AT UNLV (1993-94): Appeared in 18 games and averaged 0.8 points in 73 minutes...she scored a season-high 4 points against Nevada-Reno on Feb. 10 and pulled down a season-high 3 rebounds and also scored two points against Tennessee Tech on Dec. 4...named Rookie of the Year (women's basketball) at the UNLV Women's Athletic Awards Banquet...as a freshman, was one of four international players on the team...this season, she is the only player from outside the United States.

BOLLA ON SLADOJEVIC: "She will have a lot more of an opportunity this year to play. She is capable of playing the No. 4 and No. 5 position (possibly No. 3). She has a very unorthodox style which is typical of European players. She can shoot the ball from outside and drive to the bucket. I thought she did a great job last year for having to sit out for an entire year (1992-93) and not being able to practice or having any playing opportunity. She came in and worked very hard."

HIGH SCHOOL: Graduated from Dimitrije Tucovic High School in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

UNLV RETIRED JERSEYS

Since the formation of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas Athletic Department 36 years ago in 1958, Rebel athletes have become widely recognized and respected both locally and nationally. It is not thought that a single student-athlete produces such an impact so as to be remembered as a fixture in his or her program's rise to national prominence. UNLV has been fortunate to have several of its 14 intercollegiate sports rise to the upper echelon of NCAA competition, and accordingly, UNLV has been fortunate to have had the services of David Cohen (10), Randall Cunningham (12), Sidney Green (21), Robbie Riveron (10), Misty Thomas (4) and Matt Williams (15). These six distinguished Rebel student-athletes helped on and off the playing field.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL #4. She was quite simply the most prolific player in UNLV women's basketball history. Misty Thomas led the Lady Rebels in scoring during her final two seasons, and assisted in each of her four years from 1983-86. A three-time all-America, she earned All-PCAA honors three straight years, and was a three-time CoSIDA Academic All-America. She currently holds Lady Rebel records for career scoring and assists, and ranks sixth on the all-time rebounding ladder. She was twice chosen PCAA Player of the Year as well as UNLV Student-Athlete of the Year. A native of Windsor, Ontario, Thomas led her Canadian Olympic team to a fourth place finish in the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics.

THE BIG WEST CONFERENCE

Projecting a positive and progressive approach to intercollegiate athletics, the Big West Conference enters its seventh season since changing the conference name from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in 1988. The conference's member institutions are Cal State Fullerton, Long Beach State, Nevada-Reno, New Mexico State, Pacific, San Jose State, UC Irvine, UC Santa Barbara, UNLV, Utah State and Hawai'i (in women's sports only). When the league was formed in 1989, it consisted of seven charter members, all of which were located in the state of California. Now in its 26th season, the conference expansion has brought in universities from states which are not or near the Pacific coast—which, the decision to change the name to the Big West Conference.

The Big West Conference is headed by second-year Commissioner Dennis Farrell. Farrell replaces Jason Haney, whose four years of service led the Big West into its progressive status. Farrell is the fourth commissioner in conference history. He is assisted by associate commissioner Rob Hallman, assistant commissioner Jody McRae and director of championships Paula Smith. Dennis Buckminster will coordinate all media exposure for the conference along with Jacques Melia.

The Future... Western Athletic Conference

UNLV will become part of NCAA history in 1996 when it joins five other schools and enters the Western Athletic Conference. This union with the existing 10 teams in the league will give the largest conference in the country.

Formerly known as the WAC from 1962 to 1988, the charter members of the WAC included Arizona, Arizona State, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. Texas-Pan and Colorado State were admitted in 1987 while Arizona and Arizona State withdrew in 1976. Since that time, membership has included San Diego State (1978), Hawaii (1979), Air Force (1980), and Fresno State (1992).

A realignment occurred in April of this year when the WAC named Karl Jorth as the fifth commissioner in the league's history, succeeding Dr. Joe Kearney, who ran the league for 14 years with the WAC on June 30.

The league extended invitations to UNLV, Rice, San Jose State, Southern Methodist, Texas-Chattanooga, and Tulsa to become official members beginning in 1996 and announced that the teams will be divided into four four-team divisions.

In each competitive season of football, men's and women's basketball and possibly other sports, two of the four quadrants will be joined from two teams to eliminate the divisional alignments will be revised on an annual or bi-annual basis to assure significant conference competition involving all 16 member institutions.

The WAC offices are located in Las Vegas, a suburb of Denver. Jeff Hoog, Associate Commissioner, and Vicki Bollo, Assistant Director, handle the media relations for the league. The phone number for the conference office is (303) 795-1963.

UNLV'S THOMAS & MACK CENTER

The Thomas & Mack is also the home of the Las Vegas Thunder of the International Basketball League, which began play in October of 1993. It's difficult to imagine a Runnin' Rebel game with a sell-out attendance of little over 6,000 cheering fans, but 11 years ago that was the case for the UNLV team at their home court at the Las Vegas Convention Center. Back then there were the standards of unfortunate Runnin' Rebel fans who would have given their firstborn for a ticket to a home game. The cries for a new and bigger home court grew louder as the city and the university grew larger.

The cries were answered when two prominent Nevada Bankers, E. Boyd Thomas and Jerome Mack set up the original endowment and foundation and donated the first one-half million dollars for the initial architectural renderings and feasibility studies for the building that now bears their names. These studies for the building that now bears their names.

On Nov. 21, 1983 the Runnin' Rebels faced the University of Victoria, Canada in its one-dimensional concept of hosting just about any type of event—concerts, conventions, sporting events, family-style entertainment, etc. The Center is capable of accommodating, experienced managers and unique floor plans in order to be successful.

A well-organized program of special events and tours has made the Thomas & Mack Center one of the premier facilities in the west.

You don't need to throw chairs, spit on the court, flip off the crowd, cuss out the ref, or shatter the glass in warm-ups. Just play vicious D. And pass and score. A lot.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, LAS VEGAS

Continuing Education, which enrolls approximately 16,000 students annually.

With its Performing Arts Center, the campus is the cultural hub of Southern Nevada. The Charles Vanda Master Series of concerts by world-class orchestras and soloists, Nevada Dance Theatre and Contemporary Dance Theatre and the Department of Theatre Arts combine with other university and community arts organizations to provide a broad selection of concerts and stage productions. The Barrick Lecture Series and several campus organizations bring noted speakers to the university, and local and visiting artists show their works in the Donna Beam Fine Art Gallery.

The university has excellent sports facilities that are open to students and the general public. The Paul D. McDermott Physical Education Complex has playing fields, a 50-meter Olympic swimming pool, two gymnasia, handball/racquetball courts, dance studios, gymnastics and weight rooms, and a full-size track.

In addition to its regular academic programs, UNLV offers area residents some 800 classes through its Division of Continuing Education, which enrolls approximately 16,000 students annually.

The Paul D. McDermott Physical Education Complex has playing fields, a 50-meter Olympic swimming pool, two gymnasia, handball/racquetball courts, dance studios, gymnastics and weight rooms, and a full-size track.

The Frank and Vicki Ferriter Tennis Complex has 12 lighted courts, including a 2,500-seat main court. The courts are open for public use.

The Thomas & Mack Center is an 18,000 seat sports arena and special events facility, and home of the Runnin' Rebels.

In January 1994, the university dedicated the Earl E. Wilson Stadium at Roger Barnson Field, giving the Rebel baseball team one of the top baseball stadiums in the country to call home.

Projected for the fall, the University will have a ground-breaking ceremony for the new $85 million, 75,000-square-foot Lied Athletic Complex. The new home to UNLV athletics, the facility includes offices, locker rooms and strength & conditioning, equipment and athletic training departments.

Much of the University’s expansion is the result of support from the Nevada Legislature and the state’s taxpayers.

Private donors have played an important role as well. These gifts support new facilities and programs and, most important, provide the scholarship incentives that bring Nevada’s best and brightest student scholars to campus.

UNLV operates on a semester system and is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the Council of Graduate Schools, the American Council of Education and the Western College Association. All of the university’s academic programs are fully accredited by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges, and many programs have received further accreditation from independent national accreditation bodies.

His other education-related activities include membership on the Clark County Advisory Committee, the Clark County School District School Community Partnership Advisory Board, the Nevada Gaming Foundation for Educational Excellence, Phi Delta Kappa, the Nevada School Superintendents Association, the American Association of School Administrators, the White House Conference on Children and Youth, and the Nevada State Vocational-Technical Education Advisory Council.

Dr. Guinn also has been active in numerous civic groups and associations, including the Nevada Development Authority, the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, the United Way of Southern Nevada, the Metropolitan Police Fiscal Affairs Committee, and the Governor’s Commission of Governmental Reorganisation.

A local junior high school was named for Dr. Guinn by the Clark County School District Board of Trustees in 1978, and in 1988, the UCCSN Board of Regents named him a distinguished Nevadan.
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR - JIM WEAVER

Driven to make UNLV athletics one of the most respected and productive departments in collegiate sports, Jim Weaver became the school’s sixth permanent director of athletics on Nov. 20, 1992.

Weaver, 49, came to UNLV from the University of Florida where he had been serving as an associate director of athletics since 1989.

Within the framework, Weaver has been instrumental in overseeing the school’s compliance program and legacies, and he has helped establish and expand the UNLV athletic program that fosters athletic department involvement in giving and helping the Las Vegas and Clark County communities.

Examples of such involvement include the athletic department’s interaction in Toms For Tots, the annual Christmas dinner to the homeless and UNLV’s annual commitment to the Special Olympics.

Weaver’s personal involvement also includes membership on the Board of Directors for the Boy Scouts of America and the Community Foundation of Greater Las Vegas.

In addition, he has committed endless hours to several collegiate committees. He is a member of the mission and values committee for the National Athletic Collegiate Directors Association, the Big West Conference Executive Committee and served as the chairperson of the Big West Athletic Directors in 1992-93.

Within the university framework, Weaver has been instrumental in fundraising for both the athletic department and the academic side of the school. He played a major role in UNLV receiving its largest gift ever when the Earl E. Wilson estate donated $6.5 million to fund scholarships.

Under head coach Hayden Fry, he was part of the 1984 Rose Bowl squad’s Rose Bowl Squad in January of 1982, as well as the Pac-10 and the Cotton Bowls in December of 1982 and 1983.

He received the Football Coaches Association Award in 1982 and was named to Iowa’s All-Time Strength and Conditioning Team as a quarterback.

A 1983 graduate of Iowa, Chambers received his bachelor’s degree in business administration, specializing in hospitality and tourism. He was named to the Big Ten All-Academic squad in 1983 and received the prestigious Forest E. Marks Scholarship Award, as well as the R.E. Peeples Memorial Scholarship and the Ben Trickey Memorial Scholarship.

Chambers earned his master’s degree in educational measurement and statistics in 1988 while working as a graduate assistant and spent the next year as an administrative assistant with the school’s athletic department, assisting with Big Ten and NCAA rules compliance and directing the senior honors program.

An attorney, Chambers entered law school at Wake Forest University in 1987 and spent two years as a legal research assistant. He joined the law school in 1992 and was licensed to practice law in North Carolina in May, 1992.

As an experienced radio commentator, Chambers will periodically provide analysis for UNLV football games.

ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR - DAVID CHAMBERS

David Chambers was named UNLV's Associate Athletic Director for Compliance and Internal Affairs on July 1, 1993.

Chambers, 31, will oversee the day-to-day operations of football and men's basketball. In addition, he will be responsible for the departments of academic and legislative compliance, student services, game operations and facilities, strength and conditioning, and equipment.

He joined the administrative staff at UNLV in 1982 as a student assistant and later served as the Director of NCAA Legislative Compliance. As such, he was responsible for the school's day-to-day dealings with the governing body of intercollegiate sports, ensuring that all aspects of the athletic department were in compliance with NCAA legislation. Chambers will maintain oversight of UNLV's compliance programs.

Prior to his arrival at UNLV, Chambers was one of 12 legislative assistants with the NCAA from 1982-92 and provided written and oral interpretations of the organization's legislative for member institutions. He served as the NCAA liaison to the Big 10 Conference.

He also provided rules-education, in-service minutes for various coaching organizations, served as the primary administrator for waivers of NCAA legislation and prepared litigation summaries for the national office.

Chambers was a member of the Iowa football team, lettering in 1982-83 as a quarterback and wide receiver.
Thomas was tabbed honorable mention. He led the conference with 19 home runs, thus earning first-team All-Big school-record championship meet time of 18:25. Crooks finished 26th at the West Regional meet held in Brea, Calif. since 1987, placing sixth at conference meet held in California. It was highlighted by: Reynolds, a senior offensive tackle; Doug Roper, a senior offensive guard; Stephen Richardson as an All-American as the

The Rebel golf team continued to be recognized among the nation's best. The Lady Rebel basketball returned to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1979. It earned a No. 1 ranking during the fall polls before settling for a seventh-place finish in the Big West. Loures, a senior inside receiver, and Nick Laran, a senior inside receiver, were named honorable mention All-Big West.

The UNLV swimming and diving teams continued to excel as freshman-sized triple plowed seconds behind U.S. Swimmers in both the men's and women's events. Mark Prothro, a senior, was selected All-Big West and helped UNLV to its most competitive finish in the Big West. Mary Ann Parus, a freshman, was named for the first time in 12 years UNLV's first team post player as an All-Big West. Frankie Franklin, a junior Inside receiver, earned All-America honors with a 1,000-yard season. The Rebel freshmen were also tabbed the Big West Conference Field Team of the Year. Unlv's department of intercollegiate athletics dedicated a new, state-of-the-art weight room on June 28, 1989. UNLV received a series of Life Circuit training machines, developed by East Germany technology and manufactured by the Ball's Company of Chicago, as a gift from Bally's Hotel and Casino. The electronic units, valued at more than $75,000, have been combined with the existing equipment.

Mark Philippi enters his second year as UNLV's coordinator of strength and conditioning for the lowing two years as an assistant strength coach. He will oversee the strength and conditioning programs of all 14 athletic teams on campus, working primarily with the sports of football and baseball. An accomplished powerlifter, Philippi was the 1990 National Athletic Association Grand National Champion, earning the top letter award for the event. He has captured several other titles, including three consecutive National Champion (Chicago Regional) championships. An active member of the American Drug Free Powerlifting Association, he posted the sixth-best natural powerlifting total in the nation in 1992.

LAS VEGAS-HOME OF THE LADY REBELS

The first settlement in Las Vegas was recorded back in the early 1850s when the Mormon Church sent a mission of 30 men to construct a fort and teach agriculture to the Indians.

However, from those early days, Las Vegas has become the "Entertainment Capital of the World" with its combination of multi-million dollar productions, top-name stars and lounge acts. With a population of 840,000, Las Vegas and Clark County are one of the fastest-growing areas in the United States making Southern Nevada a perfect example of modern urban living for families and individuals.

Las Vegas is the hub of the scenic Southwest with Hoover Dam, Lake Mead, Lake Mejave and the Colorado River offering year-round fishing, camping, boating and water sports. Nearby 12,000-foot Mt. Charleston offers picnicking, camping and skiing and cool temperatures all year long.

The Valley of Fire State Park offers a beautiful view of deep red sandstone cliffs, indian petroglyphs and desert wild flowers. Only a few hours drive is Death Valley, Zion, Bryce and Grand Canyon National Parks.

Tourism and conventions are the major industries in Las Vegas. More than 23.5 million visitors and 2.4 million convention delegates visited the city in 1993. Federal government employment, represented primarily by Nellis Air Force Base, with more than 12,000 personnel, and the Nevada Test Site are also important to the community.

Las Vegas (Spanish for "The Meadows") enjoys a mild yearly climate with noticeable seasonal changes. The summer ranges from June to September with daytime temperatures over 100 degrees. The spring and fall season are relatively short with temperatures in the 70s. In the winter, daytime temperatures are in the 50s and 60s. (Information provided by the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce.)
