1972-73 Record: 10-16
Series History: UNLV 6-4
Assistant Coaches: Dana Pagett, Dan Karavas

Scouting Report
The Lions are a well coached, disciplined team that have a tremendous amount of pride and never give up. The Rebels nearly exploded in L.A. earlier this season, but had to settle for a comfortable, but not huge, 66-58 victory. Loyola/Marymount is a credit to the league and can surprise any unsuspecting foe.

As time quickly passes us by and our lives unfold before us, so too comes the end of another University of Nevada, Las Vegas basketball season. And as each season comes to an end, so is the cycle of eligibility completed for athletes and this year UNLV will lose some of its better known and well-liked performers.

Five Rebels are seniors and tonight will be the last time Rebel fans will see Bobby “Phantom Phantom” Florence in No. 20, Pat “Mr. Hustle” Bolster in No. 43, Lonnie “The Bomb” Wright in No. 42 and Harry “Mr. Secretary of Defense” Bolster in No. 14 for the University of Nevada, Las Vegas basketball team.

To be sure, credit must be given where credit is due... Bobby Florence is the star in this group, they all have one thing in common, this is their last game for UNLV.

Florence is possibly the most colorful player in UNLV cage history. He led the Rebels in scoring his sophomore and junior seasons with 22.1 and 24.6 per game averages and when some thought he might even ride the pines in 1974, he has come through like the champion that he is and is leading the most talented Rebel team ever in scoring for the third consecutive season. He is the fourth all-time scorer in West Coast Athletic Conference history and he is the third all-time UNLV scorer with 1,608 career points (through 22 games of the 1973-74 season) with a 21.7 lifetime scoring average which is second only to the legendary Elburt Miller who averaged 29.1 per game from 1966-68.

The silky-smooth moving 6-4 forward from Des Moines, Iowa has third and fourth highest scoring games in Rebel history as he canned 44 points against Houston in 1972-73 and 43 against St. Mary’s in 1971-72. Last season he came off the bench and hit a 30-footer to give UNLV a 67-65 victory over the WCAC champion University of San Francisco. He is also, like Bolster, a member of the UNLV tennis team.

Lonnie Wright is a Las Vegas product out of Western High School class of 1969 and although he could have another year of eligibility because he redshirted one season, he decided to graduate this spring after four years at UNLV. Against Texas Tech this year he had seven points and 14 minutes of the game.

We say "Farewell, Seniors" and "Thank You" for spending some time with us.
Come Meet Our Team... and remember WE LEASE ALL MAKES OF CARS!
