JERRY TARKANIAN

1984 PCAA Coach-of-the-Year
1984 Basketball Times' Coach-of-the-Year
1983 UPI Coach-of-the-Year

For nearly a quarter of a century, Jerry Tarkanian's home has been the basketball court. Each year as he presides as the head of this prestigious household, he preaches virtues such as hard work, discipline and loyalty.

It has been a happy home for as long as anyone can remember — or at least the past 23 collegiate seasons. For his 12th consecutive season, Tarkanian will head one of Las Vegas' most successful and closely knit families — the UNLV Runnin' Rebel basketball team.

Tarkanian may be regarded as the fatherly figure to some, especially his son Danny, who was the starting point guard for three years before graduating after the 1983-84 season, but all regard him as one of collegiate basketball's finest coaches of all-time.

Tarkanian is nearing a coaching milestone that so few before him have attained. When UNLV wins its seventh game of the 1984-85 season, that will mark Tarkanian's 600th career win as a collegiate coach. His overall record currently stands at 593-118, a winning percentage of .834.

His 593 wins include his seven seasons at the junior college level. At the major college level, Tarkanian's record is very impressive as he is the winningest (by percentage) active collegiate coach in the land. He has a winning percentage of .805 in 16 years of major college coaching. With his record at 381-92, Tarkanian is only 19 wins away from his 400th major college victory.

For all of his achievements on the basketball court, Tarkanian is sometimes overlooked for what he does off the court in the Las Vegas community. A very popular local figure—sports or otherwise—he spends many hours of his time involved with community related functions and charities. Last year, Tarkanian was honored by the Las Vegas Kidney Foundation as Man-of-the-Year for his efforts on behalf of that organization. He also runs state-wide basketball camps and clinics for youngsters of all ages as well as being an active member of various charitable organizations.

The University recognized what he has been doing for the Las Vegas community and named him Assistant Athletic Director with designated duties as Director of Community Relations in 1982.

While at UNLV, Tarkanian has molded the Rebels into a veritable basketball dynasty. In his 11 seasons, he has failed to win 20 games just once—in 1980-81 when his Rebels were 16-12. He has guided his teams to the NCAA Tournament five times and the NIT twice. In the 1976-77 season, UNLV placed third in the NCAA Tournament by beating North Carolina Charlotte 106-94 in the Consolation Game. In the 1979-80 season, the Rebels finished fourth in the NIT. UNLV under Tarkanian currently has a 10-6 post-season record.

The 1983-84 campaign was another masterpiece for the Runnin' Rebels. The team was 29-6—the third time Tarkanian has won as many as 29 games at UNLV—and advanced to the Far West Regional Final of the NCAA's before losing to eventual National Champion Georgetown. UNLV was the first team in the nation to reach the 21-, 22- and 23-win plateaus. The team captured its second consecutive PCAA regular season title with a 16-2 mark. Finally, Tarkanian was named Coach-of-the-Year by Basketball Times and the PCAA for 1984. He had been UPI's choice in 1983.

UNLV is not the only school that Tarkanian has had coaching success. At Cal State-Long Beach from 1968-72, he compiled a 122-20 record (.859) in five seasons and reached the NCAA's four times. He never lost a home game in those five seasons, including a streak of 65 home wins in a row. He also earned other honors at Long Beach, including being named Professor-of-the-Year and Salesman-of-the-Year for his job of promoting the University.

Prior to CSULB, Tarkanian coached at Pasadena City College for two seasons (1966-68). He was 67-4 over those two seasons and won a California Junior College Championship to wrap-up the 1966-67 season.

Tarkanian started his collegiate coaching career at Riverside City College and in five seasons compiled a 145-22 record. After a first season of 14-13, Tarkanian guided Riverside to three California Junior College Championships, including a perfect season (1963-64) of 35-0.

Another attribute that Tarkanian is widely known for is his ability to recruit. He is known in basketball circles as the "Pied Piper of Basketball Recruiting"—a title he is indeed worthy of.

Every year, no matter how thin the recruiting field is, Tarkanian manages to attract only the top prospects.

Among the top recruits Tarkanian managed to bring to Long Beach during his years there include: George Trapp, Chuck Terry, Ed Ratleff, Leonard Gray and Roscoe Poindexter. His reputation as a great recruiter continued to grow at UNLV. As he took the Rebels into the national limelight throughout his 11 seasons, he has attracted such stars as: Eddie Owens (Houston, Texas); Lewis Brown and Jackie Robinson (both high school All-Americans from Los Angeles, Calif.). He also brought to Las Vegas Robert Smith (Los Angeles, Calif.), Reggie Theus (Inglewood, Calif.), Larry Moffett (Gary, Indiana), Richard Box (Riverside, Calif.) and Las Vegas products Sam Smith and Michael "Spiderman" Burns.

More recently, his recruiting list included 1979 New York City Player-of-the-Year (HS) Sidney Green, 1979 Pittsburgh Player-of-the-Year (HS) Larry Anderson and 1978 Los Angeles Player-of-the-Year (HS) Michael Johnson. He has also brought in the likes of 1982 Los Angeles Player-of-the-Year (HS) Eldridge Hudson, his son and current UNLV record holder in career steals and assists Danny Tarkanian, former University of San Francisco star Eric Booker, former University of Arizona star Jeff Collins, Las Vegas prep star Freddie Banks, former Indiana University star John Flowers, Frank "Spoon" James (Baltimore, Maryland), Ed Catchings (Los Angeles, Calif.), and Richard Robinson (Granada Hills, Calif.).

Many of Tarkanian's players do not end their basketball careers at college. Among the players coached by Tarkanian that have gone on to the professional ranks include: Chuck Terry (Houston Rockets), Eric McWilliams (Houston Rockets), George Trapp (Detroit Pistons), Bob Rule (Cleveland Cavaliers), Ed Ratleff

UNLV alumni in the pros at one time or another include: Ricky Sobers (Seattle Sonics), Larry Moffett (Houston Rockets), Eddie Owens (Buffalo Braves), Jackie Robinson (Seattle Supersonics), Sam Smith (Chicago Bulls), Glen Gondrezick (Denver Nuggets, New York Knicks) Sidney Green (Chicago Bulls, Kansas City Kings). In addition, four members of the 1983-84 Rebel squad were selected in the recent college draft. They are Jeff Collins (Phoenix Suns, 4th round), Danny Tarkanian (San Antonio Spurs, 8th round), Eric Booker (Utah Jazz, 8th round) and Paul Brozovich (Golden State Warriors, 8th round).

In Tarkanian's 11 years at UNLV, a total of 23 players have been drafted by the NBA. Six players along from the 1976-77 team were drafted in the NBA — an NCAA and NBA record.

Tarkanian has been honored with other coaching duties throughout his stellar career. He coached in Ecuador for the People-to-People Sports Committee in April and May of 1968 and he also coached the Junior College Olympic Team that same year.

A native of Euclid, Ohio, Tarkanian attended Pasadena City College before graduating from Fresno State in 1955. He then went on to earn his Masters degree — with honors — in Educational Management from Redlands University.

Tarkanian and his wife Lois reside with their four children—Pamela, Jodie, Danny and George—in the Charleston Heights section of Las Vegas.

UNLV DIRECTOR OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS Dr. Brad Rothermel

For the 1983-84 academic year, the University of Nevada, Las Vegas has had each of its fourteen intercollegiate sports, with only two exceptions, represented in post-season, national competition. In addition, exactly half of those sports were ranked nationally in the top 20 at one time or another. Much of the credit for this outstanding intercollegiate record goes to UNLV's Director of Intercollegiate Athletics, Dr. Brad Rothermel.

Rothermel, now entering his fifth year as UNLV's Athletic Director, has built UNLV athletics to the point where the university is now very competitive at both the conference and national levels.

Rothermel's philosophy while at UNLV has been that the function of the intercollegiate athletic program is to provide for student-athletes an environment in which those student-athletes are able to pursue excellence in selected extracurricular educationally related athletic activities. Furthermore, his objective for the programs is to win within the structure of the rules and the budgetary framework provided. The achievement of this goal is demonstrated by successfully competing against national championship caliber competition in all activities sponsored by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Prior to his appointment at UNLV in 1981, he was Associate Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at West Virginia University. From 1974 to 1976 he was employed as Assistant Director and Business Manager for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at Kansas State University.

Rothermel supervised the intercollegiate athletic programs for men and women while serving as Director of the Division of Health and Physical Education at George Williams College in Downers Grove, Illinois, from 1971 to 1974.

From 1965 to 1967, he served as Supervisor of Counseling and Research Development while functioning in the capacity of Assistant Athletic Director of the University of Illinois Athletic Association. Prior to that position he was an administrative associate and coach for the Chicago National League Baseball Ball Club, Inc. (Chicago Cubs).

In addition to his above mentioned athletic positions, Rothermel has served as an administrator in numerous educational, recreational, and financial environments. He also possesses coaching and experience as a competitor at all levels from elementary school through the professional ranks.

Rothermel received his Ph.D. in 1965 and a M.S. degree in 1961 from the College of Applied Human Life Sciences at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana. He received his B.S. from Northern Illinois University in 1960.

Rothermel and his wife, Suzanne, a kindergarten teacher in the Clark County District, have two daughters; Beth, 15, and Christine, 11.

Tim Grgurich begins his fifth season with the Runnin' Rebel coaching staff. Grgurich adds a tremendous amount of coaching expertise to the Runnin' Rebel program.

A graduate of Central Catholic High School in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Grgurich earned three letters in both basketball and baseball. He then attended the University of Pittsburgh and was a three year letter-winner in both basketball and baseball. While playing for Pitt, the Panthers appeared in one NCAA Tournament and one NIT Tournament, making it to the quarter-finals each time.

COACHING EXPERIENCE—Grgurich began his lengthy collegiate coaching career as an assistant coach at his Alma Mater, the University of Pittsburgh. Serving as the assistant coach for the Panthers for 11 seasons, Grgurich also coached Pitt's freshman basketball team and tallied an impressive 99-33 record. He was appointed Head Coach of the Panthers in 1975 and tallied a five year record of 71-70. Grgurich compiled a 52-30 mark his last three seasons at Pitt. Live the life you want, Nevada!

For all of us here in Nevada, living the life we want often means something a little different. But it always means something special. Most of all, it means working together.

And no matter the life you choose to live, First Interstate Bank of Nevada is committed to helping you live it.

Maybe it's making a move for the better with the help of a home improvement loan. Or planning for retirement with one of our IRAs. For some, it's a new car or recreational vehicle. Or a college education with a government-backed student loan offered only through First Interstate Bank of Nevada. Perhaps it's financial strength for that growing business. Or a consumer banking package that fits your individual needs.

First Interstate Bank of Nevada and you. Working together to help you live the life you want. Just as we've been doing for the past eighty-two years.

THE PACIFIC COAST ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The PCAA, now entering its 16th year, is developing into one of the strongest Division I conferences in the nation.

Since 1978, the PCAA has grown from an all California League to a league that has members from four states in the western part of the nation. The leagues' newest member, New Mexico State, will participate in conference football for the first time in the 1984 season.

In addition to New Mexico State, the other PCAA members are California State University, Fullerton; California State University, Long Beach; Fresno State University; San Jose State University; University of California, Irvine; University of California, Santa Barbara; University of Nevada, Las Vegas; University of the Pacific and Utah State University.

Lewis A. Cryer, who begins his seventh year as Commissioner of the PCAA, has overseen the conferences' phenomenal growth during his tenure. Under his guidance, the PCAA has grown in stature to rival some of the more established conferences in the nation. The PCAA has also recently added championships for women's basketball, swimming and track and field and is currently working to expand the PCAA women's league.

Working in the PCAA office with Cryer are: Assistant Commissioner Dennis Farrell; Supervisor of Football Officials Jack O'Cain; Supervisor of Basketball Officials John Dangleis; Assistant to the Commissioner Jody Harter; Administrative Assistant Dodie Hayes and Secretary Michele Schimpf-Scott.

REBEL TRADITION

Without certain traditions, a Runnin' Rebel game just wouldn't be the same. Last season a new tradition was added, which has become a favorite part of the pre-game hoopla. Thanks to Mr. George Gerringer, the Runnin' Rebels enter the Thomas and Mack Center on their own red carpet, as we ROLL OUT THE RED CARPET FOR YOUR RUNNIN' REBELS. Mr. Gerringer crafted and donated the red carpet for the Rebels.

Another time-honored tradition is the pre-game light show, which is a carry-over from the days the Rebels played in the Convention Center, where the original pre-game lighting show was designed by Art Rader.

Diagnosticians In The World

Allen introduces a bold new concept for service in the 80's. The world's first and only engine diagnostic computer that collects data based on an auto's actual operating characteristics – sifts this information automatically, and deduces in the most logical manner which of the engine parts are defective and need to be replaced or repaired. Faulty components are pinpointed for all major engine systems – starting - charging - fuel distribution - compression - timing and ignition.

QUALITY SERVICE – AFFORDABLE PRICE – PLUS!

The Lifetime Service Guarantee.

Tom Coward Lincoln-Mercury offers it.
Only Ford, Lincoln, and Mercury owners can get it.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee is so extensive, it covers virtually every repair on your car or light truck, for as long as you own it. Period.

And it doesn't matter whether you bought it new, or used. Or who you bought it from.

No other dealer, no other repair service – foreign or domestic – offers this kind of security.

Free Parts. Free Labor.

Now, when you pay for a covered repair once, you never have to pay for the same repair again. Ever.

The dealer who did the work will fix it free. Free parts. Free labor. For life.

But here's the best part; the Lifetime
Service Guarantee is itself free.

A limited warranty on thousands of parts in normal use.

Things not covered are routine maintenance parts, belts, hoses, sheet metal

CATCHINGS IS BACK ON TARGET

By John Henderson

(Reprinted from 1-23-85 article with permission from Review-Journal)

To gauge how low UNLV senior Ed Catchings felt this year, picture him sitting in his hotel room Jan. 2 in Logan, Utah, after the Rebels nipped Utah State. 142-140.

Of the 282 points, the most in the history of Division I basketball, Catchings didn't score any.

"It was just terrible," Catchings said. "I was happy for the other guys and I was happy we won in three overtimes, but I was hurt."

Emotionally, not physically. It's been a long half-year for the returning starter who Sport magazine said was part of an NBA-bound front line." Through his first 11 games, Catchings averaged only 5.0 points and hit double figures only once.

In the first four league games, he scored just four points.

He quietly stepped to the back-ground, few accusing fingers pointed his way, as UNLV built a winning streak. Today, Coach Jerry Tarkanian is doing some finger pointing but with the following message:

Catching is back.

"He only played three minutes against Fresno," Tarkanian said "and when the game was about over I went and put my arm around him and said, 'Eddie, don't let this get you down.' And he said, 'Coach, don't worry. We're winning and that's what counts.' And he meant it. Some kids say it an don't mean it.

"He may be the nicest person we've ever had here."

Most of this year, Catchings was more noted for his pleasant, quiet personality than the array of jump shots that propelled him to second on the team in scoring last year (12.3).

In the past three games, that's changed.

It all started in the 93-76 blowout at UC Santa Barbara. Tarkanian, looking for a opportunity to build his confidence, put Catchings in for 18 minutes and he hit four of six shots for nine points, his second highest total this year.

He came back three days later on national television to hit 10 of 10 free throws for a season-high 14 points as the Rebels knocked off Maryland, 78-76. Brimming with a new outlook. Catching stormed off the bench Monday night to play 21 minutes and hit four of six shots for 14 points in an 83-69 rout of Cal State-Fullerton.

He's still only averaging 6.1 points and shooting 40 percent, but his recent resurgence gives UNLV some needed depth and experience in the front line.

"I was upset," said Catchings of his early play, "but I kept my head into it. I kept my head up, practiced hard and now, it's paying off."

Catchings' disappearing act would have made Houdini proud but he had a valid reason. He just didn't tell anybody. He dominated practices all pre-season but when the bell sounded he went 2-for-6 against Nevada-Reno, 2-for-10 against Colorado State and 2-for-8 against Georgetown.

This is the same guy who shot 61 percent last year.

Once his jumper wouldn't fall, his whole game almost snowballed into oblivion. However, detected by nobody, he had the flu. He caught it just before the opener and it not only cost him five pounds, it also cost him a lot of wind.

It peaked during the holiday tournaments.

"I was really sick then," Catchings said. "I was just out there."

Catchings secretly went to a doctor and took a physical which proved negative for any virus. You've got the flu, he was told, so just keep warm and give it time. The time is now. He's finally well.

"To go through what he went through this year, we didn't have one problem with him," Tarkanian said. "A lot of other guys say it's the coach's fault, their teammates' fault. He didn't say a word.

'A couple of other guys on the team are just the opposite. They're always saying it's somebody else's fault. That's not Eddie's case."

Catchings doesn't say much any way, but he really clammed up this

"I just don't like to tell people I'm sick," he said. "I always keep it to myself. I don't like to baby people, I only told the doctor, and the doctor told the coach, I don't know how everybody found out."

It didn't help that Catchings was learning a new position. Hoping to take advantage of his jump shot Tarkanian inserted him at the wing and his shooting flopped. He's played mostly inside lately except against Maryland when his ballhandling on the wing helped protect a 12-point lead for nearly five minutes in the delay game.

"Coach has me coming in for Spoon (James, a wing)," Catchings said. "I think I play better down low. But to move up to the next level I have to play outside. That's why I've been really working on my ballhandling. I think I did a pretty good job against Maryland."

Tarkanian always said he wasn't giving up on Catchings even though he only played him three minutes against Fresno State. What he needed was some old fashioned blow-outs, and he got them. With them, he has Catchings back.

"He kept me going," Catchings said. "After I went in against Santa Barbara and got nine points, I heard the coaches saying I'm coming back. In the Maryland game I played pretty good and against Fullerton I think I played excellent. I've just got to keep it up.

"I was sick but I still practiced and played hard. Now I'm well and I'm ready."

LAS VEGAS, THE CITY

The city of Las Vegas, Nevada is a thriving metropolis of nearly half-a-million permanent residents nestled in a desert valley near the southernmost tip of the state.

Located in the scenic southwestern United States, Las Vegas is within a 30-mile radius of Lake Mead; the massive Hoover Dam and Colorado River recreational area; the snow skiing trails of 12,000 foot Mt. Charleston; and a panorama of red-rock mountains, eroded sandstone landscapes and replicas of old western towns. Also, within easy reach is the Southern California coastal areas, Arizona's Grand Canyon, California's Death Valley and Southern Utah's Zion National Park.

First settled in 1855 as a missionary outpost of the Mormon Church, the city has grown into one of the premier entertainment spots in the world. Of course, everyone is familiar with the famed Las Vegas "Strip," where renowned entertainers come to perform and the glamour and glitter is unsurpassed anywhere. Yet, the "Strip" is by no means the only means of entertainment. In many important ways, Las Vegas is like any other large city that is on the go. There is a rich cultural scene including art galleries, theatres, ballet and numerous musical organizations.

In addition, there are new museums, recreational parks, libraries, churches and hospitals making Las Vegas a city able to satisfy every taste.

HOOVER DAM SPECTACULAR—Hoover Dam, 35 miles from Las Vegas, puts on its own show as water gushes across 100-yard-wide canyon through needle valves five feet in diameter. Hoover Dam is not only the single most popular visitor site in Southern Nevada, but it produces hydroelectric power and releases irrigation water from Lake Mead for the Southwest.

DEAD RINGER.

It's not easy saying good-bye to an old colleague...one that was with you when you first struggled to open the doors of your business.

Of course, there were days when you seriously considered replacement.

Now the time has come...a chance to improve upon the past with a telephone system and service that will allow you to rest in peace.

Dusty Mac Scores A Slam Dunk For McCarran Int'l Airport!

County facility in Las Vegas, Nev., to be the talk of the aviation industry after remodeling

Dusty Mac, our pesky Nevada sourdough miner, is still diggin' up the place in search of his legendary "lost" McCarran Mine (actually, we're remodeling, and Dusty is taking the blame for things).

FRUSTRATING EXPERIENCE

During our extensive remodeling program at McCarran Airport, passenger pick-up and drop-off can sometimes be a frustrating experience. The best advice is to have someone drive you to the airport (or take a taxi) and drop you off in front of the terminal.

ON YOUR RETURN

To avoid vehicular congestion and jangled nerves, pre-arrange to call someone when your plane arrives. By the time your baggage is sorted and delivered to the baggage pick-up area, your "ride" can meet you at the exit to the baggage claim area and you can be on your way in a matter of moments.

FREE SHUTTLE BUS

In the meantime, free shuttle bus service is still being provided to all terminals every 5 minutes from the new parking area. This is one of the best ways to avoid congestion.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, LAS VEGAS

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas, has grown and developed in its relatively short history into one of the most dynamic urban universities in the Southwest. With some 11,000 students, a vigorous Continuing Education program, and an active performing arts complex, the university has become both the educational and the cultural hub of southern Nevada.

Academic excellence has been a priority at UNLV since its inception as the Southern Regional Division of the University of Nevada in 1957. When Maude Frazier Hall opened on campus that year it stood alone, surrounded by desert and fronted by a two-lane county road.

By the mid-1960s the university had become a four-year, degree-granting institution known as Nevada Southern University. Full autonomy with status equal to UNR came in 1968, and the following year the Board of Regents gave the campus its new name: the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

UNLV is part of the University of Nevada System, which is governed by the nine-member Nevada Board of Regents. Its 335 acres of park-like landscaping and modern buildings is located two miles from the Las Vegas Strip, in the heart of a busy commercial and residential area.

The push for academic excellence has intensified in recent months under the direction of UNLV's energetic new president, Dr. Robert C. Maxson. During the first months of Dr. Maxson's administration a number of substantial gifts have come to UNLV to support academics and to help build the new School of Engineering and Computer Science. Of these, the Margaret Elardi Nevada Scholars Program and the Harold and Mayme Stocker Interest-Free Loan Program are notable for the impetus they give to the university's campaign to attract Nevada's finest high school graduates.

Nevada Power Company's recent pledge of $1.5 million came soon after a gift of $500,000 by construction general contractor J.A. Tiberti, both for support of the engineering school.

The drive to expand UNLV's engineering and computing science programs actually began in 1982 when local business and community leaders visited the Silicon Valley in California, where they learned that establishment of an accredited engineering school at UNLV is critical to attracting clean, high-technology business to southern Nevada. It has moved forward decisively since then. An academic program was designed and received regent's approval, new faculty members have been hired, and plans have been drawn for a $15.2 million building to house the school.

Most significantly, the groundswell of support from the Greater Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, the Nevada Development Authority, the UNLV Foundation, and other groups established specifically to promote the school has resulted in substantial private contributions to the project.

When the new engineering building is constructed, it will join several important additions to UNLV's physical plant that have opened in the past several years, including the $11.7 million Frank and Estella Beam Hall, which houses the colleges of Business and Economics and Hotel Administration; and the 18,500-seat Thomas and Mack Center, home of the Runnin' Rebels and the site of major popular concerts and sporting events. The business and hotel building is named for the parents of donor Thomas T. Beam, and the arena is named for long-time UNLV supporters Jerome Mack and E. Parry Thomas.

UNLV is proud of its physical facilities—its $5 million Alta Ham Fine Arts Building and $7 million, four-story addition to James R. Dickinson Library among them—but campus administrators, faculty, and students understand that the heart of the university lies in its teaching and research programs.

Bachelor's degrees are awarded in 50 major subjects, and 28 programs lead to the master's degree. Specialist and doctorate degrees are offered in education. All programs have been fully accredited by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges.

The university has a distinguished faculty of more than the 400 men and women who are actively involved in teaching, research, and community service.

Faculty members, 77 percent of whom hold doctorates, have come to UNLV from some of the nation's greatest universities; many have extensive experience in the professions in which they teach.

The UNLV Humanities Building

UNLV operates on the semester system, with a Mini Term offered between Spring and Fall semesters and two five-week sessions scheduled during the summer. Regular daytime classes are augmented by a strong evening program.

Las Vegas residents by the thousands—some 15,000 annually, in fact—take advantage of the more than 500 credit and non-credit courses offered each year by the Division of Continuing Education. These "Classes for People" are designed with a wide range of potential students in mind: teachers, nurses and other professionals who need course work to stay current in their fields; persons interested in developing artistic and handicraft skills; business people who want to gain expertise in new areas or brush up on present abilities; people who want to learn photography, writing, computer programming; virtually anyone who wants to learn.

An ever-expanding and growing UNLV campus.

Academics play the most vital role in UNLV's growth.

A MAN AND HIS TOWEL

Everybody wants to know about the Tarkanian trademark — Tark's Towel. The towel dates back to Jerry Tarkanian's Long Beach State days, when an ingenious manager devised it to help Coach's mouth from getting dry. Actually, there are two towels; the one on top is wet (soaked in nothing more than tap water) and the one on the bottom is dry and is used simply to keep the wet one from sitting on the floor. The towel is wetted and folded (into 16ths, by the way) by a designated student-manager, who has learned the folding technique from a predecessor. The towels are handed to Coach Tarkanian as he enters the court at pre-game. The folder of the towel, most recently, is student-manager Barry Vaccaro, a junior from Pittsburgh, PA. Vaccaro adds that the towels are nothing more than plain, ordinary locker-room towels (but he does go through the stack to find the least raunchy ones!).

I've been banking in this State for over thirty years and when I'm out talking to people they tell me they want personal attention.

We offer that at Security Bank and we do it better than any other bank in the State.

At Security Bank we offer all the technology to better serve you and something more, people who care about you.

If you're just a person with a number and want to be more, visit us today.

At Security you'll find that personal banking touch. You have my word on it.

SALUTES THE UNLV REBELS

RECAP OF FIRST UNLV-UCI GAME THIS SEASON BANKS, ADAMS LIFT REBELS 99-89; TARK WINS 400th

By Mike Fitzgerald

(reprinted from 2-17-85 article with permission from Las Vegas Sun)

IRVINE, Calif. — Baby faced Freddie Banks looks like he could be Richie Adams' nephew. But Saturday afternoon, the pair turned into a wild-eyed tag team and kept slamming stubborn UC Irvine to the mat.

Banks and Adams combined for 53 points as UNLV held off the Anteaters, 99-89, before a sellout crowd of 1,496 fans at the steamy Crawford Center.

It gave the Rebels (19-3 overall and 12-1 in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association) 18 wins in their last 19 games.

Banks looked like a battleship firing long-range missiles ashore as he crashed in 6-of-7 3-point shots and finished with a game-high 30 points.

The sophomore point guard hit 9-of-15 all day from the floor and nailed 6-of-6 throws. He also picked up eight assists and had six steals, the most by any Rebel this season, and played all but one minute of the game.

Adams dropped in 11-of-14 attempts, including two eye-popping alley-oop slam dunks, and scored 23 points. The senior added seven rebounds, three steals and a blocked shot.

"I don't like to see Freddie taking so many shots — unless they're all going in like today," UNLV coach Jerry Tarkanian said with a smile. "And I thought Richie just played a super game. He practiced all week and I think it really helped."

It was Tarkanian's 400th major-college coaching victory. He's 400-95 for a winning percentage of .808.

Anthony Jones also hit 9-of-15 from the floor — including a 3-pointer — and totaled 19 points, six assists, three rebounds and a blocked shot. Ed Catchings was in double figures with 10 points and hit three straight jumpers and four consecutive free throws in the second half.

Tod Murphy connected on 11-of-12 field goal tries and led the Anteaters (11-14, 6-8) with 25 points. Johnny Rogers was close behind with 24 points and grabbed a game-high 10 rebounds.

UNLV was hotter than the 80-degree day outside, hitting 60 percent in each half for its second-best accuracy of the year.

The Rebels offensive accomplishments almost went out the window, though, as they blew a 16-point lead midway through the second half.

Irvine took advantage of Adams sitting on the bench and stormed back from a 74-58 deficit at 11:12 to narrow it to a two-point game, 74-72 on a layup by Murphy with 7:20 left as the crowd was on its feet screaming.

But Adams came in and scored 11 points in the final four minutes, including three straight buckets. Banks added four consecutive one-and one free throws and his last 3-pointer in the final minute to ice it for the Rebels.

Tarkanian also went back into a nan-to-man defense after switching to a zone just before the Anteaters made their run.

Going to a zone was just a hunch. We just quit rebounding and let them back into it," Tarkanian said. "I was trying to rest Richie and a few others because it was so hot in there."

Irvine shot at a 50-percent clip and beat the Rebels on the boards, 36-31, with many of the rebounds coming on offense.

"I was really proud of the way we played. It was the hardest we've played all year," said Irvine coach Bill Mulligan. "If UNLV didn't shoot so well from the outside, it would have been a different game. We had to start guarding their outside shooters and then Richie (Adams) becomes a machine."

The game stayed close in the first half until the halfway point when Jones hit a jumper to give UNLV a 23-18 lead at 10:17. The Rebels pulled ahead by 11, 41-30, on a one-handed, alley-oop jam by Adams on a nice feed from Spoon James at the 3:30 mark.

Jones converted a pretty pass from Banks on the break with just 1:25 left in the half to give UNLV a 47-36 advantage. Rogers scored with 40 seconds remaining, though, and the Rebels led 47-38 at the intermission.

UNLV ran out to its first 16-point lead, 65-49, on a mind blowing, behind-the-head slam by Adams on another alley-oop feed from James at 15:15 of the final half.

Eldridge Hudson hit the first of two free throws just under four minutes later to give UNLV its 74-58 margin before the Anteaters came charging back.

UNLV's Fred Banks led the Rebels with a game-high 30 points.

The Brian Head Beginner-to-Hero Ski Package $1995

For those of you who have always wanted to ski but thought it might be a little embarrassing just standing around by the rope tow, we have good news.

We call it the Brian Head "Beginner to Hero" package, and we provide it for only $19.95 complete, no hidden charges. All-day lift pass, professional instruction, the best equipment around, at a price you would normally pay for a lift pass alone.

At Brian Head we believe in placing beginning skiers in a position of success. We make heros out of people who have never skied before.

We'll start you off with first rate equipment—rental skis, boots and poles, all comfortably fit to your specifications. Next you'll get an all-day lift pass on chair 6, a special slope designed and engineered for beginners, and finally we'll put you in the caring custody of friendly professional instructors who won't quit till you're a hero.

Includes ski pass, lessons and equipment rental.

You'll learn how to turn, how to stop, how to glide down the slopes the way every expert once learned—from the people who know. And when you're through you'll step into the ranks of those who know how to ski.

You can learn to ski this season—this weekend, at Brian Head. And be a hero your very first day.

LADY REBEL BASKETBALL: ONE STEP FURTHER

The 1984-85 UNLV Lady Rebel Basketball team hopes to go one step further this season. In 1982-83, the Lady Rebels' 24-4 mark was the most successful record in the program's history. In 1983-84, the Lady rebels became the first-ever PCAA Women's Basketball Champions, advancing to the first round of the NCAA Tournament (another Lady Rebel first). In this 1984-85 season the UNLV Lady Rebels will attempt to conquer another step toward their goal of climbing to the top of the top of the collegiate basketball world.

"We've tasted two years of success," Lady Rebel Co-Head Coach Jim Bolla said. "We finally made it to the NCAA Tournament. Now that we know what it takes to get there, we have to take it one step further."

Last year was indeed a banner season for the Lady Rebels. The team started the year with a string of six consecutive wins, compiled a perfect 4-0 conference record and ended the year with a 24-7 slate. Despite a 78-58 loss in the first round of the NCAA Tournament to California State Long Beach, the 1983-84 campaign was overwhelmingly one of the most prosperous ever for UNLV Women's Basketball.

This year's edition of UNLV Lady Rebel Basketball will differ slightly from the 1983-84 team, but will maintain the "theme" of success. "We will be smaller this year than last year," Bolla said. "But we'll offset our lack in height by using more skilled players at all the positions."

There will be many other noticeable revisions in the 1984-85 edition of Lady Rebel Basketball. One of the biggest changes will be the quickened pace.

"We are going to play an up-tempo game this season," Bolla explained. "Our plan is to use speed and quickness. We hope to be quick both offensively and defensively, we'll try to get up and down the court very fast. The different style we hope to play should dictate an up-tempo pace. Whether it be a half-court or full-court press, we'll keep a fast pace and try to create turnovers."

All-America Candidate Misty Thomas developed her basketball talents through international competition at the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games, as a member of the Canadian Olympic Team. Thomas was instrumental in leading Canada to a fourth place in Los Angeles.

Co-Head Coaches Sheila Strike-Bolla and Jim Bolla are rapidly transforming the Lady Rebels into one of the nation's top basketball teams, as evidenced by UNLV's first-ever appearance in the NCAA playoffs in 1983-84.

An up-tempo style of play will mandate more frequent substitutions — even the fastest locomotives run out of steam some time or another. "We're going to have to play at least eight players consistently," Bolla said.

Once again, the Lady Rebels will be led by All-America candidate Misty Thomas. Thomas, 5-11, Junior, out of Windsor, Ontario, Canada, has guided the team for the past two years in the point guard slot. Last year, she compiled 15.5 points per game, 6.3 rebounds per game and broke the school season assist record with 180 in 1983-84 (breaking Sheila Powell's old record of 174 set in 1976-77). Thomas also earned CoSIDA Academic All-America honors accumulating a 3.94 grade point average. Along with Danny Tarkanian, first team Academic All-America on the Rebel Men's team, they became the first-ever Academic All-America tandem in the country.

Donya Monroe, a 6-2 junior, returns and will add leadership to this year's squad. Monroe finished the 1983-84 season as the Lady Rebels top rebounder (8.5 rebounds per game) and third leading scorer (11.8 points per game). Also returning are sophomores Angela Christian (6-2) and Charlotte "Neicy" Blair (5-9). Christian saw action last season as the back-up power forward and tallied 7.1 points and 5.2 rebounds per game. Blair was a substitute point guard and compiled 3.9 points and 1.2 rebounds per game.

Adding depth to this year's squad are junior Jackie Tefft (6-4) and Kathy LaVern (6-1). Tefft saw limited action last season at the center position, but will be used more extensively this season. LaVern was a back-up forward and tallied 4.1 points and 2.7 rebounds per game.

The Lady Rebels have compensated for the loss of six letter winners with a quality recruiting class. Joining the squad will be two of the finest prepsters in the country, Karen Hall, a 5-4 point guard, and Zina Harris, a 5-8 guard/forward. Hall hails from Mt. Alvernia HS in Pittsburgh where she accumulated 1,824 points and 575 steals and was a four year starter. She was selected to the "Fabulous Five" by the Pittsburgh Post Gazette and was heavily recruited by women's basketball powers North Carolina, Missouri and two-time defending national champions USC. Harris, from Gallatin HS in Gallatin, Tenn., was a Parade All-America and an All-State selection. Over her four year career at Gallatin, she broke every school record (except in free throw percentage) and averaged 18.5 points per game.

Also new to the Lady Rebel attack force will be Shauna Crawley and Lisa Rhymer. Crawley (6-0), a registered nurse from Montreal, Quebec, Canada, will enter UNLV as a junior and will see action at the forward slot. Rhymer (5-8), a native of the Virgin Islands, is what Bolla calls "a raw talent with much potential."

Walk-ons Kris Stiver (5-10), forward/guard and Sandra McPherson (5-7 guard), both of Las Vegas, will provide the necessary bench strength this season.

One factor that is missing from the 1984-85 Lady Rebel roster — seniors — is one that most teams consider essential. The Lady Rebels, however, do not consider the absence of senior players a crucial factor — leadership capabilities are found in every class.

"Both Misty (Thomas) and Donya (Monroe) have shown leadership even as freshmen," Bolla said. "We're basically a young team, but we're counting on other players like Neicy (Blair) and Angela (Christian) assuming some leadership duties."

"We haven't had the luxury of having seniors, losing them and re-building the team as of yet," Bolla continued. "We're still young and not an established team. We're still building and will be building even next year."

The Lady Rebels may not be as established as perennial dynasties, but they share one thing in common with the elite of women's collegiate basketball — talent. "We recruit athletes not just shooters and rebounders," Bolla said. "The team will never be complacent — they want to get better every year. I think the players are starting to get a hunger in them."

The Lady Rebels realize that in order to be considered "Top-20" caliber, they must face Top-20 competition. This year, as years past, will be a stiff challenge. Powerhouses such as Texas, Louisiana Tech, Penn State, Alabama and Ohio State are just a few of the teams the Lady Rebels will face in 1984-85. In addition to the strong competition, the Lady Rebels will make eight road trips this season compared to the regular three or four in years past.

For the 1984-85 Lady Rebels achievements such as consecutive conference title and a Top-20 ranking would be great. For now, the Lady Rebels hope simply to go one step further.

REBELS ON THE AIR

The UNLV Rebels are extremely proud to announce a new partnership with Big-Time Sports Productions and KDWN-Radio. Big-Time Sports, KDWN and UNLV will combine to give listeners all of the action for both UNLV football and basketball.

Producing Rebel games for Big-Time Sports is its president and founder Len Howard, who has formed his company exclusively for Rebel sports — and Rebel athletics will be a full-time endeavor for Howard, who is well known to Rebel fans as the "Voice of Rebel Basketball." Howard's company — Big-Time Sports Productions — was in fact named by former UNLV basketball star Sidney Green. Joining Howard in the broadcast booth for the Runnin' Rebels as color commentator will be his associate Larry duBoef.

In the broadcast booth for Rebel football returns the very popular team of Randy Rosenbloom and Al Roberts.

The association of KDWN-Radio with UNLV athletics will provide the Rebels with a 50 thousand watt clear channel, providing exposure for UNLV throughout Nevada, California, and as far east as Phoenix, adding millions of listeners to the Rebel game coverage, extending the Rebels from their already popular local profile, into the national picture, with coverage all over the west.

The Rebels welcome Big-Time Sports Productions and KDWN-Radio to our WINNING TEAM!
