SHEILA STRIKE
Head Coach
2nd Year at UNLV (12-12)
Career Record: 12-12

Sheila Strike took over the Lady Rebels shortly before the 80-81 season began. Most coaches facing similar circumstances would have been satisfied with the kind of year the Rebels had but not Coach Strike. Hired on relatively short notice, she had no chance to recruit and only a little time to become familiar with the players already on hand. Still, the Rebels pulled through a competitive schedule with a 12-12 record.

"Not to discount last year, but we feel we are really beginning here. All the people who will be on our roster will be there because we choose them to be and that is a real plus for any coach." The number of scholarship athletes has doubled from 5 to 10, and although the schedule appears tougher than last year, optimism is high for a big improvement on that 12-12 mark.

UNLV is Coach Strike's first position as a head coach. Prior to taking over the Lady Rebels she was an assistant in the Oregon Univ. Ducks for two years. She has also coached the girls' varsity at North Delta High School in Delta, British Columbia and the JV's at Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, British Columbia.

Coach Strike's coaching talents are an obvious exception to the old cliche, "Those who can't, teach." Throughout her undergraduate days she played on the Canadian National team and traveled across 4 continents facing the best players in the world. Stops included Moscow for the World Student Games, Mexico City for the Pan Am Games, the World Championships in Cali, Columbia, a tour to China, and several trips to Europe. She helped lead the Laurentian University team to the Canadian collegiate championship in 1974.

A native of Canada, Coach Strike received her B.A. from Laurentian (Sudbury, Ontario) in 1975, and has done post graduate work at Simon Fraser and the University of Oregon. She is expected to have her Masters of Science in Sociology of Sport and Athletic Administration shortly after the end of this season.

JIM BOLLA
Assistant Coach
1st Year at UNLV

Professional playing experience is brought to the Lady Rebel coaching staff by Assistant Jim Bolla. Jim spent a season with the Cannon team in Venice, Italy and later was a member of a team of American professionals who toured South America. His transition into the coaching profession took place at his alma-mater, the University of Pittsburgh.

Beginning as a graduate assistant for both the men's and women's programs at Pitt, Coach Bolla became the rebounding specialist for the Panthers. The results were impressive...at the end of the '79 season the Pitt men went #3 on the NCAA's rebounding charts and at the end of the '80 season the women were 7th according to the AIAW. He was a full-time assistant for the Pitt women's team before coming to UNLV.

Coach Bolla was captain for the Panthers in 1975 when they made the field for the NIT. The previous season he helped Pitt make the NCAA field. Like Coach Pence, Coach Bolla was a high school All-America while playing for Pittsburgh's Canfield High, the 1969 Pennsylvania state champions.

KEITH STARR
Assistant Coach
1st Year at UNLV

If the Lady Rebels needed a "Psych" coach, Dan Pence would be the man. One of the top players to come out of Phoenix, Arizona Central High School, Pence has spent the past 6 years exploring the sociological imbalance of gender roles. Particularly role conflicts still faced by 'female' athletes in our culture.

All this adds to his talents as a working coach, talents which were developed beginning as a player at the University of Southern California and then the University of Arizona.

Besides "in the gym" coaching responsibilities, Coach Pence is in charge of the Lady Rebels' recruiting for the western part of the country, a job which utilizes his sociological expertise as well as his basketball knowledge.

Keith Starr's bad luck may turn out to be very good luck for the Lady Rebels. A three-year veteran of the NBA, Starr is spending the 1981-82 season as a volunteer assistant for UNLV while undergoing a rehabilitation program for a troublesome knee. Alternating between guard and forward duties, his playing career Starr is concentrating on helping the Lady Rebel guards.

As a member of the Pitt varsity in the mid-70's, Starr helped the Panthers put together a 22-game winning streak during the 1973-74 season, the longest string of wins in the nation that year. The following season the team landed a spot in the N.I.T.

Professionally, Starr has played for the Chicago Bulls, L.A. Lakers, and Cleveland Cavaliers despite undergoing four knee operations. It was the last of those operations which required the rehabilitation program that eventually brought him to UNLV. Only 27, Starr will give the NBA another shot when his knee is ready to go.

Starr is a graduate of Quaker Valley H.S. in Leetsdale, PA and graduated from Pittsburgh with a degree in Economics.

DR. LEONARD GOODALL
President

Dr. Leonard "Pat" Goodall, UNLV's fourth president, stepped into the university's top administrative post in July 1979 arriving at a time when the university is perhaps on the brink of its greatest period of development. With an administrative background at three urban universities, he is especially suited to the job. Dr. Goodall comes to Las Vegas from the mid-west where he has served for eight years as Chancellor of the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Previously, he served successfully as associate dean of faculties and vice chancellor of the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

A specialist in the field of urban politics, Dr. Goodall predicts that higher education will flourish in the future in the nation's urban centers, especially in the Southwest where the population growth is greatest.

From 1962 to 1967, Dr. Goodall worked as assistant director and later as director of the Bureau of Government at Arizona State University.

DR. BRAD ROTHERMEL
Athletic Director

Dr. Bradley L. Rothermel was named UNLV athletic director March 1, 1981. The new athletic director had been at the University of West Virginia, Morgantown, for the past two years. Before that, he was assistant director of the athletic department at Kansas State University, and had earlier been with the athletic department at the University of Illinois, where he was also a graduate assistant in basketball and baseball.

Unofficially, Jackie Newton makes it her personal goal to see that the scholastic progress of the athletes and ensure they take full advantage of the educational opportunities available.

Newton received her Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1962 and then returned to the campus at Norman 13 years later and added a Master of Educa­ tion degree in counseling. While working on her Masters she served as a Financial Aid Counselor at Oklahoma and then, just prior to receiving her degree, became an Academic Counselor for UNLV. She remained in that position until coming to UNLV.

A mother of two teenage sons, Jackie has been very active in many civic and professional organizations including Big Brothers and the Urban League.

THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Nevada-Las Vegas moves into its second quarter-century of service amid the same kind of expansion and growth which marked the school's first 25 years. In 1957 UNLV was a single one-story building in the desert but now covers 335 acres with modern facilities for over 10,000 students.

In the fall of 1981 students were able to use a $7 million, four-story addition to the James Dickinson Library for the first time. Currently under construction is the $4.2 million Alta Ham fine arts building and the $9 million building which will be the new home of the College of Business Economics and the College of Hotel Administration. Ground has been broken for UNLV's new 18,000 seat basketball arena and completion is expected in 1983.

The university's academic drive is a reflection of Las Vegas itself, with nationally known programs for hotel administration, environmental biology and geology, and theatre arts. UNLV's progressive attitude shows through the teacher education program, a growing nursing program, and in all of the 63 different degree programs.

Every semester the top scholar-athletes are honored for maintaining a 3.0 GPA or better with special recognition for the man and woman with the highest GPA's. An academic counselor is available to insure athletes succeed in the classroom.

All UNLV athletics are based at the modern McDermott Complex, featuring two large gymnasiums, natatorium, weight rooms, racquetball courts, and locker rooms. In addition to superior facilities, UNLV maintains one of the most knowledgeable and best equipped sports medicine staffs in the country.

SEASON OUTLOOK 1981-82

Coach Sheila Strike's second team at UNLV is tall, quick, and ready to burn up the court with their exciting fast break offense which will more than live up to the reputation of the "Runnin' Rebels". The Rebels broke even during Coach Strike's first season with a 12-12 mark, won six games without players she had not recruited. Instead of only 5 scholarship athletes on the team last year, the Rebels will have 10 scholarship players for 1981-82 and the team will be more representative of the playing with Coach Strike likes to see. Of 13 players on the roster, 6 are guards, providing the kind of depth needed to keep the Rebels running their fast break the entire game.

All-America candidate Kathie Calloway returns for her senior season to lead the Lady Rebels. She is currently #5 on the team's all-time scoring chart with 699 points and should easily become #1 later in the season. She set the team's single game rebounding record last year with 24 against Louisiana State. Calloway and Junior guard Sonia Lykes could form a tough inside-outside combination this season. They will be the team's co-captains and are joined by Junior forward Judy Thomas as returning starters. Lykes led the team in assists last year with 137 and still carry a scoring average of 12.5 marks to 51%, shooting from the field. Thomas was the #3 rebounder last year and is the best free throw shooter (86%) among the returning regulars. The battle for playing time at the guard spot should produce a lot of talent for the Rebels with 4 freshmen, 2 juniors, and a sophomore all in the running. And "running" is the word. The Rebel's on-the-rip edge will come from quickness.

The tallest guard and brightest prospect among the newcomers is 5-10 Penny Welles, an exceptional transfer from Pittsburgh who plays a complete game on offense and defense. Other top new comers are expected to be 5-4 freshman Sheni Jennum who brings in a 23 point per game average from high school; and freshmen Michelle Barney who has good size at 5-8 and is a tough competitor. Senior Liz Melo gives the team needed experience.

Kathie Calloway will have something this year she didn't have a year ago, good relief help. The only 6-footer on the team last season, Calloway can look to other options at both forward and center. The addition of the 6-footers can expect to see some action at both forward and center. The regular season at home ends with Brigham Young on February 12 (men's doubleheader at the Convention Center) and the home finale on the 20th against Pepperdine. The final regular season game is at Wyoming March 5.

January will really be a test for the young Rebels with appearances in their own Las Vegas Classic and at UCLA's Nike Tournament. A tough road test to face DePaul, LSU, and New Orleans University is sandwiched in between the romneys.

Junior guard Tina Glover moved into the top spot of all-time Rebel assists leaders this season with 236 in 66 games (4.1 apg). In addition, Calloway's team high 360 rebounds (12.2 rpg) this year makes her the all-time Lady Rebel rebounder.

On the season, Ricks' team high 485 points (20.2 ppg) moved her into second place on the all-time scoring behind former UNLV great Debra Waddy. Ricks finished her Rebel career with 975 points in 64 games (15.1 ppg). Glover is third on that same list with 952 points in 66 games (13.8 ppg), and Calloway with 899 points in 81 games (11.0 ppg) is fifth.

In addition, the 1980-81 Lady Rebel set team records for highest field goal percentage (.437, 788 of 1776), most losses (12), most home losses (8), most road losses (4), and fewest road wins (2).
