We're on the ball.

Score.

That's the name of the game.

A good basketball team, like the Rebels, puts points on the board with speed, talent and efficiency. And a good hotel team, like the Mint's, scores the same way.

That's why the Mint Hotel and Casino has been a "heads-up" winner for years. Talented personnel, specializing in speedy, efficient service. And courteous, too!

So, the next time you Rebel fans are looking for a good place to eat or drink, or just to have a fun time, why not come down to the Mint?

We know your team is on the ball. You'll find ours is too!

Jerry Tarkanian, Head Coach

UNLV Runnin' Rebel basketball has come a long, long way. It wouldn't have advanced to the NCAA playoffs and been rated in the Top 20 the past two seasons if it hadn't been for Jerry Tarkanian, the winningest active major college basketball coach in America. After eight seasons of coaching Division I basketball, Tarkanian has won 195 games and lost only 33 for a brilliant .855 winning percentage.

In three seasons as UNLV's head coach, Tarkanian has led the Rebels to records of 20-6, 24-5, and 29-2. And this 1976-77 season, he has six seniors who have set goals for themselves of winning 100 games in their college careers.

After three seasons, the four Rebels seniors who have been with UNLV since Tarkanian arrived, have a record of 73-13, for a winning percentage of .849.

UNLV ended the 1975-76 season with a lofty third place rating in the Associated Press poll and set seven NCAA single-game and seasonal scoring records along the way.

Tarkanian gets the most out of his players, to be sure. To be the best is not the easiest challenge ever accepted by a man, but Tarkanian has made the commitment and he and his staff are determined to reach that goal.

Winning is a fact of life to Jerry Tarkanian, on the court and off. In 20 years of coaching in the collegiate, high school and junior college ranks, the fourth-year Rebel coach has known nothing but success.

In eight seasons as a major college coach, his teams have appeared in six NCAA post-season tournaments in addition to his being the winningest active major college coach.

What is equally amazing is that Tarkanian NEVER lost a home game while coaching at Long Beach State. His 49er teams won 65 straight home games in the campus gym and Long Beach arena, culminating with a nationally-televised impressive 77-66 victory over Marquette.

At UNLV, Tark's troops have won 40 straight games going into the 1976-77 season, and, in three seasons, the Runnin' Rebels have a spectacular 48-2 record in the friendly, yet boisterous, surroundings of the Las Vegas Convention Center.

On Runnin' Rebel game nights, the otherwise stately convention hall is turned into a mass of theatrical light explosions which quickly works the crowd into a frenzy-and that's why a prominently-placed sign welcomes visitors with "Welcome to Tark's Shark Tank."

The only two teams who dared to defeat the Runnin' Rebels were both in the 1973-74 season when the freshman-laden squad fell to Texas Tech, 82-76, and to the University of Houston, 75-72. The freshmen avenged the Houston loss last season, beating the Cougars in the opening round of the Holiday Classic, 116-92.

Sellout crowds have been traditional at UNLV in the Tarkanian era. In the Rebels' top WCAC seasons with Tarkanian, UNLV did not lose a home game in 14 nights. (UNLV has now withdrawn from the WCAC and competes as the Division I team.) In three seasons under Tarkanian, UNLV is 24-10 on the road.

In NCAA playoff action after the 1974-75 season, the Rebels played a sub-regional game on the campus of Arizona State in Tempe, defeating San Diego State, 90-80. In the NCAA Regional tournament in Portland, Oregon, the Rebels were narrowly trimmed by Arizona State, 84-81, but bounced back in the consolation game to defeat a favored University of Montana team, 75-67.

Following the 1975-76 campaign, the Runnin' Rebels defeated Boise State, 103-78, in a sub-regional game played on the campus of the University of Oregon in Eugene. Then the Runnin' Rebels were knocked out of the race for the national championship, losing to the University of Arizona, 114-109, in overtime, at fabled Pauley Pavillion.

Before Long Beach, where Tarkanian's reputation first drew national acclaim, he spent seven seasons in the junior college ranks at Riverside and Pasadena City Colleges. At Riverside (1962-66), he had a 131-9 overall record, which included three consecutive state championships and four league championships in five years. No other junior college coach in the history of California basketball has achieved those heights. At Pasadena (1966-68), Tarkanian was 67-4 and bagged a fourth state title while another year finishing in the runner-up spot.

An astonishing feature of his wins is that they were accomplished at schools which had never previously won a basketball championship. Riverside was last in its conference for two consecutive years before Tarkanian; Pasadena was last in its conference the previous year; Long Beach had never won a championship in basketball; and UNLV had never finished higher than fourth in the WCAC.

The outstanding coach started his coaching career with five years in high schools: San Joaquin Memorial, Antelope Valley and Redlands.

Regarded as one of the great recruiters in the nation, "The Pied Piper of College Basketball" landed for Long Beach such nationally recognized superstars as Sam Robinson, George Trapp, Chuck Terry, Ed Ratleff, Leonard Gray and Roscoe Pondexter. In his first year at UNLV, Tarkanian may have recruited as well as he did during his entire tenure at Long Beach State.

As his winning tradition continues to grow, so does his reputation. Three years ago, Tarkanian brought three high school All-America performers with him. All senior this year, they are Eddie Owens (Houston, Texas), Lewis Brown and Jackie Robinson (both Los Angeles).

Two years ago he recruited Robert Smith (Los Angeles), last year he brought in Sam Smith (Las Vegas) and Reggie Theus (Inglewood, California). For this season, he has all-star junior college center Larry Moffett.

Jerry Tarkanian is a towel-chewing, nail biting, hard-working Armenian who came to Las Vegas with a commitment to excellence as his inspiring philosophy. He will settle for nothing less than excellence from his players, both on and off the court. In addition to a nationally-recognized basketball program for UNLV, Tarkanian has developed a tutorial program for his players that has paid high dividends. A trademark of Tarkanian players is that they, almost without exception, earn their college degrees, even though some of them do it during the off-season as they are in professional basketball.

UNLV attempts to emphasize equally the importance of academics and basketball to all student-athletes.

Evidence of his strong belief in academics was his selection as "Professor of the Year" in 1970 by the students of Long Beach State. He was also honored as the "Father of the Year" in 1966 by Riverside County for his "guidance and care on and off the court of all the young men under his tutelage, as well as his family of four."

Tarkanian's players have gone on to play in professional basketball. They include Chuck Terry (Houston Rockets), Eric McWilliams (Houston Rockets), George Trapp (Detroit Pistons), Bob Rule (Cleveland Cavaliers), Ed Ratleff (Houston Rockets), John Q. Trapp (Los Angeles Lakers), Glenn MacDonald (Boston Celtics), Leonard Gray (Seattle Supersonics), and most recently Ricky Sobers (Phoenix Suns). Darrell Evans, who played for Tarkanian in junior college, is a starter for the Atlanta Braves in major league baseball.

An intense individual, Tark has coached in Ecuador for the People-to-People Sports Committee and, in April and May of 1968, he coached the Junior College Olympic Team in the Olympic Trials.

The 46-year old coach easily won the hearts of Las Vegas fans, and the Los Angeles Times called him an "instant Las Vegas celebrity."

A true champion builder, when he arrived at Long Beach the team was unknown nationally. When he left, it was an established power, second in the West only to UCLA.

A native of Euclid, Ohio, Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State in 1956. He received his Master's degree from Redlands University in 1960.

Tarkanian and his ever-active and totally-involved wife, Lois, reside with their four children Pamela, Jodie, Danny and George—in their sparkling Las Vegas home.

With Tarkanian's tradition and image, invitations for him to speak at clinics and banquets arrive almost daily. He will average nearly one per week during the off-season, sending him all over the country.

Las Vegas is one of the most unique cities in the world, one which sees losers every day. Maybe that's why they appreciate a man like Jerry Tarkanian even more. He's a winner.

A Taste of Something Better.

With life as hurried as it is now, we often find ourselves longing for the "Good Old Days". That time we remember, when dinner was an all day event, and everything was gathered from the local fields. The whole family would help to make dinner a special time, with garden fresh corn, potatoes, and soup as thick as stew, and Mother would serve hot biscuits, bread, and desserts like home made pastry.

Today, dinner like the "Good Old Days" is a tradition at Cohen & Kelly's Restaurant and Pub. They offer entree's which range from Beef Duke of Wellington to Poached Channel Cod, and desserts like pastries make fresh daily in their own bakery.

Today, if you're looking for a taste of something better, a memory of days gone by, join us at Cohen & Kelly's Restaurant. Serving dinner nightly, from 5 PM until 11 PM.

We

Simple words, to be sure. But they've come to mean a lot to all of us at your Albertsons supermarket! You see, the big reason why we really care is YOU!

You're the reason we keep our everyday food prices as low as possible. And why we offer "bonus buy" items every day for even greater savings.

You're the reason we show the price of most food items by pounds, quarts, etc. for easier cost comparison.

And why we provide those "important little extras". Like showing you the actual fat content of our ground beef.

Like including a freshness date on many perishables.

Like express check-out lanes.

Like our easy-to-spot store director in the gold coat.

And like the convenience of longer store hours.

You're also the reason we guarantee everything we sell. And why we want to know if you're not satisfied with our service.

Shop with us today and we'll prove we really do care about you. After all, you're the whole reason for Albertsons.

BOULEVARD

ALL-AMERICA Eddie Owens

Mr. Consistency. Poetry in motion. Easy Eddie. Take your pick, they all fit. Eddie Owens became UNLV's second Division I All-America last season and he was only a junior.

After three seasons of leading the Rebels in scoring, Easy Eddie has emerged on the national scene as an outstanding college basketball player. And his junior season would have been a career for many college athletes.

The fluid-motion, skillful sharpshooter had the finest season of his Runnin' Rebel career—doing it all, literally. He made 307 of 572 field goal attempts (he is primarily an outside shooter), for a brilliant .537 percent, 111 of 138 free throws for an even more impressive .804 percentage, got 163 rebounds for an average of 5.3 per game, and scored 725 points for an average of 23.4 points per game.

And most noteworthy of his statistics is that he played an average of only 27 minutes per game, by far the least of any other All-America in the country last season. But he plays for the Runnin' Rebels, a complete TEAM, not a couple of superstars.

Easy Eddie has not missed a Runnin' Rebel game since coming here for the 1973-74 season as a prep All-America from Wheatley High School in Houston, where he was the 1973 Texas Prep Player-of-the-Year.

An outstanding talent, he has twice been selected as the MVP of the Las Vegas Holiday Classic (1974 and 1975), and made both the 1974 Bluebonnet Classic team and the 1975 Steel Bowl Classic all-tourney squad. After this past season, in which he was the 18th leading scorer in the nation, he was selected to the first team Independent All-America team and also received honorable mention status on both the AP and UPI squads.

Owens was picked first team All-West Coast last year by both UPI and the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and, by invitation, he tried out for the 1976 United States Olympic team.

Easy Eddie is a student, too, it's one of the reasons he withdrew his name from the hardship draft after last season and elected to remain at UNLV and earn his degree in Social Services.

His consistency on the basketball court is nothing short of phenomenal. Over the past two seasons he has scored 20 or more points in 35 games and only once in those 60 games did he not score in double figures.

During the 1975-76 season, Easy Eddie scored more than 30 points on five nights, including a career high 35 against Pepperdine University. His finest all-around game was in the championship of the 1975 Las Vegas Holiday Classic. The Rebels rolled over the University of Michigan (the Wolverines went all the way to the national championship game against Indiana last year), 108-94, and Easy Eddie never earned his All-America status more emphatically.

With a solid hustling effort, Easy Eddie played 29 minutes, made 12 of 19 field goal attempts, and eight of eight pressure free throws for 32 points against the talented Wolverines.

He is now the fourth all-time-leading Rebel scorer with 1,522 points in his 86-game career for an average of 17.7 points per game.

As a prep, Owens led his Wheatley team to an amazing 43-1 record and the State championship during his senior year.

Easy Eddie is quietly, but consistently, ready to re-establish himself as a Runnin' Rebel All-America. What a basketball player this young man truly is. Birthdate: December 26, 1953. Social Studies major.

A GROWING UNIVERSITY

It was 25 years ago that Las Vegas witnessed the arrival of its first university professor. He was Jim Dickinson, an English instructor from the University of Nevada, Reno, who was sent to the south to start the first college-level classes here in 1951.

Dickinson started pretty much on a shoestring, teaching his courses out of Las Vegas High School wherever he could congregate with a group of students — in dressing rooms, on the theatre balcony, anywhere that wouldn't interfere with the high school's regular activities. His "office" was in the corner of a room also occupied by Tuffy, the campus security guard.

That's the way higher education got its start in Southern Nevada. But if the origins are a bit humble, the progress that has been made by the University of Nevada, Las Vegas over the past quarter century has been nothing short of spectacular.

Today, UNLV finds itself to be one of the fastest-growing universities in the country, built for the most part during the 1970's. It has developed a spacious, 300-acre campus dotted with modern buildings, a young energetic faculty of more than 350 professors, and academic degree programs in 65 different subject areas.

The school is making a name for itself in the sciences too, with its extensive research programs in the fields of desert ecology, environmental biology and geology.

The past year was a significant one at UNLV. Here are some of the highlights:

Enrollment: There are now more than 8,000 students enrolled at the university. Last fall, the enrollment took a jump of nearly 14 per cent over the year before, a rate of several times the national average. Students come from every state of the nation and more than three dozen foreign countries.

Instruction: Presently, students may enroll in degree programs at the bachelor's and master's degree levels taught by UNLV's 32 academic departments. The school also offers a doctorate in education as a joint program between UNLV and the University of Nevada, Reno.

The university conducted its third successful "Mini Term" in January, an innovative two-week program giving students intensive study into topics of wide ranging and timely concern. Some students worked in local business or government offices, while others traveled out of state to investigate everything from plant ecology to mountain resorts.

New Construction: Completion is expected this fall on two major new facilities on the campus — a 2,000 seat concert hall and a three-story life sciences building.

The Artemus W. Ham Concert Hall will serve as a cultural home for the broadest possible range of presentations, including light opera, ballet, folk and pop music, jazz and full symphonic productions. Seating 1,500 patrons on the main floor and another 500 persons in the mezzanine, the hall will feature a versatile stage and a flexible acoustical system which will allow innovations in sight and sound such as found in only the finest concert halls.

The 68,000-square-foot Juanita Greer White Hall has been designed as a research and teaching facility for some 1,100 students per semester in the biological sciences. The ground floor has been developed around a two-story-high atrium that will be a centerpiece of exotic and tropical plants and an actual living area for a number of small mammals, reptiles and birds in an earthen setting.

The building will provide space for an animal center complete with surgery and autopsy rooms, an aquatics laboratory for the study of fish and amphibians, and botany laboratories where plants may be studied in a natural environment.

UNLV SCHOLARSHIP DONORS

Rebel athletics have come a long way. But they would never have come so far, so fast, if it were not for the over 1,100 scholarship donors on the 1976-77 Rebels Club roster.

Since the Rebel fund-raising drives have started, a new record has been set every year and this year over $725,000 has been raised through generous donations to support the grant-in-aid program for UNLV intercollegiate athletics.

But even more than this, Rebel boosters do more than donate money. They participate in every way. From being great fans like we have here tonight, or being "sideline coaches" in private talks with Rebel coaches.

The degree of involvement by the Rebel boosters in UNLV athletics is truly phenomenal. That is why it is with great honor and thankfulness, we present the 1976-77 UNLV athletic scholarship donors with our heartfelt gratitude:

UNLV Scene

By Barbara Scarantino
UNLV Information Office

Once upon a time, as the story goes, a series of adventures from the Grimm Brothers fairy tales and Aesop's Fables were blended together by playwright Paul Sills which resulted in his runaway Broadway hit, "Story Theatre."

A Las Vegas version of the production opened last night in the Judy Bayley Theatre at UNLV under the direction of Fred Olson.

The characters in the play are some of the most memorable from anyone's childhood: Henny Penny, The Golden Goose, Venus the Cat, the Fisherman and His Wife and many others.

According to Olson, the play is episodic in nature, meaning that it is a collection of individual tales strung together in an ingenious way, all emanating from a giant-sized storybook.

The set is a design of tubes which looks like large children's building blocks, a crayon box and a huge ruler.

The over-sized storybook houses the characters and the few props that are used, such as hats and other small items which help to represent the characters.

With so few props and no change of scenery, the challenge to both director and actor is that the responsibility for stirring the audience's imagination and delight rests solely with the technique and interpretation of those on stage.

Members of the "Story Theatre" cast are Dolly Coulter, Ginny Enomoto, Lisa Gurley, Shari Knox, Beni Martines, Debbi Swihart, Joshua Abbey, Tom Barr, Dom Brascia, Doug Kane, Monty Meinzer and Lanyard Williams.

The production continues each weekend through Dec. 15.

The second half of the theatre season will offer three more fine productions gracing the stage of the Judy Bayley Theatre.

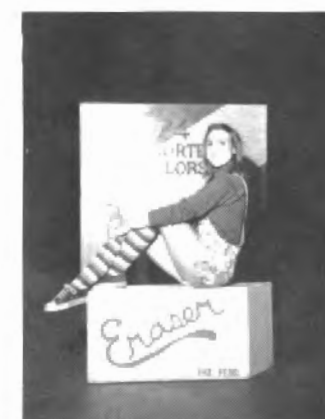

In February, the greatest love story of all time, "Romeo and Juliet," will be presented under the guest-direction of Hugh Sullivan of London's Royal Shakespeare Company.

A late-middle-aged zoo attendant who still has lingering visions of being a songwriter tries to divert disaster in the chaotic comedy, "The House of Blue Leaves," opening March 25.

And old Mack-the-knife with his sinister pearly whites cavorts with seedy characters, thieves and corrupt police officials in the rowdy and raucous "Three Penny Opera" during the month of May.

This final production is a joint effort by the music and theatre arts departments and combines the oompah of the German beer hall with the beat of American jazz.

Ticket information on all Judy Bayley Theatre productions may be obtained by calling the theatre box office, 739-3641, from 1 to 5 p.m. daily.

CHILDHOOD TALES — Over-sized crayon boxes, erasers and story books set the stage for "Story Theatre," the latest presentation in the Judy Bayley Theatre at UNLV. Playwright Paul Sills has blended together the best of the Grimm Brothers fairy tales and Aesop's Fables to bring to the stage an evening of enchantment for young and old alike. The play continues until Dec. 15. Reservations are available by calling the Judy Bayley Box Office at 739-3641.

TONIGHT'S GAME

by Dominic Clark
UNLV Sports Information Director

Game no. 2 in the Las Vegas Convention Center for the 1976-77 UNLV basketball season pits the RUNNIN' REBELS against the Cyclones of Iowa State University.

ISU, under first year head coach Lynn Nance, began their season on Wednesday by hosting St. Louis University, and are making their first-ever trip to Las Vegas, but this is the second time the school has faced the Rebels. Last January, UNLV travelled to Ames, Iowa, and defeated ISU, 88-82 in a regionally televised game.

Iowa State has three starters back from that team and a new coach with a host of promise and new talent to work with for this season.

The new look Cyclones may have one of the nation's youngest teams during this winter's wars as it begins a massive rebuilding campaign from last year's disastrous 3-24 record.

The man-size job of coordinating the rebuilding falls upon Nance, fresh from Kentucky's traditional program as the top assistant the past two years.

There is more to the new look than a new staff at ISU, however. Hercle Ivy and Art Johnson, leaders in recent years, have graduated and this year's roster has no less than nine new faces, who will form a sound, but untested nucleus for both tonight and tomorrow.

"We've got our work cut out," Nance admits. "It's going to take time with a new coaching staff and a schedule this strong. We're going to approach the season positively, work hard and see how quickly the new blends with the old."

Iowa State believes it has a sound recruiting year, picking up four junior college and five high school products. All have found themselves in immediate contention for playing time as nobody has a secure position after last season. Besides a rugged Big Eight schedule, Iowa State this season plays Tulsa, Cal-Berkeley, Vanderbilt and Arizona State along with tonight's game against UNLV.

Jerry Tarkanian and his RUNNIN' REBELS have their work cut out for them against a scrappy Cyclone from Ames, Iowa.

It will be interesting to see if the RUNNIN' REBELS can be slowed down at all by a Midwest Cyclone.

THE UNIVERSITY REBELS CLUB

Davey Pearl Dr. Wayne Pearson William Morris

Certainly one of the finest in the nation, the University Rebels Club continues to be the driving force behind booster support for the UNLV athletic program. With continued active member participation, the URC is growing even stronger.

This past spring, the URC culminated its greatest fund-raising drive ever bringing in nearly $730,000 for the support of the grant-in-aid program for Rebel athletics. This total once again is one of the top five in the entire nation, and, to think UNLV has had only just over a decade of graduating classes, so the alumni roster isn't very long.

The honorary list of alumni at UNLV is one of the largest as the record drive indicates all the thousands of Rebel supporters there are in Las Vegas. The Big Three in the continual push to keep the Rebel's name before the public and the interest sustaining at a high peak are Davey Pearl, Wayne Pearson, and William "Wildcat Morris".

Davey, the energetic little fireball, is the coordinator for booster support activities at UNLV while Dr. Pearson is the director of fund-raising for UNLV athletics.

Wildcat, whose optimism and enthusiasm has sustained the Rebel program over the years, is a former University Regent, prominent Las Vegas businessman and attorney and epitomized the type of individual who is a Rebel booster.

And, then, of course, there are the visiting honorary alumni like Mr. Frank Sinatra. For two summers now, Dr. Sinatra has given of his time and his music, and now even his money, to provide UNLV with two of its most memorable evenings ever.

This past May 18, over 3,000 Rebel boosters jammed Caesar's Palace Hotel to hear Mr. Sinatra sing a sincere, "Las Vegas, my kind of town . . . Las Vegas is . . ."

With support like this, how can we go wrong. Call Davey or Wayne anytime at the URC office on the UNLV campus at 739-3614.

REBEL PROFILE

Ralph Readout, Assistant Coach

Ralph Readout returns for his third season as an assistant coach under Jerry Tarkanian.

This exuberant coach has 14 years of head coaching experience at the prep level in Ohio, where he established winning programs at four schools.

He has an extensive background in many fields, having earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Ohio University in 1953, and his Master of Arts degree in Educational Administration from Ohio State University in 1961. Readout attended Ohio University on a scholastic scholarship and graduated with honors from Ohio State's graduate school. He was a stellar basketball player while at Ohio U.

Tark's assistant is an intense and enthusiastic coach with keen insight into the learning process and psychological applications of coaching. His approach to basketball coaching is firmly based on psychological motivation and his contributions to the success of last year's 29-2 record-breaking Rebel team were indeed significant.

He was quite an athlete at Ohio University: he played not only basketball, but baseball as well, he was a three-year letterman starter and was elected captain of his basketball team.

He has a great relationship with the Rebel players and has the innate ability to communicate on all levels with those with whom he is associated.

He first came to UNLV in 1973 and served as an assistant football coach under Ron Meyer (who is now at SMU), working with the defensive secondary.

Ralph and his wife, Dottie, are thoroughly enamored of the Las Vegas community.

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?

Every football team has to have one, but the UNLV football program is graced to have one of the country's finest. Dr. Thomas Armour, General Surgeon, has been on the sideline for each of the first eight Rebel football seasons, and, thankfully, he will be with the program again in 1976.

The son of the late legendary professional golfer, Tommy Armour (who has just been inducted into the PGA Hall of Fame), Dr. Armour has seemingly devoted his life to athletics, especially to the UNLV Rebels. Although he certainly does have his own practice, a charming wife, and two children, one would scarcely know that he is not an employee of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

From giving physical examinations for all sports in pre-season, through treatment of athletic injuries during the seasons, and even some post-season physical assistance, Dr. Armour has given countless hours of his time and energy to assist the UNLV program.

A 1951 graduate of the New York Medical College, he earned his bachelor's degree in pre-med at Columbia University in New York. His internship and residence was at George Washington Hospital in the Nation's capital.

The first Chief of Surgery for the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colorado, Dr. Armour spent eight years in the Air Force and was also the team physician for the Air Force Academy teams before coming to Las Vegas in 1967.

Dr. Armour is on the sideline for every Rebel home football and basketball game, sitting right on the Rebel bench in basketball, and he travels to as many games as his schedule will allow.

CONVENTION CENTER ... HOME OF THE RUNNIN' REBELS

RUNNIN' REBEL HOME—The luxurious 6,257-seat Las Vegas Convention Center is the home of the UNLV basketball team. The arena has been virtually SOLD OUT for four consecutive seasons and starting the 1976-77 season, the Runnin' Rebels had won 40 straight games in the facility, second longest active winning streak at home. Cincinnati has the longest at 41 games, but they are moving to a different arena this season. Last year, the Runnin' Rebels averaged over 113 points per game in the arena, known throughout the land as Tark's Shark Tank.
