BASKETBALL ISN'T JUST A MAN'S GAME! REEBOK® WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Women's Omni Zone® Pump

Reebok® has developed a performance basketball shoe for women that is sure to become the only acceptable standard for the high level female player. The Women's Omni Zone® Pump is a technologically superior shoe which offers superior support and portability only through the Pump®, Reebok® patented energy control system. In addition to the pump, this shoe has a number of other state of the art features.

- The ERS® technology in the heal and a polyurethane midsole absorbs shock and cushion impact.
- A full rubber outsole with a herringbone pattern is designed to guarantee sure footed traction on any court surface.
- Finally, the full-grain leather uppers with molded support strap provides for added lateral stability.

In short the Reebok Women's Omni Zone® Pump is the most advanced women's performance basketball shoe on the market today.

* Big West Conference Game • Home Games at the Thomas & Mack Center (18,500) unless noted [SC] Denotes Home Games at the South Gym (1,500)
The 1989-90 regular season was the most satisfying for Bolla as the Lady Rebels attained all goals set before them. Last year's Lady Rebel squad dethroned the four-time defending Big West champion Long Beach State 49ers by sweeping all three games and capturing both the conference regular season and tournament championships.

Bolla arrived at UNLV in 1981 as an assistant to then head coach Sheila Strike. They married in 1981 and became what is believed to be the first ever married co-coaches in the country. The coaching team separated prior to the 1988-89 season after capturing two Big West Conference championships and making three NCAA Tournament appearances.

Bolla's basketball career started at Canevin High School in Pittsburgh, PA. During his senior year, Bolla received all-state and all-America honors as Canevin captured the state title with a 24-0 record. That year, Bolla was also selected to play in the prestigious Dapper Dan Classic in Pittsburgh.

From Canevin, Bolla attended the University of Pittsburgh where he helped the Panthers advance to the "Elite Eight" of the NCAA Tournament in 1974. That team, his junior year, won 22 games before falling to the eventual national champion North Carolina State.

During his senior season, Bolla was named co-captain and led the Panthers to the NIT Tournament. After graduation, Bolla remained at Pittsburgh as a volunteer assistant to then Pittsburgh head coach and current Runnin' Rebel assistant coach, Tim Grupich. In 1977, Bolla became a graduate assistant coach for the Panthers. In 1979, he was named an assistant coach for the women's basketball team at Pitt.

As an assistant coach for the Lady Panther, Bolla concentrated on defense and rebounding and helped guide the team to a number three national ranking in rebounding in 1980.

Bolla left the coaching world in 1980 for a job as the official photographer in the advertising department of the Eastern Eight Basketball Conference.

However, coaching still remained Bolla's true profession and he returned to it by coming to UNLV in 1981.

Honored as a finalist for the Converse Coach of the Year, Bolla was an assistant coach of the East squad at the 1990 U.S. Olympic Sports Festival. He is a member of the Baden and Reebok advisory boards.

A native of Pittsburgh, Bolla earned a bachelor of science degree in health and physical education from the University of Pittsburgh in 1975. He enjoys reading and devoting time to his Old English sheepdog, Max.

Bolla's victory total makes him the all-time winningest Lady Rebel head coach and his winning percentage of .788 ranks him eighth amongst active Division I women's head coaches.

With his third victory this year, Bolla will become the 57th active Division I women's head coach to win 200 games. In his eight seasons as head coach, the Lady Rebels have won 20+ games each season averaging 24.6 wins.

Janice Holliday and Vicki Lander, took $12,500 to the Busines$ President Charles Ruthe to academic this presentation to the UNL vicer Lea Sexton and Lady Rebel players UNL V's Department of Intercollegiate women's basketball program a check for place at the weekly Rebel Athletic Club/ basketball presented the nationally acclaimed UNL "It for UNL events ever hosted by the department of ketball program, in particular, but for this host to its portion of the NCAA Women's "Sweet 16" and Tina Kunzer Murphy said. "We are extremely excited to be named as host for this NCAA regional," UNL President Dr. Robert Maxson said. "This is a giant step forward in the development of a first rate athletic program. It will bring us national visibility and credibility, and it reflects so well on the outstanding accomplishments of Coach Jim Bolla and the women's basketball team." "The opportunity to host an NCAA regional tournament is something that our women's program has worked toward for years," said Bolla. "We were pleased to host first round games in 1985 and 1989, but to host the 1991 West Regional is a real step forward in the establishment of our women's program. We look for the Las Vegas commuity to embrace this event as one of the premier women's intercollegiate events held in this country."

After many months of meetings between UNLV's Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Las Vegas Events, and the Thomas & Mack Center, a package was finalized and presented to the NCAA. UNLV joins St. Joseph's (East), Tennessee (Mid­ east), and Texas (Midwest), as regional hosts for the 1991 NCAA Women's Bas­ ketball Championships.

"The Boyd Group is proud to be a supporter of the Lady Rebels."UNLV women's coach Jim Bolla said he could not be any happier with the support the Boyd Group has shown.

"We're very happy that the Boyd Group has given this gift to enhance an area we consider ultimately the most important, the academic end of our student-athletes' experiences here at UNLV," Bolla said. "Our major objective is to graduate all of our players, so this donation to benefit our academic tutoring is sincerely welcomed."

"We always have supported the men's program," Ruthe said. "But we came to the realization that as a hometown company we had an obligation to the Lady Rebels as well."

Ruthe said the Boyd Group would continue its involvement with the Lady Rebels, whether it be in academic tutoring or any other area the coaching staff would deem necessary.

"It is with great pleasure that we make this presentation to the UNLV women's basketball program," Ruthe said. "The student-athletes in this program stand for everything that is right in college today. LADY REBELS RECEIVE BOYD GROUP GIFT

The Boyd Group on October 2, 1990 presented the nationally acclaimed UNLV women's basketball program a check for $12,500 to be used for academic tutoring.

The presentation, made by Boyd Group President Charles Ruthe to academic advisor Les Sexton and Lady Rebel players Janice Holliday and Vicki Lander, took place at the weekly Rebel Athletic Club/Quarterback Club luncheon in the Sir Redd Room of the Thomas & Mack Center.

"It is with great pleasure that we make this presentation to the UNLV women's basketball program," Ruthe said. "The student-athletes in this program stand for everything that is right in college today. "Our major objective is to graduate all of our players, so this donation to benefit our academic tutoring is sincerely welcomed."

"We always have supported the men's program," Ruthe said. "But we came to the realization that as a hometown company we had an obligation to the Lady Rebels as well."

Ruthe said the Boyd Group would continue its involvement with the Lady Rebels, whether it be in academic tutoring or any other area the coaching staff would deem necessary.

THE UNLV WOMEN'S SPORTS FOUNDATION

The next natural step in the development of the women's athletic program at UNLV is the creation of a support group to further enhance the quality of the educational opportunity afforded the female student-athletes. Many young women use athletics as a vehicle to further their education. The UNLV Women's Sports Foundation has recently been created to broaden the base of support in the community for the women's programs by promoting the academic and athletic accomplishments of the women who comprise the program.

The Women's Sports Foundation will be hosting selected events, any proceeds from which will be provided for enhancement of the women's athletic programs. An annual social to welcome female student-athletes, both new and returning, to the University and the community will be hosted by the Women's Sports Foundation. Also, the Foundation will host an annual UNLV Women's Athletics banquet in pursuit of recognizing the outstanding accomplishments of the female student-athletes of UNLV. Numerous other foundation events are planned throughout the year.

The accomplishments of former and current female student-athletes are many, and great potential exists for continued growth and future success in the women's programs. Your support of the UNLV Women's Sports Foundation will help make the qualitative difference to UNLV's female student-athletes. There are many ways to be involved. If you would like further information, please contact Tina Kunzer-Murphy at 739-3240.

The UNLV Women's Sports Foundation would like to acknowledge this year's members
