Evans (a natural forward) to play center, a position which is not best-suited for his talents.

Rebel head coach Jerry Tarkanian has said many times that Earl Evans can be one of the finest forwards in the country and this year it appears that "The Pearl" is going to get his chance to show his real stuff.

Playing out of position for him last year could have foiled most UNLV fans as his statistics nullified the best centers in major college basketball. Posting up "down under," Earl still averaged 15.6 points per game, fourth highest on the team and led the Runnin' Rebels in rebounding with a very good 10.2 boards per game.

The silky-smooth master of the dunk, fast-break and fall-away jumper virtually won several games for UNLV last season with his versatile play.

His season high was 32 points in the final UNLV home game of the season, a double-overtime thrilling victory over St. Mary's (100-96) in a game which he went into overtime in the first place after hitting a 48-footer overhand shot at the buzzer.

In the 26 games he played for UNLV last season he scored 20 or more points on nine occasions, including one hot streak near the end of the season wherein he scored 23, 24, and 25 points in consecutive games, getting 15, 19, and 16 rebounds in the respective games.

Against St. Mary's, the powerhouse played 47 minutes out of the possible 50, making 13 of 21 field goal attempts and six of eight free throws for his season high 32 points.

In the other Runnin' Rebel double overtime victory of 1977-78 against Utah, which UNLV won 104-103, "The Pearl" labored through 48 minutes, making 10 of 17 field goals, seven of 10 free throws, for 27 points and pulling down 16 rebounds. In all last season, he was in double figures in rebounding in 15 of 26 games with a season high of 19 against Portland State. His best overall night may have been against Iowa, however, in the championship game of the Rebel Roundup where his 23 points led UNLV to a 85-84 life-match victory. He made 11 of 13 from the field, one of three free throws and hauled 11 rebounds off the boards.

Earl was a prep All-America player and the 1974 Texas Prep Player-of-the-Year for Lincoln High in Fort Worth, Texas. UNLV knows how good Texas super prep can be as former UNLV All-America Eddie Owens (the all-time UNLV scoring champ) was the 1973 Texas Prep Player-of-the-Year.

Coached by Lemes Smith in high school, Evans played in both the Kentucky All-American and the Scamco Classic for seniors.

Evans lettered two seasons for USC, averaging 14 points per game as a sophomore before transferring to UNLV.

He can surely do all those "little" things like run, jump, shoot, hustle, and play the big D. Those things which have made Runnin' Rebel basketball so popular across the country.

He can do them so well in fact that the UNLV basketball coaching staff has selected Earl and fellow senior Tony Smith as the UNLV co-captains for 1978-79.

There are 17 buffets in Las Vegas, but only one!

Silver Slipper Buffet

“There are 17 major buffet offerings in Las Vegas and many offer Rogers some of the finest in town. Some offer a little more, some offer a little less, but none will deliver the wide array of dining delights that the Silver Slipper buffet offers. Most buffets offer roast beef, baked chicken and a salad bar. And that’s really just about all you get at the Silver Slipper. You choose from succulent roast beef, chicken and a wide variety of other gourmet entrees. Our chefs change the menu from day to day and choose from the delicious, multi-choice salad bar and mouth-watering pastries from the Silver Slipper’s creative kitchens.

Like the song says, there must be 50 ways to love our buffets! That’s right, 50 different main entrees are served throughout the week and never fewer than eight on a given day. That’s minimum. And sometimes there are 10 or 12 different items to choose from. But we’re not done. Our pastry chef backs up the Silver Slipper leather with his own creations. Our chefs and bakers work together to provide unique, delicious creations and unique flavor combinations.

We even have our own ice cream and gelato. And our pastries are the best in the city. We’re proud of our chefs and bakers and we’re proud of our menu. We’re proud of our pastries and we’re proud of our chefs. And we’re proud of our menu. We’re proud of our chefs and bakers and we’re proud of our menu.

When only the best will do... it’s your Silver Slipper Buffet.

Dr. Brock Dixon, vice president for administration, has been acting president of UNLV since April when Dr. Donald Baeppler was named Chancellor of the University of Nevada System.

Dr. Dixon joined the administrative staff as dean of administration in 1971, becoming vice president in 1974. He was unanimously appointed by the Board of Regents as acting president.

He continues to keep the fast-paced style set by Chancellor Baeppler and brings to the office a comprehensive and expert knowledge of public administration.

A political scientist, Dr. Dixon specializes in local government, public law and political theory. He continues to teach courses in the political science department.

Before coming to UNLV, he was provost and dean in the College of Arts and Sciences at Pacific University in Forest Grove, Oregon, from 1968 to 1971. From 1949 to 1968 he taught and held various administrative positions at Portland State College.

His experience there included professor of political science, chairman of the political science department, assistant to the dean of faculty and dean of administration.

He received his Ph.D. in 1957 from the University of Southern California. His doctoral dissertation is titled "Governing the Suburban Fringe of Portland, Oregon."

He was awarded the MA from the University of Oregon in 1949 and the AB from Pacific College in Newberg, Oregon, in 1939.

Research projects and articles on various administrative topics have appeared in several professional journals, and he has written numerous book reviews for Western Political Quarterly.

Memberships in professional organizations include the American Political Science Association, American Society for Public Administration, University Council for Citizenship Education, Western Political Science Association and Society for College and University Planning.

Dr. Dixon was the organizer and first president of the Columbian Research Institute, a non-profit corporation specializing in research in regional political and economic problems. He has been active since 1942 in the Naval Reserve and is now a commander, USNR, retired.

From 1972 to 1977 he served on the Nevada Statewide Training Advisory Committee, and for three years was a member of the Board of Trustees for Nevada Family, a halfway house for drug addicts.

Born in Huron, S.D., the 60-year-old administrator began his career in education in 1939 as a secondary school teacher.

In addition to serving in the U.S. Naval Reserve from 1944-46, he was an officer for the U.S. Internal Revenue Service from 1942-1948.
THE REBELS ARE NUMBER 1 WITH US

By Dominic Clark
UNLV Sports Information Director

After one day's rest, the UNLV Runnin' Rebels are back at it again here on Monday night and although it may turn out to be a rather physical game, there should be no other resemblance to Monday Night Football. Well, maybe just one other. No, Howard Cosell isn't here, but former Washington Redskins All-Pro quarterback Sonny Jurgensen is the television announcer for the University of Maryland who is visiting the friendly Las Vegas Convention Center tonight.

As of Saturday night's titanic against the University of San Francisco wasn't enough to drain all of your emotions and energy, the Terrapins of colorful coach Charlie "Lefty" Driesell are making their first trip to Las Vegas.

Last year, UNLV began the season with Maryland. After losing at the half and much of the second half as well, the Terps finally woke up and tore apart the Rebels by a 81-68 score in Cove Fieldhouse on the College Park campus.

If nothing else than Bill Cartwright and Wallace Bryant wasn't enough, now Larr Evans and Brian Vroman will be getting friendly with 6-9 senior Larry Gibson and super star 6-6 sophomores Albert King, one of the most highly sought-after pros two years ago from Brooklyn, New York.

This won't be King's first visit to Las Vegas as he played here in the Basketball Congress International All-Star game and came here two springs ago on a recruiting visit.

Maryland has been long on talent and is used to winning, both at home and on the road in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference. Despite knocking off the Runnin' Rebels last year, the Terps opened their season with a resounding 19-13. In nine years at Maryland, Lefty Driesell has won 180 games, despite playing in one of the toughest basketball leagues in the country.

Mr. Driesell was not a losing season at Maryland and put together a string of five consecutive 20 plus victory seasons from 1971-72 through the 1975-76 season. This visit, the talented Terps opened their season with a resounding home win over Bucknell (107-87).

Last Tuesday, they played Georgetown in the Capital Centre in Washington, D.C. and while UNLV was justing about with San Francisco on Saturday, Maryland was having a tussle with the #1 Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

Maryland has three returning starters in sophomore guard Greg Manning, Gibson and King.

The other two probable starters for Maryland are both freshmen, 6-4 guard Randal Jackson (no relation to the Yankee heir) and 6-6 "Buck" Williams. The two main subs for the Terps are sophomore 6-7 Ernest Cream and 6-6 freshman "Dutch" Moody.

Tonight's battle is yet another on the absolute toughest schedule the Runnin' Rebels have faced. Fortunately for the home folks, the games are in the friendly confines of the Las Vegas Convention Center, where Talk's troops have been known to pull some gummy, first-class magic out of the old basketball hat.

Las Vegas is known worldwide as an entertainment capital. But there is another side of the city which is gaining national recognition each year. The University of Nevada, Las Vegas is one of the country's fastest-growing institutions of higher learning. UNLV is the hub of a new Las Vegas which adds another dimension to an already diverse and unique city.

Founded in 1967, UNLV is now the state's largest university with a total headcount enrollment of more than 9,000. Many of the university's academic programs already are well known across the nation.

To accommodate the increasing enrollment, UNLV has undertaken a massive construction program which has brought more than $25 million worth of new buildings to the campus in just the past five years.

These include one of the most modern teacher education facilities in the country, a major classroom and office building, a 1,000-seat drama theatre, a physical education complex complete with a 50-meter indoor swimming pool, a new laboratory and classrooms in the life science, and a spacious 2,000-seat concert hall which serve as a cultural home for the entire community.

The next major project is a $7 million addition to the James Dickinson Library. Ground is expected to be broken about two years later. With nearly a third of a million volumes, the current three-story library has just about reached its capacity.

A generous gift from local attorney and businessman Artemus W. Hans, Jr., has provided seed money for a new fine arts building. It is the largest single private contribution the university has ever received for a building project.

The $10.9 million facility is included in the university's 1979-83 capital improvement request to the legislature. The center will house teaching, research and studio facilities for the departments of theatre arts, music, and art.

Because it has become such an exciting place to live and teach, the university has been able to attract some of the brightest young professors in the country.

There are more than 300 faculty on the UNLV campus. They come from distinguished centers of learning — Berkeley, Harvard, Chicago, Princeton — and through their research and publications, they are earning a fine academic reputation for UNLV in circles of higher education.

There are currently 66 different degree programs available to students, including almost two dozen at the master's and doctoral levels.

The College of Hotel Administration, for example, ranks among the finest programs of its type in the United States, and its graduates hold top management positions in hotels, restaurants and hospitals the world over.

The university's reputation, in the sciences is growing, too, as it carries out research projects in such fields as desert ecology, environmental biology and geology, taking full advantage of its unique Southwestern desert setting.

The UNLV theatre arts department continues to earn regional and national awards for its outstanding dramatic productions, and music students are now earning credits playing behind the superstars of show business on the Las Vegas Strip.

UNLV's student Jazz Ensemble recently was named the second best college jazz group in the world in competition in Switzerland. The group just returned from a critically acclaimed tour of the Orient.

The university also has a progressive teacher education program, a growing nursing department and solid preparation of students in the social sciences, the humanities, business and economics.

The future is bright for UNLV as it completes its 21st year of service to Nevada through its program of teaching, research and public service. Because it has become such an exciting place to live and teach, the university has been able to attract some of the brightest young professors in the country.

The Las Vegas Convention Center — Home of the Runnin’ Rebels

UNLV plays all of its home games on one of the finest hardwood court arenas in the country — the 4,352-seat Las Vegas Convention Center rotunda. Capacity crowds cheer the Rebels in comfort in theater-type cushioned seats. Ample parking is available at the conveniently located facility, one mile east of the fabulous Las Vegas "Strip.

Rather homey with its limited seating capacity, UNLV enjoys playing in its home facility and established an all-time record by winning 77 straight games before being defeated by the University of New Mexico on Jan. 7, 1978, by a 102-98 score. Under head coach Jerry Tarkanian, the Runnin’ Rebels have raced up and down the court for an impressive 84-4 record in the Convention Center the past five seasons against regular NCAA competition. This year, UNLV will play 18 games in the boisterous facility.

The sign hunger ominously over the rotunda floor reads, "Welcome to Tark’s Shark Tank." It would more appropriately read, "Enter at your own risk." After the filming of the multi-colored spotlights in the darkened arena to herald the introduction of the local favorites, the fireworks really begin. It is the Convention Center were the Runnin’ Rebels earned their expanded nickname. During the 1974-75, 1975-76, and 1976-77 seasons, the Runnin’ Rebels faced the Rebels did not lose a home game. In 1976-77, UNLV played 19 home games, scoring 2,109 points for an average of 111.0 per game. The fast-moving fleet-footed eagles of the hardwood soared to 100 or more points in 16 of those 19 games and in a pre-season exhibition game against the National Team of the Republic of China, UNLV actually virtually sold out 174 points in a 45-minute game.

Like its renown counterparts on the "Strip", the Convention Center's "Showroom" has been virtually sold out for the past five years, with only very limited seating available for a few games. Producing the elaborate light shows during pre-game ceremonies again this season is long-time Rebel supporter, Art Rader.

Some visiting coaches have vowed to never again return to the site of their most humiliating defeat. Four opponents have actually left Las Vegas with more than just experience something that will remain with them the rest of their lives.

Staff Spotlight: Sherman Bennett

Another of the hard-working people behind the scenes of the UNLV athletic department is Sherman Bennett, in his sixth year as UNLV's first-ever ticket manager.

Arriving in Las Vegas in 1972, he was first a graduate assistant in the Rebel training room, earning his Master's degree in Physical Education from UNLV in 1973.

He came to Las Vegas from Syracuse, Utah, where he coached 10 years on the secondary level, six at Layton High School, just outside of Salt Lake City. He was head baseball coach and an assistant football coach at Layton, a school which twice played for the State AAAA Championships. On one occasion, Bennett's team was beaten in the final second by Skyline High and former Rebel All America Joe Ingersoll was a big part of that Skyline Championship team.

First attending college at Weber State on baseball and vocal music scholarships, he later transferred and earned his bachelor's degree from Utah State University. His musical career was, for several years, very promising. He played numerous leading roles in college musicals, has sung in the Chicago Opera House and the Salt Lake City Valley Music Hall. He has also sung on Utah television.

His interest in music and sports has long been with him. Along with his coaching duties, he directed the Layton High School Choir, and originated a singing group which performed all across the state of Utah, with several television appearances.

Since leaving Utah, he has also been involved with many youth groups, including the Boy Scouts of America and coaching in the Little League baseball program.

At UNLV, he has organized a very solid ticket office, working very closely with students of the university as well as the university business office.

He and his wife Susan have four children, three boys and one girl.

Our people bring you back.

At Albertsons, we've got a special way of doing business. We let each of our managers run their departments like they would their own little store. Because we know, that when it comes to serving you, there's no substitute for pride. So when one of our managers treats you like you're his very own customer, it's because you are. And that's why we're able to say, our low prices bring you in. But our people bring you back.
