SHEILA STRIKE

Head Coach
2nd Year at UNLV (12-12)
Career Record: 12-12

Sheila Strike took over the Lady Rebels shortly before the 80-81 season began. Most coaches facing similar circumstances would have been satisfied with the kind of year the Rebels had but not Coach Strike. Hired on relatively short notice, she had no chance to recruit and only a little time to become familiar with the players already on hand. Still, the Rebels pulled through a competitive schedule with a 12-12 record.

"Not to discount last year, but we feel we are really beginning here. All the people who will be on our roster will be there because we choose them to be and that is a real plus for any coach." The number of scholarship athletes has doubled from 5 to 10, and although the schedule appears tougher than last year, optimism is high for a big improvement on that 12-12 mark.

UNLV is Coach Strike's first position as a head coach. Prior to taking over the Lady Rebels she was an assistant with the Oregon Univ. Ducks for two years. She has also coached the girls' varsity at North Delta High School in Delta, British Columbia and the JV's at Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, British Columbia.

Coach Strike's coaching talents are an obvious exception to the old cliché, "Those who can't, teach." Throughout her undergraduate days she played on the Canadian National team and traveled across 4 continents facing the best players in the world. Stops included Moscow for the World Student Games, Mexico City for the Pan Am Games, the World Championships in Cali, Columbia, a tour to China, and several trips to Europe. She helped lead the Laurentian University team to the Canadian collegiate championship in 1974.

A native of Canada, Coach Strike received her B.A. from Laurentian (Sudbury, Ontario) in 1975, and has done post graduate work at Simon Fraser and the University of Oregon. She is expected to have her Masters of Science in Sociology of Sport and Athletic Administration shortly after the end of this season.

JIM BOLLA
Assistant Coach
1st Year at UNLV

Professional playing experience is brought to the Lady Rebel coaching staff by Assistant Jim Bolla. Jim spent a season with the Cannon team in Venice, Italy and later was a member of a team of American professionals who toured South America. His transition into the coaching profession took place at his alma-mater, the University of Pittsburgh.

Beginning as a graduate assistant for both the men's and women's programs at Pitt, Coach Bolla became the rebounding specialist for the Panthers. The results were impressive...at the end of the '79 season the Pitt men were #3 on the NCAA's rebounding charts and at the end of the '80 season the women were 7th according to the AIAW. He was a full-time assistant for the Pitt women's team before coming to UNLV.

Coach Bolla was captain for the Panthers in 1975 when they made the field for the NIT. The previous season he helped Pitt make the NCAA field. Like Coach Pence, Coach Bolla was a high school All-America while playing for Pittsburgh's Canevin High, the 1969 Pennsylvania state champions.

DAN PENCE
Assistant Coach
1st Year at UNLV

If the Lady Rebels needed a "Psych" coach, Dan Pence would be the man. One of the top players to come out of Phoenix, Arizona Central High School, Pence has spent the past 6 years exploring the sociological imbalance of gender roles. Particularly role conflicts still faced by female athletes in our culture.

All this adds to his talents as a working coach, talents which were developed beginning as a player at the University of Southern California and then the University of Arizona.

Besides "in the gym" coaching responsibilities, Coach Pence is in charge of the Lady Rebels' recruiting for the western part of the country, a job which utilizes his sociological expertise as well as his basketball knowledge.

Coach Pence received his B.A. in History at the Univ. of Arizona in 1969 and completed his work on a Masters of Arts in Sociology at UNLV this past spring. His high school playing days landed him All-City, All State, and Honorable Mention All-American honors.

KEITH STARR
Volunteer Assistant

Keith Starr's bad luck may turn out to be very good luck for the Lady Rebels. A three-year veteran of the NBA, Starr is spending the 1981-82 season as a volunteer assistant for UNLV while undergoing a rehabilitation program for a troublesome knee. Alternating between guard and forward during his playing career Starr is concentrating on helping the Lady Rebel guards.

As a member of the Pitt varsity in the mid-70's, Starr helped the Panthers put together a 22-game winning streak during the 1973-74 season, the longest string of wins in the nation that year. The following season the team landed a spot in the N.I.T.

Professionally, Starr has played for the Chicago Bulls, L.A. Lakers, and Cleveland Cavaliers despite undergoing four knee operations. It was the last of those operations which required the rehabilitation program that eventually brought him to UNLV. Only 27, Starr will give the NBA another shot when his knee is ready to go.

Starr is a graduate of Quaker Valley H.S. in Leetsdale, PA and graduated from Pittsburgh with a degree in Economics.

KATHY RICKS

Graduate Assistant Former Lady Rebel

The Rebel offense will continue to be helped by Kathy Ricks this season although not as directly as before. The leading scorer for UNLV the past 2 seasons is now a graduate-assistant coach.

Kathy became UNLV's #2 all-time leading scorer in only two seasons as a Rebel after transferring from Cal State Fullerton. In '79-80 she scored 490 points while being the only Rebel to play in all 30 games. She followed that with 485 points last year to trail only All-American Debra Waddy in career points, 1105 to 975. Ricks' point totals for each particular year led the team and she was also Cal State-Fullerton's leading scorer the two seasons she played there. Following her junior year at UNLV she rated All-America Honorable Mention by the American Women's Sports Foundation. Team captain and only senior on last year's team. she demonstrated leadership qualities carried over to the grad-assistant's job. She finished her playing career with a bang, scoring a career high 38 points against Cal State-Long Beach in senior season finale.

Playing for Olympic Silver Medalist coach Nancy Dunkle at Valencia High School in Placentia, Calif., Ricks was named to the California Interscholastic Federation first team as a junior and senior. Also lettered 3 years in tennis during high school. At Cal State-Fullerton she not only lettered in basketball as a freshman and sophomore, leading the team in scoring both years, but was all-conference both years and all-region as a sophomore.

Unofficially, Jackie Newton makes it her personal goal to oversee the scholastic progress of the athletes and ensure they take full advantage of the educational opportunities available.

Newton received her Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1962 and then returned to the campus at Norman 10 years later and added a Master of Education degree. While working on her Masters she served as a Financial Aid Counselor at Oklahoma and then, just prior to receiving her degree, became an Academic Counselor for the Sooners. She remained in that position until coming to UNLV.

A mother of two teen-age sons, Jackie has been very active in many civic and professional organizations including Big Brothers and the Urban League.

JACKIE NEWTON

Academic Counselor

UNLV's emphasis on the importance of academic success for each athlete is underscored by establishment of an Athletic Academic Counselor's office several years ago. The position is currently held by Jackie Newton, a transplanted Sooner from Oklahoma City and the University of Oklahoma.

Officially, the primary function of Newton's office is to advise all inter-collegiate athletes, scholarship or non-scholarship, in addition to or in lieu of other advisory opportunities on campus.

DR. LEONARD GOODALL

President

Dr. Leonard "Pat" Goodall, UNLV's fourth president, stepped into the university's top administrative post in July, 1979 arriving at a time when the university is perhaps on the brink of its greatest period of development.

With an administrative background at three urban universities, he is especially suited to the job.

Dr. Goodall comes to Las Vegas from the mid-west where he had served for eight years as Chancellor of the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Previously, he served successively as associate dean of faculties and vice chancellor of the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

A specialist in the field of urban politics, Dr. Goodall predicts that higher education will flourish in the future in the nation's urban centers, especially in the Southwest where the population growth is greatest.

From 1962 to 1967, Dr. Goodall worked as assistant director and later as director of the Bureau of Government at Arizona State University.

The president received his bachelor of arts degree in social science from Central Missouri State College in 1958. He earned his master of arts in political science from the University of Missouri in 1960, and a doctorate in political science from the University of Illinois in 1962.

He is the author of three books, Urban Politics in the Southwest, The American Metropolis and State Politics and Higher Education. He has also written numerous monographs and articles in scholarly journals.

Dr. Goodall and his wife, Lois, have two daughters and a son.

DR. BRAD ROTHERMEL

Athletic Director

Dr. Bradley L. Rothermel was named UNLV athletic director March 1, 1981.

The new athletic director had been at the University of West Virginia, Morgantown, for the past two years. Before that, he was assistant director of the athletic department at Kansas State University, and had earlier been with the athletic department at the University of Illinois, with experience in two major conferences, the Big Eight while at Kansas State and the Big Ten while at Illinois. West Virginia is a major independent.

Rothermel, 43, was administrative associate and research consultant with the Chicago Cubs, 1963-65, and has coached baseball at the high school, collegiate and professional levels.

He was professor of continuing education and health education at Kansas State University, dean of the Division of Health and Physical Education at George Williams College in Illinois, and an associate and assistant professor of physical education at the University of Illinois.

Rothermel played semi-professional and professional baseball, semi-pro basketball and high school football.

He received his doctorate from the College of Applied Human Life Sciences, University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, in 1965, where he also completed his graduate work. Rothermel received the bachelor of science degree from the University of Illinois, Dekalb.

Married, he has two daughters.

CHRISTINA KUNZER

Coordinator of Women's Athletics

In July of 1981, Christina Kunzer assumed responsibility for coordinating all women's athletic events, community fund raising, and representing the University at national and regional meetings as well as other related duties. She is the first to hold the job as Coordinator of Women's Athletics at UNLV.

"We feel we have a very qualified and extremely ambitious person in Tina," commented Athletic Director Dr. Brad Rothermel at the time of Kunzer's appointment. "She has the utmost support and encouragement from the University in her endeavors as Coordinator of Women's Athletics."

Kunzer, a native of Las Vegas, is a 1975 graduate of UNLV with a Bachelor's degree in Physical Education. She later earned a Masters in Education at UNLV in 1977.

Taking over as head coach of the UNLV women's tennis program in 1978, Kunzer became involved in several areas of the UNLV athletic program, including 2 years as a graduate assistant in the Physical Education Department from 1977 to '79. She has served as cheerleader consultant since 1977 and continues to handle that job.

Kunzer is married to former UNLV football player Thomas Kunzer. In her spare time she enjoys dancing, snow skiing, horticulture and slowpitch softball.

THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Nevada-Las Vegas moves into its second quarter-century of service amid the same kind of expansion and growth which marked the school's first 25 years. In 1957 UNLV was a single one-story building in the desert but now covers 335-acres with modern facilities for over 10,000 students.

In the fall of 1981 students were able to use a $7 million, four-story addition to the James Dickinson Library for the first time. Currently under construction is the $4.2 million Alta Ham fine arts building and the $9 million building which will be the new home of the College of Business Economics and the College of Hotel Administration. Ground has been broken for UNLV's new 18,000 seat basketball arena and completion is expected in 1983.

The university's academic drive is a reflection of Las Vegas itself, with nationally known programs for hotel administration, environmental biology and geology, and theatre arts. UNLV's progressive attitude shows through the teacher education program, a growing nursing program, and in all of the 63 different degree programs.

Every semester the top scholar-athletes are honored for maintaining a 3.0 GPA or better with special recognition for the man and woman with the highest GPA's. An academic counselor is available to insure athletes succeed in the classroom.

All UNLV athletics are based at the modern McDermott Complex, featuring two large gymnasiums, natatorium, weight rooms, racquetball courts, and locker rooms. In addition to superior facilities, UNLV maintains one of the most knowledgeable and best equipped sports medicine staffs in the country.

Fabulous Las Vegas

"The Entertainment Capital of the World" thrives behind the bright lights of the famous 'Strip' and Fremont Street but the cultural and recreational attractions are even broader. While the glitter of the gaming and entertainment centers is often left primarily to the tourists, Las Vegas offers much more.

The city is enriched by art galleries, professional theatres, professional ballet and other dance organizations, and scores of serious musical organizations. Within 30 miles of campus are the recreational advantages of Lake Mead, Mount Charleston, and the panoramic red rock mountains. New parks, museums, churches, hospitals, and libraries insure opportunities for all interests while the unique entertainment scene remains convenient.

1980-81, ONE MORE LOOK

"What a season!" remarked Strike whose team closed out the year by dropping a hard-fought 97-85 decision to number two ranked Long Beach State in UNLV's South Gym.

The Rebels finished the year at 12-12, the least successful season in the sport's seven-year history at UNLV, however, coach Strike was not looking for any excuses about her team's mediocre performance on the season.

"Before the year started I didn't make any prediction about the coming season. What we did do, however, was set our own goals for the team, and tried to direct our program in keeping with the winning tradition of UNLV basketball." Said Strike. "In retrospect, I think we accomplished a lot of things we set out to do. We lost a few games we could have won, but every coach will tell you that."

The Lady Rebels' best performance of the season came against the 49er's of Long Beach, as senior captain Kathy Ricks, playing in her last collegiate game, scored a career high 38 points, pulled down seven rebounds, and dished off six assists to lead the Rebel cause. Priscilla Hobbs, starting in place of guard Tina Glover, also played spectacularly in the final game of her collegiate career putting up 23 points, six rebounds, six steals and five assists.

1980-81 was a year that rewrote the Lady Rebel record books, as UNLV set no less than six individual marks and five team records.

Sophomore Sonia Lyke's 14 assists in a 98-82 victory over Cameron University set a single game assist record, previously held by three Lady Rebels with 11. Junior center Kathie Calloway, among the nation's leading rebounders throughout the season, set a Rebel record with her 24 boards in a 110-108 loss to Louisiana State University. Belinda Candler owned the old record of 22.

Ricks, an honorable mention All-America selection last year, set season and career Lady Rebel records with her .818 (63 of 77) free throw shooting in 1980-81. In two seasons, Ricks converted 119 of 155 from the charity stripe for a Rebel record .767.

Junior guard Tina Glover moved into the top spot of all-time Rebel assists leaders this season with 286 in 69 games (4.1 apg). In addition, Calloway's team high 280 rebounds (12.2 rpg) this year makes her the all-time Lady Rebel rebounder with 642.

On the season, Rick's team high 485 points (20.2 ppg) moved her into second place on the all-time scoring behind former UNLV great Debra Waddy. Ricks finished her Rebel career with 975 points in 54 games (18.1 ppg). Glover is third on that same list with 952 points in 69 games (13.8 ppg), and Calloway with 889 points in 81 games (11.0 ppg) is fifth.

In addition, the 1980-81 Lady Rebs set team records for highest field goal percentage (.437, 788 of 1776), most losses (12), most home losses (8), most road losses (4), and fewest road wins (2).

SEASON OUTLOOK 1981-82

Coach Sheila Strike's second team at UNLV is tall, quick, and ready to burn up the court with their exciting fast-break offense which will more than live up to the reputation of the "Runnin' Rebels". The Rebels broke even during Coach Strike's first season with a 12-12 mark, working with players she had not recruited. Instead of only 5 scholarship athletes on the team like last year, the Rebels will have 10 scholarship players for 81-82 and the team will be more representative of the playing style Coach Strike likes to see. Of 13 players on the roster, 6 are guards, providing the kind of depth needed to keep the Rebels running their fast break the entire game.

All-America candidate Kathie Calloway returns for her senior season to lead the Lady Rebels. She is currently #5 on the team's all-time scoring chart with 889 points and should easily become #1 later in the season. She set the team's single game rebounding record last year with 24 against Louisiana State. Calloway and Junior guard Sonia Lykes could form a tough inside-outside combination this season. They will be the team's co-captains and are joined by Junior forward Judy Thomas as returning starters. Lykes led the team in assists last year with 137 and still carried a scoring average of 12.3 thanks to 51% shooting from the field. Thomas was the #3 rebounder last year and is the best free throw shooter (64%) among the returning regulars. The battle for playing time at the guard spot should produce a lot of talent for the Rebels with 4 freshmen, 2 juniors, and a sophomore all in the running. And "running" is the word. The Rebel's competitive edge will come from quickness.

The tallest guard and brightest prospect among the newcomers is 5-10 Penny Welsh, an exceptional transfer from Pittsburgh who plays a complete game on offense and defense. Other top new comers are expected to be 5-4 freshman Sheri Jennum who brings in a 23 point per game average from high school; and freshman Michelle Baney who has good size at 5-8 and is a tough competitor. Senior Liz Mello gives the team needed experience.

Kathie Calloway will have something this year she didn't have a year ago, good relief help. The only 6-footer on the team last season, Calloway can look teammates Jennifer Webb and Valerie Juick in the eye this year. Webb is a transfer from junior college and Juick is a freshman. Thomas is back at forward but gone is Kathy Ricks. Now a graduate assistant for the Rebels, Ricks led the team in scoring last year with just over 20 points per game. Her 485 for the season put her in the #2 spot on the all-time chart with 975.

Three women will try to fill Ricks' shoes, all newcomers. Sophomore Paula Clear is a transfer with a good reputation as an aggressive rebounder. Two freshmen round out the forward corps;

Kathy Acor of Las Vegas' Chapparral High School and the previously mentioned 6-foot tall Valerie Juick. All three of the Rebels' 6-footers can expect to see some action at both forward and center.

Walk-ons Sandra Elliot and Marcella Nino should be able to contribute to the depth at the guard spot, a very important aspect of the Rebels' running style of play.

January will really be a test for the young Rebels with appearances in their own Las Vegas Classic and at UCLA's Nike Tournament. A tough road test to face Delta State, LSU, and New Orleans University is sandwiched in between the tourneys.

The regular season at home ends with Brigham Young on February 12 (men-women doubleheader at the Convention Center) and the home finale on the 20th against Pepperdine. The final regular season game is at Wyoming March 5.

More depth, more height, more quickness, and a great attitude by the players give Coach Strike confidence to predict a much better season for the Rebels in 81-82.

4 KATHIE CALLOWAY

Center/Forward
Senior
Michigan City, Indiana
Academic Major: Biology-Pre Med
Co-Captain

Shortly after ringing in the New Year the Lady Rebels should be crowning a new all-time scoring leader. Calloway needs only to equal her 15 points-per game average of last season to claim the #1 spot ahead of All-American Debra Waddy ('77) with room to spare. Waddy has a 217 point edge at the start of the season with a grand total of 1105 but, at 15 a game, Calloway can break that during the Rebels' Round Robin Tournament starting January 7. It only follows that a player surpassing the records of an All-American should be considered for All-America honors herself.

Paradoxically, Calloway may ear her place among the nation's best by playing less this season. There might not be any discernable difference in the amount of playing time she puts in but the Rebels are deeper at center this season and that means Calloway can be spelled for a rest more often, keeping her at her best throughout each game.

And when Calloway is at her best, the Rebels roll. One of the top 20 rebounders in the country last year she is step one in the Rebels basic fast-break offense. Her efforts last year broke team records for most rebounds in a single game (24 vs. LSU) and most boards for a career (642).

Kathie was not only the Rebel leading rebounder in 17 games last season but also the leading scorer for 3 games (a top of 26 against LSU, the same game in which she broke the rebounding record). She has one of the best shooting percentages of players coming back from last year (48 %) and despite playing center, ranked 3rd on the team for steals (47).
