LADY REBELS ON THE AIR

All 28 of UNLV's regular season games, and all post season action will be heard live this year on KREL Radio

(1260 AM) in Las Vegas.

Interestingly, KREL is a Spanish-speaking station, but as a public service to the community, it will break for all Lady Rebel games to be broadcast in English.

Broadcasting duties will be shared by KREL general manager and former Rebel broadcaster Bob Blum.

UNLV Assistant Sports Information Director Kevin Messenger, and former Lady Rebel, Karen Hall, who also assists with UNLV sports information duties.

1988-89 LADY REBEL OUTLOOK

Enthusiasm is ringing around the Lady Rebel basketball offices this fall and the anticipation is thick. A splendid cast of newcomers and returners, a head coaching change, and the most challenging schedule in years has Lady Rebel fans perched on the edges of their seats for an exciting season and hopes of another post-season playoff bid.

LAS VEGAS, NV — It is mid-July in the blistering heat of Las Vegas. The air-conditioned casinos are bustling, the local water park is raking in the dough, and the national pastime is alive and well. There is a faint sound of bouncing balls heard muffled through the walls of the UNLV gymnasium. Certainly there is not basketball being played in the dead of summer! In July? No way.

Closer examination, though, would uncover the truth behind this mystery. A look behind the ominous red doors reveals a scene that is not expected: a team of young ladies clad in scarlet and gray—dribbling, passing, and shooting basketballs with eager looks of enthusiasm. What was their motive—driving, passing, and shooting baskets with dedication to this game?

On a hot August day, with the temperatures continuing to soar past the century mark, their work was far from over. After all, there were headlines waiting to be made.

“Women’s Basketball: UNLV Basketball”

Other returners from last year’s 24-9 club that advanced to the Women’s National Invitation Tournament include: Shari Netzel and Shelly Ray. Redshirt sophomore Mandy Hannah jumps on board for the upcoming season to fill roles in as many as four positions. She joins highly touted newcomers Merlelynn Lange and Tammy Moore, who both will challenge for starting spots, and freshman Lori Brotherhood, who was heralded as the 1988 Nevada Female Athlete of the Year.

Head Coach Jim Bolla anticipates a banner season. “We want to be better than we were last year, and last year wasn’t bad. Our goals are to win the league and go to the NCAA Tournament.”

Not bad is right. Led by all America candidate Pauline Jordan’s 16.4 points and 8.7 rebounds, UNLV ranked as high as 12th by USA Today, played in their fifth consecutive conference championship game, and won 20 games for the sixth straight season.

And that is what has prompted these Lady Rebels to work harder still. It has been three years (1986) since UNLV has earned an NCAA berth, and the Lady Rebels figure they deserve another chance.

“We want to be better than we were last year, and last year wasn’t bad. Our goals are to win the league and go to the NCAA Tournament.”

“One of the things we were really excited about with several of our players,” says Bolla, “is that they made a commitment to staying here during the summer to work out, lift weights, and play. They’re doing what’s necessary for us to take that next step. win the league and go to the NCAA playoffs.”

A big key for the Lady Rebels in 1988-89 will be the play of Mandy Hannah, Shelly stay, and Tammy Moore. Hannah and Ray will fill positions at forward in hopes of strengthening a UNLV weakness last year, and Moore’s performance will go a long way in replacing departed point guard Karen Hall.

“We were forced to move Geannine to the ‘three’ last year, or go to a three-guard lineup” said Bolla. “The three guards were real effective, but that meant our two big people had to play real well, and we didn’t get real good play inside late in the year.”

Overall, UNLV looks for this year’s club to be as athletic as any in the past. The additions of Hannah, Lange, Moore, and the maturity of Ballenger, Lander, and Staley should enable the Lady Rebels to operate a much more diversified attack, both quicker and bigger than a year ago.

Guard: A major concern for the Lady Rebels is the loss of two-year all-conference guard Karen Hall. DeNise Ballenger, Vicki Lander, and Linda Staley all return with K. newcomer Tammy Moore expected to challenge strongly for the vacant point position. A pure point guard and a first team KC and Kodak All-American, Moore will be given consideration for the starting role with Lander or Staley. Ballenger, the team’s second leading scorer a year ago (13.2), will likely ease into the “two” or off-guard position. Mandy Hannah could see spot time at either guard position also.

Says Bolla, “I think we’ll be pretty solid there. We’ve plugged a big hole, and we’re looking now to make the position even stronger.”

Forward/Center: The front line for UNLV should be stronger as well with the additions of Merlelynn Lange and Mandy Hannah. Geannine and Pauline Jordan both return as key players inside, with fellow returners Kim Crawford, Shari Netzel, and Shelly Ray, and freshman Lori Brotherhood poised to bid for time at both forward spots. With ample development from Brotherson, Lange, and Hannah, UNLV should be at least two-deep at each frontline position. The center position will be held by Lange or either of the two Jordans. At strong forward, look for one of the the Jordan Twins, Brotherson, Crawford, or Hannah. Any of six players could see time at the small forward including Brotherson, Crawford, Hannah, Geannine Jordan, Netzel, and Ray.

Says Bolla, “Our frontline is going to be considerably stronger than it’s been in the past. The addition of Merlelynn Lange is going to be a big asset to our program, and her 6-foot-6 size will complement Geannine and Pauline inside very well. It is Kim Crawford and Shari Netzel’s senior year, and I think the addition of a healthy Shelly Ray is going to make a tremendous difference for us.”

Alas, a reporter’s burning questions had been answered, and the reasons for those muffled sounds of balls bouncing at UNLV were known. They were Lady Rebels, and while the temperatures continued to soar past the century mark, their work was far from over. After all, there were headlines waiting to be made.
JIM BOLLA - HEAD COACH

Entering his seventh season in at least a shared head coaching capacity at UNLV, Jim Bolla continues his quest to make Nevada, Las Vegas a national power in the world of women's basketball. The 1984-85 season marked Bolla's first as sole head coach after sharing duties with his wife, Sheila Striker-Bolla, for the past six years. It is his eighth year at the university, landing at UNLV in 1981 as an assistant coach under then-head coach Sheila Striker. For Bolla though, achieving goals is not a new strategic coaching scene. It is more a way of life. As a prepster, he did not pick up a basketball until the age of 15, however he developed into one of the most highly sought after players in the state of Pennsylvania. As a collegiate player, Bolla and his freshmen teammates vowed to take their team to a tournament in their senior year. They went to Pittsburgh as a junior. The achievements continue to grow for Bolla in his most recent year. Bolla's assist coaching days began naturally following a successful high school and college playing career, beginning at Carnegie High School in Pittsburgh. During his senior campaign, Canavin amassed a perfect 24-0 record complete with a Pennsylvania state championship. Canavin earned all-state and all-america honors, and a spot in Pittsburgh's prestigious Dapper Dan Classic. He was highly recruited in Pittsburgh. During Bolla's senior campaign, he was named co-captain his senior year and helped guide the team to the NCAA Tournament. For six years, Jim Bolla and Sheila Striker-Bolla shared coaching duties, but in 1988-89, the Lady Rebels return to the "one-coach" system. When Jim and Sheila married in 1982 and became co-coaches, they believed to be the first and only married, co-head coaches in the country. Last season, San Francisco's Bill Neri and Mary Hile-Nerfeldt joined the ranks of married co-head coaches, but with the departure of Sheila to UNLV's athletic recruiting office, USF's Nerfeldts can stake their claim as nation's only head coaching couple. For UNLV, an era has ended.

A New Era

A new era in women's basketball begins at UNLV this season as there no longer are co-coaches to call the shots from the sidelines. Bolla enters his seventh season as assistant head coach. He has added a dynamic dimension to the Lady Rebels staff. His long hours of hard work have resulted in some of the best recruiting classes in history, consistently attracting some of the top players in the nation. Bolla's assist coaching began naturally following a successful high school and college playing career, beginning at Carnegie High School in Pittsburgh. During his senior campaign, Canavin amassed a perfect 24-0 record complete with a Pennsylvania state championship. Canavin earned all-state and all-america honors, and a spot in Pittsburgh's prestigious Dapper Dan Classic. He was highly recruited in Pittsburgh. During Bolla's senior campaign, he was named co-captain his senior year and helped guide the team to the NCAA Tournament. After graduation, Bolla stayed with the Pitt basketball program as an assistant under then-Head Coach and current Runnin' Rebel Assistant Coach Tim Gregurich. He became a graduate assistant for the Panthers in 1977. Bolla's indoctrination in the world of women's basketball came in 1979 when he was appointed Pitt's assistant women's basketball coach. During his stint with the Lady Panthers, Bolla concentrated primarily on defense and rebounding, helping guide the team to a number three national ranking in rebounding in 1980. Bolla temporarily dropped from the coaching ranks later in 1980 to work for the Eastern Eight Basketball Conference. He worked in the advertising department and was the Eastern Eight official photographer for the 1980-81 season. Bolla re-emerged at UNLV under the recommendation of Gregurich in 1981. He worked one season as a Lady Rebel assistant before being named Co-Head Coach in 1982.

A native of Pittsburgh, Bolla earned a bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education and from the University of Pittsburgh in 1975. He enjoys working on home improvement projects and devoting time to his Old English Sheepdog, Allie.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Entering his fourth season as assistant women's basketball coach, Rick Glenn has added a dynamic dimension to the Lady Rebels staff. His long hours of hard work have resulted in some of the best recruiting classes in history, consistently attracting some of the top players in the nation. Glenn adds an extensive basketball background to the UNLV staff. As captain of his Huntington Beach High School team, Glenn led his club to consecutive CIF playoff appearances and also earned all-county honors in volleyball. Glenn played college basketball at Cal State Stanislaus under current UNLV Assistant Athletic Director Doug Sanderson. At Stanislaus, Glenn's teams dominated the Far West Conference and participated in the NCAA Division II Final Four. In addition to Glenn's athletic participation, he was active in student government and worked as business manager of the campus newspaper. Following Sanderson's move to UNLV in 1984, Glenn served as assistant to the Director of Athletic Development where he assisted in the formation of the Rebel Athletic Club, scholarship fund raising, and promotion of all athletics contests and special events. His recruiting efforts led primarily in his home state, California, where he has managed to attract some of the state's finest players to UNLV including Shelly Jummin and Pauline Jordan, Linda Staley, and 1986 newcomer Mandy Hannah. Other Lady Rebels Glenn has lured to UNLV include junior college players DeNea Ballinger and Tammy Monroe; Indiana scoring leader Vicki Linder; and former Oregon standout Shelly Ray. Glenn earned his bachelor's degree in business administration with a concentration in marketing from Cal State Stanislaus in 1984. He intends to complete UNLV's master's of business administration program by 1989. True to his California heritage, Glenn is an avid beach goer, and enjoys outdoor volleyball, basketball, body surfing, and fishing. He is also a gourmet cook and an avid Pepper fan. He was born on January 7, 1961, and is single.

ASSISTANT COACHES

RICK GLENN Assistant Coach 4th Year on Staff

JULIE SULLIVAN Assistant Coach 1st Year on Staff

Entering her first season as assistant women's basketball coach, Julie Sullivan adds to the Lady Rebel staff seven years of head coaching experience at the Division I level. During five years at Pacific and two at Nevada-Reno, Sullivan built herself a reputation as a strong leader and motivator, and was widely respected among Big West Conference coaches.

At Pacific since 1981-84, Sullivan's teams directly reflected the fiery demeanor of their head coach, and were always noted for their intensity and tenacity. Sullivan compiled a 46-69 record while directing the Lady Tigers and a 22-33 mark at UNLV. She was an assistant coach at Pacific from 1978-81 under current UC Santa Barbara head coach Mark French.

Sullivan was a four-year letterwinner at Stephen F. Austin University, the premier women's basketball program in the country. A 5-10, 140-pound guard under current UNLV head coach Sue Günter, she specialized in defense and ballhandling, and helped the Ladyjacks to a 30-5 record in 1978 with victories over three of the top four finishers in the AIAW National Tournament.

A native of Richardson, Texas, she graduated from Stephen F. Austin with a B.S. in physical education and a teaching certificate in 1979. She went on to receive her master's degree in physical education with an emphasis in coaching from Angelo State University in 1981.

Sullivan was married in the spring of 1985 to former Pacific football player, Sean Sullivan, who now is a Vice President of Marketing at the Sands Hotel and Casino.

A former Lady Rebel team captain with international playing experience, Rochelle Oliver begins her first season on the UNLV coaching staff. Oliver joins the Lady Rebel staff as a graduate assistant after working two years in the UNLV Women's Basketball Group in her hometown of Bakersfield, California. Oliver co-captained the '83-'84 Lady Rebel team that finished 24-7; won the first ever Big West Conference women's basketball title, and earned UNLV its first NCAA Division I tournament appearance. After averaging 17.4 and 16.3 points, respectively, in her junior and senior seasons at UNLV, she also became UNLV's first women's basketball scholarship athlete to continue her playing career, playing in Vienna, Austria through the '86-'87 season.

UNLV's scoring leader as a senior, Oliver currently ranks seventh on the all-time list in scoring and fifth in assists. She attended UNLV out of Santa Monica Junior College where she was twice named a junior college all-american. Upon leaving UNLV, Oliver played in Vienna for a year before returning to her hometown to become the varsity girls basketball coach at Bakersfield High School where she returned through the spring of 1986. Rochelle, 26, is single and resides in Las Vegas.

G. B. H. COACHES

A native of Richardson, Texas, she graduated from Stephen F. Austin with a B.S. in physical education and a teaching certificate in 1979. She went on to receive her master's degree in physical education with an emphasis in coaching from Angelo State University in 1981. Sullivan was married in the spring of 1985 to former Pacific football player, Sean Sullivan, who now is a Vice President of Marketing at the Sands Hotel and Casino.
LAURA CLONTZ/Consulting Family Therapist

For the past three seasons the Lady Rebels have enjoyed the consulting services of family therapist Laura Clontz. Clontz' extensive international athletic career combined with her education and training in counseling make her uniquely qualified to work with female athletes.

Clontz captained her collegiate swimming teams at the University of Santa Clara and San Jose State where she was a three-time Intercollegiate national champion in freestyle sprints. She was on a world record setting freestyle relay team, participated in the Olympic Trials for swimming in 1968 and 1972, and represented the United States in the World University Games in Turin, Italy in 1970.

A graduate of Clark High School in Las Vegas, Clontz earned a B.A. in Education from San Jose State and a M.S. in Education/Marriage and Family Counseling from UNLV. A former Miss Nevada, Clontz currently divides her time between her private counseling practice and part-time modeling assignments. Clontz is married to local gaming and corporate attorney, Jeffrey Clontz.

RHONDA HICKMAN/Women's Basketball Manager

A UNLV sophomore and native of Las Vegas, Rhonda Hickman begins her third season with the Lady Rebels. Hickman was a 1986 graduate of E.W. Clark High School in Las Vegas, and majors in finance courses at UNLV.

Through four years in high school, Hickman compiled 11 athletic letters between basketball, golf, and softball. She continues active participation in softball, volleyball, and racquetball.

KEVIN MESSENGER/Assistant Sports Information Director

Kevin Messenger begins his second year on the UNLV staff after receiving a B.A. in Communications/Public Relations from the University of the Pacific in 1987. Primarily responsible for women's basketball and baseball, Messenger also assists with Rebel football and men's basketball after serving four years in a similar capacity at Pacific.

While at Pacific, Messenger helped coordinate the 1986 NCAAWomen's Volleyball Final Four and was responsible for covering Pacific's national champion volleyball team, women's basketball, baseball, and several non revenue sports teams. He worked closely with several conference and regional events, and initiated a daily sports report on five Stockton radio stations.

In addition to his duties at Pacific, Messenger was an administrative assistant, official scorer, and PA Announcer for the Stockton Ports Baseball Club, the Milwaukee Brewers' Class A affiliate in Stockton.

ELLEN SMILOWITZ/Women's Basketball Trainer

A 1987 graduate of Penn State, Ellen Smilowitz begins her second year as a graduate assistant on the UNLV women's basketball team. Her duties at UNLV include responsibilities with women's basketball and track, and general assistance with all other facets of UNLV athletic training.

A native of Buffalo, Pennsylvania, Smilowitz attended State College Area High School where she lettered in track and soccer. She also is an accomplished bicyclist and triathlete.

Smilowitz completed her studies at Penn State with a B.S. in Health Education.

KATHY SMITH/Management Assistant

Beginning her third season with the Lady Rebel basketball staff, Kathy Smith brings to UNLV a background rich in competitive sports participation and sports journalism. From 1989 to 1991, Smith was selected as a member of the Ladies Professional Bowlers Tour, during which time she earned recognition as one of the Top Ten female bowlers in the country. Smith won numerous championships, including the Western Regional title at the Showboat Lanes in Las Vegas. She also was a member of the California team that set a state women's team record which still stands today.

In 1981, Smith began a five year stint with the LAS VEGAS SUN where she covered the LPGA, the Professional Bowlers Tour, the National Finals Rodeo, professional tennis, and the Caesars Palace Grand Prix, along with UNLV assignments including football, volleyball, softball, soccer, and women's basketball.

LADEY REBEL ACADEMICS

Jaina Preston
Academic Advisor
4th Year on Staff

Beginning her fourth year as the academic counselor for the Lady Rebels, Jaina Preston brings to the program an outstanding record of success in advising and counseling. She has worked as both counselor and director of counseling in a variety of settings, usually with organizations specializing in treating the problems of adolescents.

Prior to joining the Lady Rebels' staff, she was the office manager and interim director of the local chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. While directing the National Conference, she recruited several of the Lady Rebels as counselors for the NCJ's annual summer camp, an experience that helped convince her of the high quality and wide ranging abilities of UNLV's players.

As the Lady Rebels' Academic Counselor, Preston is responsible for evaluating transcripts and records of recruits, making certain each player progresses toward her degree while satisfying both university and major degree requirements, and overseeing each player's eligibility status. She organizes and monitors tutorial assistance, oversees class progress, and supervises the daily study hall.

Jaina Preston is a 1977 graduate of Antioch College from where she received her B.A. in psychology and is currently working on her M.A. in counseling at UNLV.

BALLENGER RETURNS FOR SENIOR SEASON

La Vegas, NV (SID) — Last year’s three-point leader in the Big West Conference, DeNise Ballenger returns for another year with the Lady Rebels. For more on UNLV’s flashy senior guard, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

ON SOME OF THE ADJUSTMENTS SHE ENCOUNTERED LAST YEAR: “Last year was my first major college season playing the "two" guard, I’d always played the point. It was a good adjustment though, and it wasn’t anything I was forced into. It was a real plus because I had worked a lot on my shooting. And I did get to shoot the ball more. On the other hand, I didn’t get to handle the ball as much, and I had also worked hard on getting better in that area. All in all, I think the pluses outweighed the minuses.”

ON WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN HER SENIOR YEAR: “I’m looking forward to overcoming some of my injuries this year, and I’m really looking forward to playing the "two" alongside Tammy Moore. Tammy Moore is such a big asset to our team right now. She really inspires me whether I’m playing the point, playing the "two" or sitting and cheering from the bench. She’s a big inspiration to the team, and I’m looking forward to playing with her.”

ON INDIVIDUAL GOALS SET FOR THE SEASON: “I really want to be a leader, not a half-leader or a sometimes-leader, but a true leader all the time whether we’re on the court, off the court, or not even playing basketball. I want to be a consistent player this year, defensively as well as offensively.”

ON TEAM GOALS FOR THE YEAR: “I see us right there at the top of the Big West.”

DeNise Ballenger was born July 4, 1967.

Her academic major at UNLV is criminal justice, and her future plans call for possible careers in pro basketball or volleyball. She intends to finish her school year playing with the UNLV softball team.

Her nickname is “Spudette.”

Some of her hobbies include listening to music and drawing.

She has a sister, and is the daughter of Myrtle Jean Ballenger.

CRAWFORD BEGINS FINAL YEAR AS FOURTH-YEAR SENIOR

Las Vegas, Nev., (SID) — Kim Crawford begins her senior year with the Lady Rebels averaging 6.3 points and 3.6 rebounds as a junior. A definite three-point scoring threat, Crawford turned in career performances last season with 33 points against South Carolina and Louisiana Tech. Her 12 rebounds against UC Irvine last season were also a career-high. Crawford played in 33 of 34 games last year with just nine starts. She started 29 of 30 games as a sophomore....She averaged 8.3 points and 4.3 rebounds in 1986-87 including an all-career high 18 points against SMU, California, and Northern Arizona. She scored in double figures eleven times as a sophomore, leading the team in scoring at California and Cal State Fullerton. Crawford started in three games and saw action in 29 as a freshman, averaging 2.6 points and 1.6 rebounds per game...She hit for a freshman season high 12 points (6-for-7) vs. Pacific. She was an all-tournament selection in the 1986 UNLV/F-Up Dancing Classic. She traveled to Hong Kong in 1985 with the U.S.A. Development International Tour. Her biggest athletic thrill was defeating highly touted Long Beach State in the 1985 PCAA Tournament Championship. Crawford has been twice named an UNLV and PCAA Scholar Athlete and last year was the recipient of the Lady Rebels’ Best内外Memorial Scholarship recognizing athletic and academic excellence.

HOPES FOR THIS SEASON: “I think personally I’m most concerned about being consistent with my play. I’m not going to be real worried about my offensive contribution at all. We’ve got some very skilled offensive players this year so I’ll be concentrating more on my all-around game. Hopefully I can contribute with leadership on the floor which is what I think we need most.”

HOPES FOR HER SENIOR SEASON: “I think the big goal for this year’s team is to win the league. I really think we have a great opportunity to win the new Big West Championsh- ip and set a precedent for the program here at UNLV. We want to show the nation that we’re worthy of being in the NCAA Tournament.”

HIGH SCHOOL: Crawford prepped at San Luis High School (coach Harry Butts). Where she let

Kim Crawford was born October 18, 1967.

Crawford is a communications major at UNLV.

She enjoys music and the outdoors.

She credits her family with influencing her athletic career the most because of their continuous support.

Her brother, Jeff, was an athlete at Chico State.

She has two brothers, and is the daughter of Pat and Shirley Crawford.
Geannine Parie Jordan was born March 27, 1968.

Geannine's academic major is criminal justice, and she intends to pursue a career in that field upon graduation.

Her nickname is "Happy." She enjoys reading, listening to music, talking on the phone, and visiting with family.

She credits God, her family, and her friends for supporting her most during her athletic career.

She has three brothers and two sisters, and is the daughter of Carrie Jordan.

Geannine's brother, Chavez, and sister, Michelle, also attend UNLV.

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — Junior forward Pauline Jordan returns for her junior year after leading the Lady Rebels last season with 16.4 points and 8.7 rebounds. For more on UNLV's junior all-america candidate, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

WHY SHE CHOSE UNLV: "It's close to home for one thing. My mom didn't want me going too far away to school," and is the daughter of Carrie Jordan.

ANY TEAM GOALS FOR THE SEASON: "As a team I hope we play hard each time out. I also think that it's really important to win every game at home. I hate losing at home. A Big West Conference championship is a goal we have and after that to hopefully play well in the playoffs. But we'll take that a step at a time."

HER PERSONAL GOALS: "After sitting out two years last year, I felt last season was just a stepping stone to get back. I felt my way back into my game. Now I'm more comfortable and I'm just trying to add some strength and speed to go with some of the skills that I have."

HIGHLIGHTS WHILE AT UNLV: "It's kind of hard to say what the highlights have been. I've just been trying to work hard to find my game, so I haven't really stopped too much to think about the good or bad things that have happened. I think going to the NIT tournament had to be the biggest thrill for me last season."

PLAYING ALONGSIDE HER SISTER: "We try to push each other in practice and then keep each other going in games. I know that when Geannine is on the court I have help consistently. It's a lot of fun to play on the same team and share all of the ups and downs during the season."

STACEY AUGMON'S OLYMPIC PARTICIPATION: "It's a big thrill for me to see Stacey make it on the Olympic team. We grew up with Stacey and I told him when he first went to the trials that I didn't want to read or hear anything about Stacey Augmon not making the team. I just so proud of him. He works hard and doesn't complain. He just does the job. I'm very happy for him."

Up Close and Personal

Pauline Parie Jordan was born March 27, 1968.

Her academic major at UNLV is physical education, and her future plans call for being successful in whatever she does.

She enjoys lifting weights, bike riding, meeting new people, listening to music, and just relaxing.

Like her sister, she credits God, her family, and her friends for supporting her most during her athletic career.

She has three brothers and two sisters, and is the daughter of Carrie Jordan.

Geannine's brother, Chavez, and sister, Michelle, also attend UNLV.

Pauline Parie Jordan was born March 27, 1968.

Her academic major at UNLV is physical education, and her future plans call for being successful in whatever she does.

She enjoys lifting weights, bike riding, meeting new people, listening to music, and just relaxing.

Like her sister, she credits God, her family, and her friends for supporting her most during her athletic career.

She has three brothers and two sisters, and is the daughter of Carrie Jordan.

Geannine's brother, Chavez, and sister, Michelle, also attend UNLV.

INDIANA SCORING CHAMP BEGINS YEAR NUMBER TWO AT UNLV

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — Beginning her second year with the Lady Rebels, Vicki Lander should challenge for a starting role in 1988-89. For more on the jock-playing sophomore, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

HOW SHE CHOSE UNLV: "My sister knew Coach Strike (former Lady Rebel co-coach) and I happened to be out here from Indiana so we stopped by the campus. I told the coaches that I was a senior in high school and played basketball, and I would like them to come and look at me. They came and saw me play and I guess they liked what they saw because I ended up here at UNLV."

BEING THE TOP SCORER IN THE STATE OF INDIANA: "I think it's a nice honor and I'm proud of it. It was a combination of both getting an opportunity to play and becoming more comfortable with the system, and working with Coach Bolla - learning what he wanted and expected from me."

HER STRONG PLAY DURING THE LATTER HALF OF ’87-88: "It was a combination of both getting an opportunity to play and becoming more comfortable with the system, and working with Coach Bolla - learning what he wanted and expected from me."

ANY EXPECTATIONS FOR ’88-89: "I expect us to have a great season. I think the number one goal for this team is to win the Big West championship. After that I think we can eventually play well in the NCAA tournament because I believe we can be a Final Four team."

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — After showing marked improvement last season, Shari Netzel returns for the '88-89 campaign intent on continuing that improvement. For more on UNLV's soft-spoken senior, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

ON CHOOSING UNLV: "I chose UNLV because I wanted to be a part of a team and a program that was moving up nationally to the next level of success. I wanted to get more comfortable with my role and to solidify my position as a team whatever it may be. If you don't understand and accept your spot on the team, whatever it may be, you don't have the ability to do it. It wouldn't surprise me to see Shari come out this year and play really hard and see a lot more playing time."

ON HER ROLE WITH THE LADY REBELS: "I think defense and rebounding are definitely my strengths as a player and hopefully I can contribute in those areas. I also think I have good speed for my size, so running the floor well is something I try to excel at."

ON THE MENTAL ASPECT OF COMING OFF THE BENCH: "I think you have to accept your spot on the team whatever it may be. If you don't understand and accept your role then you're not helping the team. I guess last year I started to get more comfortable with my role and to come in off the bench and spark the team."

At UNLV, a three-year lettermaker for the Lady Rebels, Shari Netzel blossomed a year ago into a productive talent on the bench... She is a strong role player and strengthens UNLV's rebounding and defensive depth... Netzel played in 29 games and averaged 8.6 minutes a year ago including one starting role at Cal State Fullerton. She established career highs with 17 points vs. Cal State Fullerton in Las Vegas, and 12 rebounds at San Jose State... Netzel played in 24 games with 1.5 points and 9 rebounds as a sophomore... She appeared in 20 games as a freshman while averaging 1.1 points and 1.0 rebounds... Netzel also is a UNLV scholar-athlete...

Bolla ON NETZEL: "Shari is going to be looked upon in a leadership role because she's a senior and was on those teams we had that been to the NCAA Tournament. Shari just needs to become more aggressive and take charge a little more. She showed all that last year that she's very capable of playing Defensively, she plays very well in the post area. We have no hesitation in playing her against the big post player we need to watch, or a big forward or small forward. Shari needs to get more aggressive and become more of a scorer. She has showed signs of that in some games. She believes she has the ability to do it. It wouldn't surprise me to see Shari come out this year and play really hard and see a lot more playing time."

HIGH SCHOOL: As a prepster at Culver City High School (coached by Terran Flanagan), Netzel collected nine varsity letters including four in basketball, three in volleyball, and two in track... She amassed a long list of high school honors including four seniors on the All-Ocean League team... She captured first team honors her final three seasons and was named her team's MVP three seasons... She was chosen the tournament MVP at the Beverly Hills Tournament (twice) and South Torrance Tournament... She was the Athlete of the Week as selected by the Daily Breeze, and Athlete of the Month by the Culver City Exchange Club, and the Athlete of the Year by Culver City Elks Club... She was twice the recipient of All-Westside Team honors by the Los Angeles Times... She was named All-League as a Junior in volleyball, and was her school's prom queen as a senior...

SHELLY RAY RETURNS FOR REPEAT TRY AT JUNIOR SEASON

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — After a year of injury and rehabilitation, Shelly Ray returns to the Lady Rebels for her junior year and an attempt to regain the form that earned her a starting role at the University of Oregon as a freshman. For more on UNLV's hard-working junior, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

ON PLAYING AFTER SUCH A LONG LAYOFF: “Even before last season began I had hurt my knee, and then I tried to play on it, and eventually I ended up having surgery. It’s been a long nine months, and I sat out almost a full year before that transfer from U. of Oregon, so it’s been a long time since I’ve really played in game situations. I’m really looking forward to it this season.”

ON HER ROLE AT UNLV: “I expect to go out hard and play everyday, and if there’s someone better than me then they should be playing. I’m there to give support and encouragement, and be a leader for everyone else. If I’m leading the team in scoring and rebounding, that’s great. If I’m not, that’s great, too.”

ON GOALS FOR THE TEAM: “I have pretty high expectations. Last year we didn’t do quite as well as we thought we should have, but this year despite being young, we should do well and finish again in the top two in our league. I expect to see us in the post-season playoffs again.”

ON UNLV’S STRENGTHS: “Our size is an obvious strength this year. Last year we didn’t have anybody that was extremely tall, and this year we have Merlelynn. In the league that we’re in, and with some of the competition we play nationally, you have to have that height. We also have a good junior college transfer at guard, and a lot of returning players with experience. With all of this, we’re still young, but we don’t really have any of these things last year.”

At UNLV: A promising inside player for the Lady Rebels, UNLV coaches were unable to harness Shelly Ray’s talents in 1987-88. Ray appeared in two games before re-injuring a troubled knee. She made her first appearance in December after a mid-season transfer. She scored two points and pulled down two rebounds at UC Santa Barbara before going down after just one minute at UC Irvine. She is a very physical player whose biggest asset is strength and rebounding ability.

BOLLA ON RAY: “We’re really excited about Shelly Ray and how she’s progressing at this point. We’re really excited, but we don’t want to get our hopes up too high because she just came off complete knee reconstrucion. We’re going to let Shelly Ray take her time. When her time comes, she’s going to be ready, but we’re not going to rush her. If that means October that’s fine, if it means November, that’s fine too. I know for a fact, that if she’s ever close to being the type of player she’s been in the past, she’s very capable of being a leader and very consistent player for this team.”

JUNIOR COLLEGE: Shelly attended Walla Walla JC for one semester in 1987 after transferring at mid-season from the University of Oregon.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON: She averaged 68 points and 9.2 rebounds with the Ducks through six games in 1986. Ray was thrust into the Oregon starting lineup as a freshman in 86-87, and finished her first year leading the team in field goal accuracy (557) and finishing third in scoring with an 8.9 scoring average. She quickly was accustomed to the collegiate game, averaging in double figures in scoring through the first 12 games before a back injury slowed her pace. She scored a career high 19 points against Western Illinois in the fourth game of her career. She proved just as effective against top ranked competition, recording 15 points and 11 rebounds vs. fourth-ranked Long Beach State. She scored in double figures in 11 of 27 games as a freshman, and brought down ten or more rebounds four times including twice as a sophomore. She led her team in rebounds four times during her freshman season, and was third on the club in field goals made (97) despite averaging just over 21 minutes a game.

HIGH SCHOOL: She was a three-time all-conference selection and league MVP while averaging 18 points, 15 rebounds, and 2.3 assists a game as a senior at Walla Walla High School (coach Marda McClenney). Ray was named the Blue Mountain Regional’s Female Athlete of the Year. She scored 29 points and grabbed 23 rebounds while leading her team to a Washington State Championship as a junior. She earned all-tournament honors at the state tournament as a junior and was chosen her league’s Female Athlete of the Year in 1984.

Shelly Sharene Ray was born December 28, 1966.

Her hobbies include snow skiing and playing softball.

She credits her high school coach, Marda McClenney with influencing her athletic career the most.

She has one sister and is the daughter of Alan and Pamela Ray.

14 Lori Brotherson

Coming to UNLV as a walk-on this season, Lori Brotherson carries impressive credentials from a four-year career at Virgin Valley High School in Nevada. She is the recipient of a UNLV Elardi Scholarship awarded to all high school valedictorians from Nevada High Schools.

BOLLA ON BROTHERSON: "Lori Brotherson will play a forward position for us. She was a big scorer in high school and was one of the top players in Nevada. She was very impressive the times that I saw her."

HIGH SCHOOL: Brotherson averaged 22 points and 13 rebounds as a senior, earning her distinction as the Nevada High School Female Athlete of the Year in 1987-88, encompassing all high school classifications. Lori's statistics at Virgin Valley (coach Elwin J. Whipple) generally were amassed in little more than just one half of play due to several blowouts. She finished her high school career as the all-time leading scorer and rebounder in Virgin Valley history. She was a three-time Class A Southern Division Most Valuable Player in basketball, and twice in volleyball. She also lettered three years in softball and was her school's valedictorian.

10 Mandy Hannah

AT UNLV: In her second year with the program, Mandy Hannah makes her court debut with the Lady Rebels after missing a year in 1987-88. She is expected to contribute immediately, playing as many as four different positions if needed. An extremely talented athlete, she brings to UNLV a fierce, competitive drive that made her quite possibly the finest player in Los Angeles out of high school.

BOLLA ON HANNAH: "We are very excited about having Mandy with us this year, and we are eagerly awaiting her participation in a Lady Rebel uniform. Mandy gives us a lot more flexibility in terms of moving the ball around. She can handle the ball and also will be counted on for her scoring ability."

HIGH SCHOOL: Hannah attended Compton High School (coach Carolyn Montgomery) where she received honorable mention All-America recognition by Street & Smith Magazine, USA Today, and Converse. She averaged 30 points, eight rebounds, and five assists per game en route to her two-time selection as Moore League Most Valuable Player and All-CIF first team. Hannah was a Los Angeles Times first team all-star as a senior.

VERSATILE HANNAH JOINS LADY REBS

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — A very highly touted prospect two years ago out of Los Angeles, Mandy Hannah joins the Lady Rebels this season with high expectations. For more on the UNLV freshman, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

WHY SHE CAME TO UNLV: "I wanted to go to school somewhere that wasn't too far from home but also a spot not too close."

HER ROLE AFTER WATCHING THE TEAM LAST YEAR: "I see myself fitting in either in the two-guard or wing position. I'm a versatile player so I hope I can add a little bit in a lot of different areas. I think the three position (small forward) is my best spot. I can shoot the 3-point shot or drive to the basket from that position."

HER GOALS FOR THE YEAR: "It's our goal as a team to win the conference. For me as a player, I just want to play up to my potential and execute the things I do well. It will be tough after sitting out a year."

HER HIGH SCHOOL COACH CAROLYN MONTGOMERY: "Carolyn and I get along really well. We have more than just an average coach/player relationship and she's helped me a great deal with my game and just becoming a better person."

LAS VEGAS, NV (SID) — Selected by the Las Vegas Review Journal's Female Athlete of the Year in 1987-88 as the Nevada High School Female Athlete of the Year, and a high school valedictorian attending UNLV on the prestigious Elardi Scholarship, Lori Brotherson begins her first season with the Lady Rebels. For more on the UNLV freshman, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview:

WHY SHE ATTENDED UNLV: "I decided to come to school here because of the Elardi scholarship program for high school valedictorians."

ACADEMICS VS. ATHLETICS: "I think the two are similar in that you have to set goals for yourself. I guess I approach them in the same way as far as that goes: You have to budget your time if you want to succeed at both."

A CAREER AS A C.P.A.: "I think it would be fun to work with lots of different people and help them with their finances. Plus I think I'd like the money!"

HER GOALS THIS SEASON: "Well, I hope that we can go all the way. Personally I just hope to get an opportunity for some playing time."

CANADIAN BECOMES TALLEST LADY REBEL IN HISTORY

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — Six-foot-six Merelenn Lange becomes the tallest Lady Rebel in history this year, and brings to UNLV a wealth of international playing experience as the center on the Canadian National Team. For more on UNLV’s tallest member, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview.

ON PLAYING IN THE UNITED STATES AND AT UNLV: “I came here because in American schools there is more competition in my position. In Canada right now, I’m the tallest and the biggest center, and in order to get better in my international career I have to play against people that are my size. And this is the only place I could get that competition. UNLV just appealed to me the most out of all the other schools.”

ON GOALS AND ASPIRATIONS WITH THE CANADIAN NATIONAL TEAM: “I would like to improve as much as I can throughout the year so I can go back in the summertime and show improvement every year. I want to get better and stronger each summer in order to compete against all the best centers in the world.”

ON GOALS WITH THE LADY REBELS: We want to take it all the way to the Final Four!”

31 Tammy Moore

5-8 Freshman Guard
Detroit, MI

A Kodak and NJCAA All-America last season out of Kaskaskia JC in Central Illinois, Tammy Moore comes to the Rebels highly touted at the point guard position. She is considered a pure point guard and also a scoring threat. She’s a very intelligent player that will give us that true point guard that we were missing at the end of last year. Her job will be to run the show and get the ball to people. We’re also going to ask her to score, and we think she’s a great addition to our program.

KODAK AND NJCAA ALL-AMERICA ARRIVES IN LAS VEGAS

Las Vegas, NV (SID) — Kodak and NJCAA All-American point guard Tammy Moore opens her first campaign as a Lady Rebel this year after leading Kaskaskia Junior College to a 24-6 record and sectional championship. For more on UNLV’s new junior guard, here are excerpts from a pre-season interview.

WHY SHE CHOSE UNLV OVER USC: “I almost went to USC but when I heard UNLV needed a point guard, I changed my mind because I knew I could fill that role. I visited the school and saw the team on tape, and I knew I could play the point here.”

HER STYLE OF PLAY AND ROLE AT UNLV: “I think I’m a good all-around player. Right now I’m just trying to pick up the new system and learn the new style of play with my new team. The off-guard at UNLV penetrates a lot so the point has to follow to the basket. The main thing is that I think I can come in and be a leader for this team.”

GOALS FOR THE SEASON: “We’re all thinking about going after the Big West title, but it’s important for us to take it game by game. We need to set our minds to it and then take it a step at a time. For me, personally, I just want to be the best I can be.”

7-Up Desert Classic
Women's Basketball Tournament
December 9-10
UNLV South Gym

The UNLV women's basketball program kicks off the third annual 7-Up Desert Classic this season with three new foes added to the tournament. Four-time champion North Carolina State keycode's shoots for a fifth title in 1988.

Excitement and a fresh cast should highlight the 10th annual event as all three visiting opponents are new to the UNLV schedule, each coming to Las Vegas for the first time ever.

Dating back to the school's infant stages in women's basketball in 1979-80, the Desert Classic has crowned six different champions in nine years including the eventual national champion in 1982-83. A total of 23 teams have graced the floor during the Desert Classic with representatives coming from all regions of the United States.

Spuds MacKenzie Bud Light
Women's Basketball Tournament
December 28-29
Thomas & Mack Center

The Spuds MacKenzie Bud Light Women's Basketball Tournament returns to UNLV in 1988 with a history characterized by a unmatched of talent and a national powerhouse field. UNLV has won the prestigious title six times since its inception in 1979-80.

The tournament originated as the Las Vegas Regional Invitational Tournament and has evolved during its ten-year history into the Las Vegas Basketball Tourament, and now more specifically, the Spuds MacKenzie Bud Light Women's Basketball Tournament. After a six-year hiatus, the "royal rooted" schedule was dropped in favor of a four-year, two-year championship tournament in 1984-85. Six different champ ions have been crowned in six years making the association UNLV slice from 1987-88.

Much like the Lady Rebel's storied tournament. The Desert Classic, the Spuds MacKenzie Bud Light Tournament has attracted some of the finest talent in the nation to compete. Participants over the past four years alone include Arizona State, Arkansas, Texas A&M, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Oregon, Stephen F. Austin, LSU, and Western Kentucky.

BASKETBALL
A donation in the name of Bert Leavitt was made in the Spring of 1983 to an endowment fund for women's basketball at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. An annual scholarship, the Bert Leavitt Memorial Scholarship, will be presented prior to the beginning of each season by Mrs. Joyce Leavitt to a member of the women's basketball team who meets the following criteria: 1) The recipient must be in either her junior or senior year of eligibility at the time of the scholarship; 2) The recipient must have an overall GPA of 3.0 for her college career; 3) The recipient will be chosen by the head coach (Mrs. Joyce Leavitt reserves the right to amend this item at her discretion); 4) In the event that no female basketball player meets all of the above-mentioned criteria in any given year, the award will be presented at the discretion of the head coach. The recipient of the Bert Leavitt Memorial Scholarship shall receive monies from interest earned on the Bert Leavitt endowment up to the amount specified by NCAA as allowable over and above her basketball scholarship. Remaining monies that represent the balance of interest earned on the Bert Leavitt endowment shall be transferred into the women's basketball scholarship account. The recipient of the Bert Leavitt Memorial Scholarship shall receive, in addition to scholarship monies, a small plaque to be provided through funds accrued from the endowment. The interest earned on the first quarter, ending June 30, 1983, shall be used to purchase a large trophy, upon which names of successive recipients shall be added, to be displayed in the Thomas and Mack Center. Lori Arent was the recipient of the Leavitt Scholarship in 1983-84, and three-time CoSIDA Academic All-American Misty Thomas earned the honored distinction in 84-85 and 85-86. Two-sport letterwinner (basketball and volleyball) and former graduate assistant coach, Denise Brooks, won the award in 86-87. Last year's recipient was Kim Crawford.

The Weldon E. Havins, M.D., Scholastic Advancement and Athletic Recognition Award will be presented each year to a UNLV women's basketball player who has demonstrated academic accomplishment. Initiated in the spring of 1988 by a donation to an endowment fund for women's basketball, the first recipient will be named for the 1988-89 basketball season. A qualified student-athlete will be selected each fall to receive the scholarship, by a committee comprised of UNLV's women's basketball coaching staff in consultation with Dr. Don Havins. The recipient will receive a commemorative plaque at the time of the award, and it is possible that a student-athlete may win the award more than once. Names of the annual winners will be inscribed on a large trophy to be displayed prominently in the Thomas & Mack Center. Scholarship value will be in the amount equal to the interest earned on the endowment for the previous twelve months. All monies will be received upon completion of eligibility and/or graduation.

A LOOK BACK AT 1987-88

“Another 20-Win Season”

UNLV's 1987-88 edition of Lady Rebels basketball finished its 13th season with a 25-8 overall record and 16-6 in the Big West Conference, winning its sixth consecutive conference title. The team also won the national title.

The Lady Rebels opened the season by setting the Soviet National team to the Thomas & Mack Center. They were invited to several international competitions. A strong start landed first place finishes in the UNLV/Spuds Mackenzie Bud Light Tournament. An early road win at Louisiana State propelled the Lady Rebels into the national rankings. The team continued to climb the charts to the #17 spot.

Long Beach State proved to be UNLV's nemesis, again leading UNLV to a 16-6 mark in conference play. The Lady Rebels went on to win the Women’s National Tournament and advance to the Women’s Final Four. They were over-shadowed at the national tournament by UCLA, who placed second.

Returning to Las Vegas for the tournament, UNLV continued to win, reaching the Final Four. They were defeated by UCLA, ending their season.

Community leaders, such as Coach George Brown and Jimbo Pappas, were important in the success of the Lady Rebels. The team was recognized for its contributions to the community.

The 1987-88 season was a significant one for the Lady Rebels, and the team looked forward to the 1988-89 season with excitement.

UNLV'S THOMAS AND MACK CENTER

The $30 million Thomas and Mack Center is located in the heart of Las Vegas on the campus of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Constructed with state-of-the-art engineering capabilities, the Center is an athletic and special events facility. It is the largest structure of its kind in the state of Nevada, and is the fourth largest on-campus arena in the United States.

The Center was specifically designed to handle a wide variety of athletic events including basketball, wrestling, tennis, volleyball, gymnastics, soccer, hockey, ice skating and rodeo—but it is also perfect for such events as concerts, conferences, circuses and commencement exercises.

The most impressive feature of the facility is its 18,000 seat arena. Spectators have optimal sights lines from armchair seats in 51 rows on two tiers. Surrounding the arena is spacious, accessible concourse with 44,500 square feet of floor space, easily capable of providing capacity crowd movement, displays or trade shows. The Center’s main floor has four expandable meeting rooms, another large meeting room, ticket offices, a restaurant with bar, press room, locker rooms and snack bars.

Overall, the Thomas and Mack Center is 251,450 square feet and is 2,077 ½ feet above sea level.

Arena—Floor level retractable seating (9 rows) decreases seating by 2,000. Without seating retracted, floor measures 124 feet x 72 feet and has approximately 8,900 square feet of floor space.

- With seating retracted, floor measures 184' x 124' with approximately 22,500 square feet of floor space.
- The basketball surface is portable wood.
- Ceiling height is 127 feet.
- Approximately 1,500-2,000 chairs may be set up on the floor.

Concourse—Measures 34' x 1,300'
- 44,500 square feet of floor space.
- Ceiling height varies from 13 feet at sides to 20 at peak.
- Thirty private luxury boxes—a total of 392 seats—are available for rental.

Audio Visual Capabilities—232 foot candles of metal halide light over every square foot of the area provide excellent television lighting.

- Television camera buckets are located on the concourse level and cameras may be set up on ground level.
- 40,000 pounds, spread over eight points, can be hung from the arena ceiling.

Parking—41 acres for 5,600 cars.

Ticket Booths—2 main offices and 4 satellite offices.

Locker Rooms—Six locker rooms, each accommodating 16-20 people. One locker room for game officials.

Scoreboards/Marques—Two multipurpose scoreboards located at each end of the arena.

Two animated message centers with graphic animation and line-oriented message capabilities are located at midcourt.

3. To provide an opportunity for the female student-athletes on the team to excel and strive to reach their potential as students and as athletes.

4. To recruit and attract young women who will represent the women of our community with positive role models.

5. To represent UNLV and the community of Las Vegas in both regional and national competition in a manner which reflects both the integrity of the institution and the many good citizens of our city.

6. To strive to reach the highest possible level of success in striving to compete for a national championship, thus bringing public acclaim and honor to our institution.

7. To build an affiliation with our community to foster a mutual sense of pride and respect.

Ed Olivares
Jim Chaisson

THE LADY REBELS SAY THANKS TO THE FOLLOWING CORPORATE SPONSORS FOR THEIR KIND SUPPORT AND GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS.

UNLV BASKETBALL

The Lady Rebels wish to thank Norm Jenkins of Sav-More Rent-a-Car; Ed Olivares of Friendly Ford, and Jim Chaisson of Chaisson Motors for C.A.R.S. (Courtesy Automobile Resource System) at UNLV which provides cars for the women's basketball program.

GOALS OF THE LADY REBELS

1. To contribute, in a meaningful way, to the personal growth and development of the female student-athletes who comprise the program.

2. To create an environment in which the student-athletes shall be motivated to strive to reach their potential as students and as athletes.

3. To provide an opportunity for the female student-athletes on the team to graduate from UNLV.

4. To recruit and attract young women who will represent the UNLV athletic department and institution in a dignified way, women who will provide the young women of our community with positive role models.

5. To represent UNLV and the community of Las Vegas in both regional and national competition in a manner which reflects both the integrity of the institution and the many good citizens of our city.

6. To strive to reach the highest possible level of success in striving to compete for a national championship, thus bringing public acclaim and honor to our institution.

7. To build an affiliation with our community to foster a mutual sense of pride and respect.

"The ultimate value of the intercollegiate athletic experience for women is that it provides a vehicle by which young women may obtain an education. The current measure of a program may be a reflection of its most recent win-loss record, but over time, it is a reflection of the caliber of women who at one time comprised the program. In ten or twenty years, what I will derive from it is not so much reminiscing about past victories, but admiring the continuing accomplishments of former Lady Rebels. When scores are long forgotten, the people remain. What those people have inspired me to do as a result of passing through our program will, for me, be a true measure of our success."
THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, LAS VEGAS

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas, is a young, growing institution that is making significant progress toward becoming one of the nation's leading urban universities. With a faculty of approximately 400, some 75 percent of whom hold doctorates, UNLV offers 64 undergraduate and 50 graduate degree programs to a student population that in fall 1988 reached almost 16,000, a record enrollment.

UNLV's 335-acre campus, located in the metropolitan area south of the City of Las Vegas, its academic colleges include Arts and Letters; Business and Economics; Education; Health Sciences; Hotel Administration; Science and Mathematics; Engineering; The School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation; and the School of Arts. Housing is housed within the School of Education.

Although the University is now only three decades old, it has maintained a healthy rate of growth, both in programs and physical plant. In 1985 the Nevada Legislature appropriated $14.7 million for construction of the 101,000-square-foot Thomas T. Beam Engineering Complex, named for one of UNLV's most generous donors. When the new complex opened in 1988 it will house the Engineering College, which was formed in 1987 as a means of strengthening the engineering and computer science programs. The college and the engineering complex are major steps forward in the University's effort to provide strong programs in technological higher education. Four new dormitories, a student-life building, a Student Health Service Building, and a new Public Safety Building were all constructed in 1988.

The recently established Honors Program and the Margaret Earl Nevada Scholars Program have helped the University attract many academically outstanding new students. Thanks to a substantial donation from Mrs. Margaret Earl, the Nevada Scholars Program offers scholarships for valedictorians to enroll at UNLV. More than 100 valedictorians from Nevada high schools registered at UNLV in the fall of 1988.

In addition to its regular academic programs, UNLV offers more than 600 classes through its Division of Continuing Education, which enrolls 16,000 students annually.

The University operates an on-campus Center for Business and Economic Research, Center for Economic Education, Center for Applied Computer Science, Environmental Research Center (in cooperation with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency), Desert Biology Research Center, Center for Survey Research, and other research and public-service centers.

With its Performing Arts Center, the campus is the cultural hub of Southern Nevada. The Master Series of concerts by world-class orchestras and soloists, Nevada Dance Theatre and Contemporary Dance Theatre, and the Department of Theatre Arts combine with other University and community arts organizations to provide a broad selection of concerts and stage productions. The Barrick Lecture Series and several campus groups bring noted speakers to the University, and local and visiting artists show their works in Donna Beam Fine Arts Gallery.

The university has excellent sports facilities that are open to students and the general public. The Paul C. Tarkington Physical Education Center has lighted tennis courts, playing fields, a 50-meter Olympic swimming pool, two gymnasia, handball racquetball courts, dance studios, gymnastics and weight-training rooms, and a full-size track.

Other points of interest on campus include:

Museum of Natural History—Permanently and traveling exhibits illustrate the biology, geology, and archaeology of the Southwest. Open daily, free admission. Call 739-3831.

Donna Beam Fine Arts Gallery—Exhibits by faculty and invited artists, with an emphasis on modern art. Located in Alta Ham Fine Arts Building. Open weekdays, free.

James R. Dickinson Library—Total holdings of 1.4 million items, including more than 480,000 books and bound journals. The Special Collections Department contains a world-renowned collection of gaming materials.

The Flashlight—A 38-foot tall, 74,000-pound steel sculpture by internationally known artist Claes Oldenburg stands on the plaza between Artemus W. Ham Concert Hall and Judy Reley Theater, at the northeast end of the campus Academic Mall.

Atrium and Aviary—A lush garden and bird sanctuary in the lobby of the Joanna Green Life Sciences Building, open weekdays.

Thomason and Mack Center—The 18,000-seat sports arena and special events facility, home of the UNLV Runnin Rebels. UNLV operates on a semester system and is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the Council of Graduate Schools in the United States, the Western Association of Graduate Schools, the American Council on Education, and the Western College Association. All of the University's academic programs are fully accredited by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges, and many programs have received further accreditation from independent national accrediting bodies.

The most significant change at UNLV since President Maxson's arrival, however, has been in the student body. The Elardi Nevada Scholarships have brought to campus dozens of valedictorians from Nevada high schools. The new Honors Program now boasts its fourth class starting in the fall of 1988. In short, the quality of the student body at UNLV as measured not only by high school class rank, but also as measured by standardized SAT and ACT test scores, is the best every more and more students from all over Nevada are realizing that UNLV is indeed a Center of Excellence for all Nevadans.

Enrollment has not only brought better and better students to the UNLV campus, it has also brought more and more of them. A student body of approximately 15,000 now studies, learns, plays, and works at UNLV.

"There are no great cities in this country that don't have great universities," says Dr. Maxson. "Las Vegas is clearly on its way to becoming a great city, and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas is just beginning to play a major role in becoming a greater community." With the support of this fine community, and with the wonderful faculty scholars and student workers and staff at UNLV, we simply cannot avoid becoming truly a university of the first class. Neither will we at UNLV nor our neighbors in the wider community settle for less.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA SYSTEM BOARD OF REGENTS

President Robert C. Maxson has been the chief executive officer of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas since August 1, 1984.

Prior to assuming his duties here, he served as the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs at the University of Houston. In that capacity, he was the chief academic officer of the University.

President Maxson earned his doctorate from Mississippi State University in 1970; his areas of study and interest have been educational leadership and social psychology. He has been particularly interested in the phenomenon of leadership in colleges and universities. He has co-authored two college text books which together are used in approximately 100 universities. He has also written numerous articles in professional journals.

Dr. Maxson is married to Sylvia Parrish Maxson. They have two children, Kimberly, a junior at UNLV, and Todd, in his third year of medical school at the University of Texas.

The President is a tireless worker in pursuit of his dreams for UNLV. He starts each day at 5:30 a.m. with a three mile run and by 7:30 is in his office on the seventh floor of the Humanities Building. It is rare that he is home by 7:30 at night, because his evenings are filled with meetings and other university-related gatherings. His hobby is his work, the success of UNLV is his single-minded passion. That single-mindedness has not only selected his circle of higher administrators, his vice presidents and deans and other members of his staff, but has also produced significant results.

Significant progress has been made on a wide-scale campus beautification program which will result in more formal entrances to the UNLV campus and extended landscaping around the perimeter of the campus.

New Ph.D. programs in both sociology and English have been approved by the UNLV Board of Regents, programs which will not only provide education and advanced degrees for interested area residents, but which also signal another step in the growth toward maturity of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

The greatest challenge at UNLV, since President Maxson's arrival, however, has been in the student body. The Elardi Nevada Scholarships have brought to campus dozens of valedictorians from Nevada high schools. The new Honors Program now boasts its fourth class starting in the fall of 1988. In short, the quality of the student body at UNLV, as measured not only by high school class rank, but also as measured by standardized SAT and ACT test scores, is the best ever.

Enrollment has not only brought better and better students to the UNLV campus, it has also brought more and more of them. A student body of approximately 15,000 now studies, learns, plays, and works at UNLV.

Since the formation of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas Athletic Department 31 years ago in 1958, Rebel athletes have become widely recognized and respected both locally and nationally. It is rare though that a single athlete produces such an impact so as to be remembered as a fixture in his or her program’s rise to national prominence. UNLV has been fortunate to have several of its 14 intercollegiate sports rise to the upper echelon of NCAA competition, and accordingly, UNLV has been fortunate to have had the services of David Cohen, Ran dall Cunningham, Sidney Green, Robbie Ryerson, and Misty Thomas. These five distinguished Rebel athletes helped usher the proud UNLV Rebel tradition both on and off the playing field, and four of them have continued to make an international and professional competition.

SOCCER #10. David Cohen and Robbie Ryerson both wore soccer jersey number 10 before being officially retired following Ryer son’s senior season in 1985. Cohen led the Rebels in scoring in each of his four active seasons from 1977 through 1981 (1978 season). His sophomore output in 1979 remains UNLV’s all-time best with 25 goals and seven assists, good for 57 points and his First Team selection onto the All Far West Team. Ryerson played with the Rebels from 1982-85, and broke Cohen’s previous career record with 47 goals during his stay at UNLV. Included among his honors at UNLV was his selection in 1985 as the PCAA Player of the Year. An All-American in 1984 and 1985, he became UNLV’s first soccer player chosen in the first round of the MLS draft when the San Diego Sockers made him the 13th player selected overall. Ryerson currently plays for the Baltimore Rave.

FOOTBALL #12. Randall Cunningham brought to the Las Vegas campus the school’s first All-American quarterback. Cunningham, also an All-American punter, broke 14 UNLV offensive, passing, and punting records during his senior season, and currently starts for the Philadelphia Eagles in the National Football League. Cunningham remains the Rebel’s career leader in total offense, punting, and virtually all passing categories.

BASKETBALL #21. A two-time All-American and first round draft pick of the Chicago Bulls in 1983, Sidney Green established himself as one of the premier Rebels of all time during his playing days from 1979-83. Green led the Rebels in scoring and rebounding during each of his final two seasons, and currently remains atop the UNLV career rebounding list. He is second on the career scoring chart. A native New Yorker, Green was chosen the 1982-83 PCAA Player of the Year as he led the Rebels to a sparkling 28-3 year all the way to the NCAA Regionals where they were ousted by North Carolina State. Green traveled from the Bulls in the NBA to the Detroit Pistons and now his hometown team the New York Knicks.

WOMEN’S BASKETBALL #6. She was quite simply the most prolific player in UNLV women’s basketball history. Misty Thomas led the Lady Rebels in scoring during her final two seasons, and assists in each of her four years from 1982-86. A two-time All-American, she also topped PCAA honors three straight years, and was a three-time CoSIDA Academic All-American. She currently holds Lady Rebel records for career scoring and assists, and ranks fourth on the all-time rebounding ladder. She was twice chosen the PCAA Player of the Year as well as the UNLV Student-Athlete of the Year. A native of Windsor, Ontario, Thomas led her Canadian Olympic team to a fourth place finish in the Los Angeles Olympic Games in 1984, and currently is an assistant coach at Arizona State.

Dr. Brad Rothermel

During the past four academic years, the University of Nevada, Las Vegas has had each of its 14 intercollegiate athletic programs, with only one exception, represented in post-season, national competition. In addition, most of these teams were ranked nationally in the Top 20 at one time or another. Much of the credit for this outstanding record goes to the UNLV’s Director of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Dr. Brad Rothermel. Rothermel, who during the 1988-89 academic year will enter his ninth year as athletic director, has built UNLV athletics to the point where the university is now very competitive at both the conference and national levels. Rothermel’s philosophy while at UNLV has been that the function of the intercollegiate athletic program is to provide for the student-athletes an environment in which those student-athletes are able to pursue excellence in selected extracurricular educationally related activities. Furthermore, his objective for the program is to win within the structure of the rules and the budgetary framework provided. The achievement of this goal is demonstrated by successfully competing against national championship caliber competition in all activities sponsored by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Prior to his appointment at UNLV in 1981, he was Assistant Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at West Virginia University. From 1974 to 1979 he was employed as Assistant Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at Kansas State University.

Rothermel supervised the intercollegiate athletic programs for men and women while serving as Director of the Health and Physical Education at George Williams College in Downers Grove, Illinois, from 1971 to 1974. From 1966 to 1967, he served as Supervisor of Counseling and Research Development while functioning in the capacity of Assistant Athletic Director of the University of Illinois Athletic Association. Prior to that position he was an administrative associate and coach for the Chicago National Leagues Baseball Club (Chicago Cubs).

In addition to his above mentioned athletic positions, Rothermel has served as an administrator in numerous educational, recreational and financial environments. He also possesses coaching and experience as a competitor at all levels from elementary school through the professional ranks.

Rothermel received his B.A. in 1965 and a M.S. degree in 1966 from the College of Applied Human Life Sciences at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana. He received his B.S. from Northwestern Illinois University in 1966.

Rothermel and his wife, Susan, a first grade teacher in the Clark County School District, have two daughters, Beth (20) and Christine (16).
REBEL ATHLETICS

Breaststroke. Rebel men's and women's squads each finished second in the PCAA and 27th nationally. Pippenberger and Meyers were each named PCAA Swimmer of the Year.

The Hustlin' Rebel baseball team returned to the NCAA post-season play for the first time since 1984, finishing the season with a 40-22 record. The Rebels captured national attention as the only team to defeat then-No. 1 ranked Oklahoma State through the first two months of the season, and later established itself as the nation's only club to play all three "number ones" lending credit to their claim as one of the strongest schedules in the nation. Head Coach Fred Dallimore eclipsed a coaching milestone with his 500th career victory and six players were named to PCAA all-conference teams. Dave Shandriana and Scott Lewis were drafted by the California Angels, Lambert and Donnorson were named to the Baseball America Freshman All-America team.

Rounding out the Rebel sports season was the women's track program which sent four athletes to NCAA competition. The Lady Rebels' 440 relay team consisting of Tanay Davis, Gretchen Jiles, Carrie Franklin, and Cheryl Chona earned All-America honors by finishing eighth in the NCAA Finals. Other Rebel highlights from 1987-88 athletic year.

The Rebel football team brought prestige to UNLV as senior running back Elliott "Skeeter" Woods became the first UNLV and PCAA running back to lead the nation in Division I rushing. Woods brought national exposure to the Rebel football program as he rambled his way to the NCAA rushing title with 1,683 yards. He established UNLV records with three consecutive 200-yard games and nine games of 100 yards or more. Woods became the first UNLV's highest drafted football player in history, chosen the NFL's 31st pick overall—the best pick of the second round—by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Lady Rebel tennis player Jolene Watanabe, a sophomore from LaFayette, CA, finished the year ranked 69th in the nation for singles while teammate Tung Nguyen, a freshman from Las Vegas, was ranked 94th. UNLV peaked in the NCAA Championships, finishing a strong second as a team.

The Swimming Rebel Golf team, under the guidance of first year head coach Dwayne Knight, improved steadily throughout the year. Senior Kevin Pedigo reached a three-way playoff in the PCAA Championship tournament. The team finished second in the U.S. Internation University Tournament, its best finish in recent memory.

Lady Rebel softball player Mary Gesner, a senior from Hayes, KS, earned All-West Region First Team and all-Pacific All-Region First Team honors. Gay Lynn Turley, a senior from Mesa, AZ, also earned All-PCAA First Team honors, while Tammy Bold, a junior from Boulder, CO, earned All-PCAA Second Team and All-West Region Second Team honors.

PCAA TOTALS: 67 wins, 55 losses, 0 ties — .576 winning percentage.
Through 19 years of existence, the Big West Conference has made numerous positive strides in intercollegiate athletics. Recent highlights of the league’s success include the 1987 NCAA basketball championships, when for the first time ever, the conference had a representative in both the men’s (UNLV) and the women’s (Long Beach State) Final Four. Last season, three of the league’s men’s basketball teams (UNLV, UC Irvine, Utah) and two of them—Fresno State and Cal Poly Pomona—participated in the College World Series. Fresno State wound up as the No. 2 team in the nation.

The Big West Conference office is headed by James Haney, who was hired as the league’s commissioner last spring. Only the third commissioner in the history of the conference, Haney succeeded Lewis Cryer, who guided the conference through 10 years of expansion and development.

On July 1988, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association marked the beginning of the league’s twentieth year by changing its name to the Big West Conference. The new name is seen as a simpler, more accurate description of the league’s 12 member institutions (Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State, Long Beach State, New Mexico State, San Diego State, San Jose State, UC Irvine, UC Santa Barbara, University of Hawaii, UNLV, Pacific and Utah State).

When the league was first formed in 1969, it consisted of seven charter members, all of which were located in the state of California. In its 19 years of existence, however, the conference has expanded to include universities from states which are not on or near the Pacific Coast (Utah, Nevada, and New Mexico). Because of this expansion, the new name will serve to better identify all of the conference’s member institutions.

The Lady Rebels earn a holiday by John Trayor

Two wins last weekend were enough to move the UNLV women’s basketball team up to the Top 10 in the Associated Press Top 25 Women’s basketball poll. The Lady Rebels, now ranked 10th, are coming off a win over Northern Illinois and a loss to Southern Illinois. They are currently 9-2 overall, with three losses and six wins. Next weekend, they will play against Eastern Illinois and Bradley University.

The Quiet One fulfills her role with Lady Rebels by By John Trayor

Remembering that UTEP is one of the toughest teams to match up with, the Lady Rebels are hoping to continue their winning streak. The Lady Rebels are currently 9-2 overall, with three losses and six wins. They will face off against Eastern Illinois and Bradley University next weekend.
